For Mothers—"FRY'S"

For true nourishment in delicious form FRY'S COCOA is supreme. Make it this way and you will find it most appetising and digestible. To 3 good teaspoonsful of FRY'S COCOA add three spoonfuls of sugar, mix well. Then add one half cup of boiling water and mix thoroughly. Add two cups of boiling water and boil very slowly for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Then add milk or cream to taste. This will give you Cocoa at its best.

REMEMBER, NOTHING WILL DO BUT FRY'S

SHOP from Holman's Catalog NEW FRILLED CURTAINING by the yard has just come in—shown in nets and marquisesettes, House Furnishings Department, second floor. Moore & McLeod Limited.—2356-4-2-11.

ACCEPTS INVITATION.—Cotemporary Methodist Church St. John has unanimously invited Rev. Robert G. Fulton, who completes his first term of four years in 1925 to extend his ministry for four years after that time. Rev. Mr. Fulton has accepted, pending formal approval of the N. B. and P. E. I. Conference in June.—St. John Globe.

THERE ARE NEW COATS AT $18.00 to $22.00. Miss Foster and Miss MacLellan were able to secure a great range of very handsome moderate priced coats to fill up the gaps made by the great selling of the past month. Moore & McLeod Limited.—2356-4-2-11.

THE MILLINERY DEPARTMENT at Moore & McLeod Limited has had considerable alteration and improvement. The very latest model of millinery display table, in Mahogany, with deep storage drawers have been installed so that the department presents the modern appearance as the largest city stores. These handsome tables were built, polished and finished in Charlotteville, by Charlottetown mechanics. 2356-4-2-11

MISS MacLELLAN and MISS FOSTER who have been making a buying trip among the principal millinery and ready to wear producers have bought some splendidly new things, especially in Millinery—which will be shown at the opening on Thursday afternoon. Moore & McLeod Limited. 2356-4-2-11.

IN ANOTHER COLUMN is a notice calling for tenders for the property on the corner of Great George and Dorchester Streets, this city, known as the "Davies Hotel." This property is situated in one of the best locations in the city,—but a short distance from the railway station and wharves. It has 29 bed rooms, and as a great influx of visitors is expected next year it is a good investment for any person desiring to go into the Hotel business.

ENJOYABLE TEA.—The afternoon tea at the Queen Hotel yesterday in aid of the P. E. I. Hospital was very largely attended and was a most enjoyable function. Mrs. D. McLean, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, and Mrs. Tilmarch received and introduced Miss Hutchison, the new superintendent. Tea was poured by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Prowse. During the afternoon vocal solos were given by Mrs. Trainor, Miss Huestis and Mrs. McKinnon, violin solos by Mrs. Jones, and piano music by Miss Earle and Miss Dalby. The decorations were most beautiful, the dining room being decorated with daffodils and the drawing room with crimson roses.

THE HATS AT THE OPENING Thursday afternoon will amaze you in their great assortment. There are low priced hats—medium priced hats—high priced hats—and every hat will impress you as worth the price. The assortment is probably the most comprehensive ever shown in a Charlottetown store. Moore & McLeod Limited. 2356-4-2-11.

CHURCH UNION

I saw Mr. Montgomery's ballot after the vote on union in 1915 and it was marked "Against" and was signed by himself. I kept the Ballot for some time but finally threw it away, as I concluded in a matter of this kind, and in the Church, my spoken word would be sufficient. For the same reason I got no signed statement from Mr. Montgomery touching this or the other conditions he laid down. To have pressed for this, would have been disturbing to his mind, and would certainly have shaken his confidence in the Board—a thing which I was always most careful not to do. I am submitting this statement, now to Parliament with the request that in the event of Legislation being asked for the conveyance of Presbyterian property to the United Church, all moneys donated by Mr. Montgomery, and designed as "The Montgomery Special Home Mission Fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada," be definitely and specifically excluded by a special clause as I do not think "The Union is all right," and do not intend to enter the United Church.

