Famed London-Hollywood Star Makes "49th Parallel" Temporary Farewell to Films

Britain's active service forces provided most of the technicians, executives and performers in the motion picture expedition to Canada a year ago to film "49th Parallel", the war picture which has been hailed by London critics as the best film of the year and has upheld their reviews by establishing new attendance records for every theatre it has played in England. The picture, one of Columbia's major 1942 offerings, will be seen at Prince Edward Theatre starting Monday.

Scattered now all over the Empire where war has sent Britons, members of that party are busy fighting democracy's battles. The story is told in letters received by Canadians who became fast friends of many of the members of the group.

Laurence Oliver writes from the Fleet Air Arm, and humorously remarks he is the only man who ever died the same day he passed his medical for active service—he plays the role of a French-Canadian trapper who is killed by Nazis. Assistant producer Roland Gilette writes from Devon where he flies in the same service. His co-worker, George Brown, is in the R.A.F.

Osmand Borradaile, cameraman, lies in a Cairo hospital, recovering from serious injuries suffered when his plane was shot down in Libya. Captain Borradaile was head of the R.A.F., aerial photography units in that sphere of action. Dick George, who played the part of a Nazi sub commander is now hunting the kind of subs that appear in the film. Leslie Howard, invalided in 1917 from the last war, was turned down for this one so works as an official of the Ministry of Information. Niaill McGinnis, also a movie Nazi, is a physician of the Medical Corps.

When Canadians see "49th Parallel", they see men in action who now are fighting for Britain in Singapore, Africa and Britain. The film, released by Columbia, is at the Prince Edward theatre, beginning Monday.

Slow U. S. plane Output blamed

RIOM, Unoccupied France, March 5—(AP)—Slow American output and a tacit conspiracy between French capitalists and Communist workers fatally hampered France's pre-war air-plane production, former Air Minister Guy La Chambre testified today at the "war guilt" trial.

Concluding two days of testimony, La Chambre, who is one of five men standing trial, said Communists put up placards in aircraft factories with such slogans as "one hour less is one hour gained for the revolution." Particularly after the Russian-German pact of August, 1939, La Chambre asserted, the Communist obstruction of production became "deliberate and systematic."

With an assortment of nuts, dried fruits, toothpicks, pipe cleaners, cloves, candles and a knife, and a little imagination, you can make many different party favors.

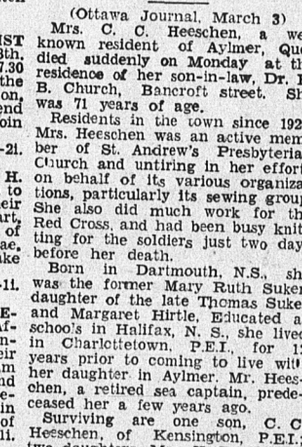
To stop aches and sore throat almost at once . . . do as these pictures show



1 To Relieve Headache, body discomfort and aches, take 2 Aspirin Tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

2 For Sore Throat from a cold, dissolve 3 Aspirin Tablets in ½ glass of water and gargle. This eases pain and rawness.

HITLER'S WORRIES

In the long dark hours of battle,
Side by side our soldiers stand.
Brave men from our allied nations
Fighting for their native land.

In the air they're fighting bravely,
On the sea they have command,
On the land they're nobly marching
Making safe our native land.

From the misty skies o'er London
Hurricanes and Spitfires came,
Raining death on German bombers
The R.A.F. has won its fame.

On the decks of Britain's warships
Stand our brave young sailor boys
Trained their guns on Italy's navy
Blew them up like children's toys.

On the land our boys are marching,
Gaining victories day by day,
And they'll bury all their hatchets,
When the Axis put away.

Hats off, boys, to Winston Churchill,
He's the man of destiny,
Needs no guard for his protection
When he crosses o'er the sea.

But when Hitler makes a journey
Closely guarded by his men,
Tells some lies to Mussolini,
Then crawls back into his den.

What will be the end of Hitler?
When his body turns to clay?
Will he tell his sinful story
To the Judge on Judgment Day?

Where'll he go? you ask the question.
I am not prepared to tell.
I don't think he'll go to heaven,
I'm no judge to say to H—ll!

But he'll tell his sinful story,
Tho' 'twill be against his will,
He may lie and say he's sorry,
But he'll take his bitter pill.

Now's the time to show your colors,
Now we all can play a part,
Every bond we buy for victory,
Sends a pain thro' Hitler's heart.

Forward then ye brave Canadians
We all know it won't be long
Till you have the words and music
Of the Axis funeral song.

In Memoriam

MR. WILLIAM ROSS

Word has been received by Mr. E. A. Currie, Fairview, of the death recently in Saskatoon of a relative and former Prince Edward Islander, Mr. William Ross. The deceased was about eighty years of age and had an adventurous career in the West, where he had accumulated a fortune and where his generosity to others was proverbial.

