Father who responded with an eloquent address of thanks and added to the enjoyment of the evening with a beautiful rendition of Spanish songs.

Two able discourses were delivered by the Rev. Dr. Moorhead Legate in St. James Church yesterday. In the morning he dealt with the severeignty of God, quoting from the Confession of Faith and illustrating in a most interesting and instructive way how God's sovereign power exercises itself in the world. In the evening he dealt with the true use of the Bible, as "a mirror" in which man could see himself reflected.

At the morning service the soloist was Miss Pearl Burns and in the evening Mrs. N. D. MacLean.

For eighteen hours twenty-two year old Thelma Gauthier of North Rustico lay unconscious in the Charlottetown hospital after she had been picked up at the side of Malpeque Road on the outskirts of the city Saturday night. Mounted Police are attempting to obtain a coherent story of how she was injured.

The North Rustico girl was visiting her uncle and aunt in the city. According to the story told police, her brother was going to call for her last night to drive her home. But before he arrived the girl was found unconscious near the Argyle Filling Station by a motorist and taken to the hospital. Her back was injured and she was suffering from bruises and cuts. Although she lay unconscious until early afternoon yesterday, her condition was not serious, hospital authorities said.

In the meantime police worked to solve the mystery of how she came to harm, but could glean little from the girl herself.

Mr. John Moynan, Chief Supervisor Division Illustration Stations, Ottawa, completed an inspection of the fourteen island illustration stations on Saturday. On his tour of the province he was accompanied by Dr. J. A. Clark, Superintendent of the Experimental Station, Charlottetown and Mr. R. C. Parent, Superintendent of the Island Illustration Stations. Mr. Moynan was well pleased with the work being conducted on the stations in this province. The stations here compared very favorably with those in the other provinces, he stated. During his visit a number of additional and special experiments were outlined for several of the stations. The Chief Supervisor was well pleased with the success of the thirteen field days just completed.

Mr. Moynan goes from here to Nova Scotia and then to New Brunswick. Following that he will return to Ottawa.

As Miss Doris Tait sang "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," twelve Sisters and four Brothers walked slowly up the centre aisles and at the appropriate time the Brothers deposited a rose in an Evergreen wreath for each of the members who died within the past year, viz., D. A. Bruce, J. J. McKinnon, F. L. Renouf and Chas. Leigh, and the Sisters, all dressed in white, deposited wreaths so as to form the Triple Link. Brothers Jas. Calder and A. R. Gillis sang solos. It was a most interesting ceremony. Rev. Hugh Miller preached the sermon and extended a very cordial welcome to the visiting members.

She carried a bouquet of pink roses and gypsophila. Her only attendant was her little niece, Ruth Vera Power, who carried a basket of sweetpeas. After the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served. MRS. FREDERICK CAMPBELL

At DeSable, P. E. Island on August 12, 1935, there passed away at the age of 68 years, Euphemia Belle MacLean, the beloved wife of Frederick Campbell. Deceased was the only daughter of the late John MacLean and his wife Euphemia Campbell. She is survived, however, my many friends and relatives, all of whom feel keenly the loss of one who was held in high and affectionate esteem. Within the home she was a model of industry and hospitality. For many years she cared with most tender affection for her aged mother. She lived a consistent Christian life and was a member of The Church of Scotland. Her last illness was beyond the skill of man to avert. She knew the end was near and expressed her desire to go home which her passing really was. Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing husband in his loneliness.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held on the afternoon of Thursday, Aug. 15th. Rev. Ewen MacDougall, her pastor, conducted the services at the home and grave. Interment was in the cemetery at Argyle Shore. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Albert A. MacDougall, Allan Ferguson, Duncan Campbell, Duncan MacKinnon, Donald MacLean.