(Signed) FRANK BAIRD, Minister Bedford Presbyterian Church, Dated at Bedford, Nova Scotia, March 14, 1924.

testimony of Rev. Mr. Daggett who counted them, (no small act of concentration, considering the arduous task of driving safely through them. It is far more "plural" than necessary on our winter roads. It shows a poor "community" spirit on the part of our people. While it is a hard proposition to eliminate pitches entirely, the "chinch" that more of them can be filled than are filled. Some people say "we can't" fill them, and "What's the use? They will dig out."

No doubt it is annoying, and is the cause of much "vexation of spirit" for a man to spend an hour working with a good will filling pitches, to find in a short time that they have "dug out" and his labor has been in vain. But really, the "chinch" should be in the vocabulary, as applied to filling "pitches" properly. It shouldn't be regarded as a big feat in engineering. Some times two minutes extra work will make all the difference between "digging out" and running the sleighs over smoothly. If the "posky" things persist in "digging out," get a barrel of water on a sleigh and freeze them in—don't let such a mere trifle as a "pitch" beat you.

Another potent cause of so many pitches in a certain locality is contentment among the residents as to who shall go out and fill the "pitches." John Doe refuses to go out (ill) he sees that Richard Roe is already at work. It appears to your humble servant that this principle is a very childish one. Everyone should "do his bit." It is a patriotic duty—certainly not on a plane with arming and repel an invader, but it is embryo patriotism nevertheless for the common welfare of the state. If Jones or Smith persistently refuses to "do his bit" that's no reason why we should scamp our duty. "It's a long lane that has no turning"—let us bide our time. Rest assured that he will "get his."

"The Wretch concentrated all in self," etc., etc.

A few pitches may be all right as "liver regulators" but there is surely a "happy medium." Our never dying souls, are more in danger than our perishing livers and other internal organs. Think of the spirit of anger, hatred and revenge engendered within us when ricocheting through a "choppy sea" of "pitches"; it not only consumes our already diminutive souls, but interferes with our bile and pancreatic functions as well. Let us all pull together and do our best to keep the roads smooth for the short remaining part of this winter. There may be a disposition to go on the line of "least resistance" and let the sun and spring thaws blot the "pitchness" out of existence, but that's not the proper spirit either. They may cause a lot of misery before old Sol gets in his good work. We should have "community" pride. A stranger driving through a section where pitches abound, will naturally conclude that the inhabitants are a careless lack-a-distical sort. The estimation of our fellow beings serves in a great measure, to keep us right (or right as we can be).

London Cornflake Co. and Kellogg Company A m a l g a m a t e PLANT TO BE DOUBLED LONDON, Ont., March 26.—Important negotiations for a large merging of commercial interests were concluded to-day when the Battle Creek Toasted Corn Flake Company of this city and the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Mich. were merged. This merger is of more than passing interest to the general public, because not only does it amicably terminate a long period of litigation, but it will enlarge their present manufacturing capacity which has become a necessity to supply the rapidly increasing demand for the products of these two companies. It is announced that the Toronto plants will be transferred to the new Head Office and mills in London, and increased production will take place with the least possible delay. Mr. W. K. Kellogg and Mr. J. L. Kellogg, President and Secretary of the Kellogg Company were in the city for the closing of the deal, and Mr. J. F. O'Brien, Vice-President and General Manager of Sales who accompanied them, stated that the merger of the Canadian and American companies would enable the Canadian Company to at once cope with the huge daily increasing demand for Kellogg's Breakfast Cereals.

IN MEMORIAM MRS. GEORGE THORNE In Summerville, Mass., Mrs. Walter Birns of this city and Mrs. Alfred Stewart, Southport, The funeral on March 2nd was conducted by Rev. Mr. Lindsay and very largely attended by sympathizing friends. The hymns sung included Abide with Me, Jesus Lover of My Soul, and Safe in the Arms of Jesus, Mrs. Thorne a former well-known resident of this city. Mrs. Thorne came to Charlottetown from Cornwall, England, as a little girl and was highly respected by a wide circle of friends. She leaves to mourners three sons and two daughters. Wal extended. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the family plot in the People's Cemetery covered with a wealth of lovely flowers from sorrowing friends.