Mr. Currie's correspondent, Mr. Neil A. MacKenzie, Macrorie, Sask., (son of the late Neil M. McKenzie, Canoe Cove), states that he visited Mr. Ross in hospital on Feb. 3, shortly before he passed away, and that the deceased had talked a lot about Mr. Currie, his sisters, and others of West River. Mr. MacKenzie enclosed a clipping from the Outlook newspaper, adding that he did this "as a small token of remembrance and respect to an old friend from whom I received many kindnesses in his more prosperous days."

The clipping reads:

"Word was received last week, that Mr. Wm. Ross had died in a Saskatoon hospital, and that funeral services were conducted there Saturday, Feb. 14th.

"With William Ross this community has lost one of its oldest and most outstanding personalities. While it is difficult for us to obtain full details, we have information, that Wm. Ross was born on Prince Edward Island some 80 years ago. His natural trend of character would be such as to demand a more exciting life, and we understand that in his younger days he spent years in South Africa, part of the time in diamond mines at Kimberley and Johannesburgh, before eventually taking up his homestead one mile south of Broderick. He farmed there for many years becoming one of the best-known personalities of the neighborhood. After he left the farm, his adventurous spirit brought him into the North country, where he has spent some time during the last years, occasionally coming back to Saskatoon, where his family lived, and where eventually he ended his earthly career."

(The late Mr. Ross is survived by two sisters in this Province, Miss Catherine Ross, Charlottetown, and Mrs. Wallace Wheatley, East Royalty.)

Carleton and Vicinity

Mr. Bowley Dawson left Wednesday morning on return to his home in Naisberry, Sask., after an extended visit in Tryon with his mother, Mrs. Bruce Dawson.

Miss Jean McIssac, Borden, was a week-end visitor to Carleton, the guest of Miss Ferne Bell.

The Cape Traverse Women's Missionary Society held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Muttart on Thursday, Feb. 5th, with ten members and two visitors present. Mrs. Harper presided and took as the theme for the Worship Service "The Bible, Our Guide to Christian Faith and Conduct." The meeting opened by reading the hymn "Lord, Thy Word Abideth" to piano accompaniment. Psalm 19 was read responsively, followed by singing The Heavens Declare Thy Glory, Lord, after which Mrs. Gordon Harvey led in prayer. The Bible readings were given by Mrs. Norring, Mrs. James Bell, Mrs. Allison Harper, and Miss Mary Muttart. A responsive prayer was led by Mrs. Leigh Lowther and Mrs. Albert Muttart. During the business period eight members paid their fees. The society is pleased to report one new member. The Birthday offering is to be taken at the next meeting. Mrs. Frank Muttart is to have charge of the study book. It was decided no more iced cake be used for refreshments at meetings. Collection amounted to 70 cents. The meeting closed by singing Break Thou The Bread Of Life, and prayer by Mrs. Harper. Mrs. Muttart, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Muttart, served delicious refreshments during the social period which followed.

The regular meeting of the Augustine Cove Women's Institute took place on Thursday evening, February 5th at the home of Mrs. Edward MacFadyen. The president, Mrs. Kenneth Cameron, was in charge and opened the meeting by singing the Institute Carol followed by the Creed in unison. Sixteen members and two visitors were present. The collection amounted to $1.55. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Correspondence was read including a letter from one of the boys overseas expressing thanks for Christmas parcel received. It was decided to hold a Valentine Social and Miss Margaret MacFarlane kindly invited the members to her home for the Social on St. Valentine's evening. The buying committee was asked to purchase tea and napkins for the social, also dye for a quilt top. A report was given that 7 quilts, 3 girls dresses, 6 pyjamas and 3 pairs men's socks were sent in to the Red Cross. It was decided that the buying committee should purchase 6 quilt bats and linings for more quilts. The committees gave their reports and the following new committees were appointed for March: School Mrs. Harry MacFarlane, Mrs. Kenneth Dawson, (re-appointed). Sick—Mrs. A. Newsome, Mrs. Kenneth Cameron; Program — Mrs. Donald MacDonald, Mrs. Willard Wadman; Lunch—Mrs. Harry MacFarlane, Mrs. Lorne Carruthers, and Mrs. Willard Wadman. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Austin Cameron; roll call to be answered with the first snap-shot taken. The program committee then took charge of the meeting after which lunch was served and the meeting closed with God Save The King.

BRAZILIAN SCULPTRESS

Few diplomats' wives have careers aside from those of their husbands. They haven't time. An exception of this rule is Mme. Maria Martins wife of the Brazilian ambassador to the United States. Being one of Washington's most popular and original hostesses the diminutive vivid Mme. Martins is an artist and sculptress in her own right. Her studio on the top floor of the Brazilian embassy which she calls her "Montpartnasse" is lined with bronze figures plaster models and all kinds of food carvings chiselled from hard Brazilian woods. Among these is a tower of St. Francis, the figure of a sorrowing woman, entitled Europe After the War. Nelson A. Rockefeller recently presented the Museum of Modern Art in New York city with one of Mme. Martins' sculptures—a wood carving, in heroic proportions. The Christ. Mme. Martins did not take up sculpture until seven years ago. At first she wanted to be a concert pianist.