The setting made a lovely background for the bride. Miss Emily Platts sat with the bride. Girl friends assisted in opening the lovely gifts, while Mrs. Fred Moyse read the humorous verses which accompanied them. After the gifts had been duly admired, Miss Inman thanked the guests very prettily for their good wishes. The hostess then served a dainty lunch. The remainder of the evening was whiled away with music. Miss Verna Schurman and Mrs. Walter Leard of Fernwood and Mrs. Sutherland Henderson of Charlottetown favoured the guests with some delightful songs. The remains will rest at McLean's Funeral Parlors until Wednesday noon when they will be taken to the Hon. Mr. Campbell's residence in Summerside. The funeral will take place from the United Church, Summerside, Thursday afternoon, Rev. L. F. G. Davis, officiating. Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion by girl friends of the bride and seated under a bridal arch the bride-to-be was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts. These were opened by Miss Ella Bernard, while the verses were read by Mrs. Chas. Duggan, assisted by Mrs. Lester Duggan. The prettily decorated basket was carried in by little Verna and Brenton Paynter. In a few well-chosen words, the bride thanked her friends for their remembrances. WEDNESDAY —MIRACULOUS ESCAPE — The little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. MacArthur living at the east of Summerside had a miraculous escape from instant death on Saturday afternoon when he had wandered on to the railway tracks. The little fellow was with his father in the field at the back of their farm which borders on to the track. Mr. MacArthur was working at the grain and did not notice the little fellow sitting on the sleepers. The afternoon train from Summerside came thundering along and the little boy stood up, the engine driver saw him in time to stop the train and the conductor picked the little chap up and restored him to his father.. There is a fairly straight run from the west along this part of the track, but had the train been coming from the east a curve in the line would have hidden the child from view and he would no doubt have been killed.—S.

Many citizens will hear with regret of the sudden death of Mrs. Bell Gillan, widow of Mr. J. H. Gillan, which took place yesterday afternoon at Inkerman, where she was residing for the summer.

She was a member of St. James Presbytrian Church and for years a valued worker in the Ladies' Aid and W. M. Society.

She leaves to mourn, two daughters, Miss Ina Gillan, Public Health Nurse of this City, and Miss Winnifred Gillan, Worcester, Mass., who will arrive home tonight; also two sisters, Mrs. George H. Reddin of this City, and Mrs. William Worth of Worcester, Mass. An only brother, Mr. John A. Murray, of the Marine Department, Ottawa, passed away at his home in May last, after a short illness.

—PASSED AWAY IN TORONTO—Friends in Summerside and Charlottetown who had the pleasure of knowing Mrs. DeCourse O'Grady of Toronto, who, it will be recalled, was very seriously hurt in an automobile accident at Carleton, will regret to learn that she passed away recently in Toronto, following an operation. Two years ago Mrs. O'Grady with her husband, who represented the Canadian Manufacturers Association, motoring to Borden on return to Toronto was struck by the Borden train as their car was crossing the tracks at Carleton. Mr. O'Grady died on his arrival at the hospital, but Mrs. O'Grady, although very seriously hurt, recovered. She was a patient in the Prince County hospital for some time and made many friends. A few days ago word came to the hospital authorities here that she had passed away. Her last illness was not due to any ill-effects from her accident, but no doubt her vitality was lowered by the terrible experience she had gone through. —S.

Police revealed today that Thelma Gauthier, 22-year old girl who was attacked and left unconscious by the side of the Malpeque Road, had received an anonymous threatening letter the day before she was injured.

Signed by "A Friend," the note contained the threat to "get even" with the North Rustico girl, who stubbornly refuses to name her attacker.

For 18 hours she lay in hospital here after a bus-driver picked her up by the side of the road, unconscious and bleeding from slight wounds which looked like penknife slashes.

Police grilling of the girl resulted in throwing little light on the case. She named a man who left for Boston three years ago and who is not in the province now, police stated today. They believe the name she gave was fictitious.

All summer Miss Gauthier worked at a hotel at Brackley Point. She was visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt in Charlottetown Saturday and had gone out driving with an unknown companion Saturday night. Her relatives knew little of her movements and could give no intimation of who her attacker might have been.

The wounds were not serious. One sleeve of her coat was cut as if by a knife. She was discharged from hospital last night. And since she has retained a tight-lipped silence about the affair police said today they were as much in the dark as ever.

The Eastern King's Exhibition held yesterday at Souris was probably the most successful yet held there both with respect to attendance and number and quality of exhibits.

There was a splendid display of cattle, horses, sheep and poultry, and the flower exhibit was exceptionally attractive.

The exhibition was formally opened at 11 a. m. by His Honour Lieutenant Governor DeBlois, who stressed the importance of beautifying homes by the planting of trees and flowers.

After addressing the school children, he delighted the hearts of his youthful hearers by treating them with ice cream and granting them a half holiday. His Honour was most enthusiastically received by the people.

In the absence of Hon. Thane A. Campbell, K. C., Acting Premier, who was recently bereaved by the death of his mothtr, Mr. H. H. Acorn, M.P.P., delivered an address.

The prize list will be published later.
