IMPRESSED

was first built some 900 years ago the then British kangoon narrows four millions of people, today British subjects total over four hundred millions.

They were also guests at Buckingham Palace where Mrs. LePage was presented to their Majesties the King and Queen.

On leaving London Mr. and Mrs. LePage visited Windsor Castle, Edinburgh, Scotland, which Mr. LePage described as "the finest city I have ever been my privilege to visit". He was particularly taken with the war memorial.

At the naval review held off Spithead the navy's guests of the Admiralty and saw the review from the chartered steamer Cameronia which followed in the wake of the Royal Yacht. "It was indeed an impressive sight," said Mr. LePage, "cruising through lanes of grey steel ships colorfully flag bedecked for the occasion. The illumination at night with the ships floodlighted was a sight long to be remembered."

They visited Paris and Vimy along with Mr. A. E. MacLean, M.P., and Mrs. MacLean, and were particularly impressed by the Canadian War Memorial, built on Vimy Ridge with a commanding view of the countryside which the Canadian soldiers made ever famous by their glorious achievements. The cemeteries in that sector were visited and were described as splendidly kept.

Mr. LePage by means of a special pass was admitted to the Dominion House of Commons where he had the privilege of hearing speeches delivered by Sir John Simon, Anthony Eden and Lady Astor. He was also present the day Sir Neville Chamberlain took over the office of Prime Minister from Sir Stanley Baldwin. The Members' Lobby and the Strangers' Dining Room in the Parliament Buildings were also visited.

Mr. LePage travelled to the home of his ancestors at Dunwich, 90 miles from London near the North Sea and saw the brick house in which his grandfather, Chester Woolner was born and lived until 21 before emigrating to North Rustico in this province.

For the Coronation proper Mr. and Mrs. LePage had a splendid view of the ceremony from seats in the Abbey and felt words were inadequate to describe the magnificent scenes.

"The thing that impressed me most," said Mr. LePage, "was the extreme and seemingly spontaneous loyalty of the people for their new King and Queen. The handling also of the huge crowds by the 1,500 police and the 35,000 soldiers who lined the route was also a master achievement. Not a serious mishap occurred to mar the occasion."

While in London Mr. and Mrs. LePage were guests at the Waldorf Hotel. They met Messrs. Reuben Macdonald, H. H. Shaw, and Hon. Mark R. MacGuigan and Mrs. MacGuigan who are not expected to return until the latter part of the month.

Mr. LePage brought home with him a prized possession—the stool, built of silver oak, topped with blue velvet and trimmed with gold, on which he sat during the ceremony in the Abbey.

MAKES ICE CREAM

You'll like

WHETHER you make ice cream in an electric refrigerator or in a hand freezer—try making it with Carnation Milk. You'll find it even more tempting, richer and smoother—and more economical. Carnation is twice as rich as ordinary milk, every drop contains an equal share of cream, all the food value of the original whole milk is retained. It keeps well because it is sterilized.

These same virtues make it an ideal food for bottle-fed babies and for growing children. Carnation is unusually digestible, and is irradiated supplying extra "sunshine" vitamin D. Carnation is the evaporated milk the Dionne Quintuplets use.
