The deceased who was a son of the late Samuel Wheatley, East Royalty, for many years successfully conducted a large meat and cattle business and was a large exporter of cattle. For some years, after retiring from business he was gate keeper at Hillsboro Bridge. He leaves to mourn besides a sorrowing widow, nee Eliza Ross, four sons, Gordon and Ross in the West, Frank, with the firm of A. Horne & Co., and Ernest, of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. J. B. A Birth Right: Emerson knew that each of us can only receive that for which he has an affinity, and can only give forth effectually what is by birthright, or has become his own. To have accepted this doctrine with perfect contentment is to possess one's soul in peace.—P. G. Hamerton.

Of all the helpful qualities possessed by a courageous heart, that of being able to reassure the timid, to arouse the despondent to courage, to bring a little tranquility, order, and light into the chaos of opposing elements is one of the most precious.

POTATOES

An official bulletin just released shows the acreage of potatoes in the South to have been reduced below the planting of 1931 by about 30% and to be the smallest acreage planted for many years. Considerable damage has been done by frost with the result that the present probable yield will be but about 60% of last year.

No late official report is yet available regarding the planting in Maine. But unofficial reports indicate that the acreage will be reduced by about 30%.

You planted last year when prospects were not good. Are you planting this year when prospects of good prices are quite favorable. If you are not planting why are you not? If you do not plant you cannot reap nor share the probable profits of a favorable market.

We are in a very favorable position to fill your fertilizer requirements. Let us or our Agents have your order.
