The Presence of Every Worker is Desired

Opening Guns In Red Cross Drive

The opening guns in the Provincial Red Cross campaign were fired last night at an enthusiastic supper meeting of workers in Trinity United Hall. The special names committee, divisional commanders, captains and team members were out in force to hear the City Chairman, Roy Cudmore, urge them to continue the excellent work which they had made a significant feature of past drives Mr. Cudmore remarked that this group of workers had led all Canada in several previous Red Cross campaigns and he was confident that the same results would be achieved in the present drive After explaining the particulars of the campaign and the need for funds to carry on the peacetime programme of the Red Cross, he cited a local instance of how effectively and promptly this great organization responded when it's services were required. He then called upon His Worship, Mayor B. Earle MacDonald, who congratulated those present for their splendid efforts in the past and extended his best wishes for their success in the present canvass.

The Provincial Chairman, Edwin Johnston, spoke briefly, expressing the thanks of the executive to all those engaged in the city campaign. Major Norman Lowther, Vice-Chairman of the Charlottetown Red Cross, dealt with the work of the various divisional commanders together with their able body of captains and team members, and pointed out to the gathering that an interesting feature of the present campaign was the large number of returned men who were taking an active part. The outstanding assistance so freely given by the Red Cross in the last war is well known and appreciated by these veterans.

The meeting was opened with Major MacLean of the local Salvation Army leading in prayer. The thanks of the gathering was expressed to the local members of the Red Cross Corps who were responsible for the arranging of the supper.

This morning and throughout the day, dozens of Red Cross canvassers will be hard at work calling on city residents. A special effort is being made to complete as many calls as possible today so that the campaign can be cleaned up with the least possible delay. Charlottetown citizens can greatly assist in this effort by having their contributions ready when the canvasser calls. The minimum objective for the province is $12,500 but it is anticipated that this quota will be exceeded by a wide margin. Of special significance is the fact that every dollar donated by the general public in this provincial drive will be used to further the work of the Red Cross in Prince Edward Island. A second supper meeting has been called for tonight at 6.00 p.m. in Trinity United Hall, when the results of the first day's canvassing will be reported. The presence of all workers at this important meeting is desired.

Traffic Safety Checkup Results

During the first ten days of the Traffic Safety Check program being conducted by the combined police forces of this Province, 2,049 cars have been checked and 830 have failed to meet requirements, Chief of Police Birtwistle, Provincial Co-ordinator announced yesterday.

Motorists whose cars barely met requirements were urged to have adjustments or repairs made at once and report back for a re-check.

"The results of the program are very encouraging," Chief Birtwistle said. "People have begun to realize that their cars must last for a long time yet and are cooperating with the police in these spot inspections".

"For this program to be completely successful, motorists should voluntarily take their cars to repair shops and have their lights, brakes, horn, windshield wiper and tires tested. Repairs should be made when necessary. In this way the hazards of traffic accidents will be greatly reduced," the Chief explained.

Canada Packers Plant Damaged

A loss running into thousands of dollars was the result of a fire at mid-day yesterday which seriously damaged the local plant of Canada Packers and kept the firemen battling for three hours before they succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

Firemen were of the opinion last night that the fire had been getting a foothold for some time before they arrived on the scene at approximately 11.20 yesterday morning. It is understood the Company had two or three carloads of egg cartons stored in the plant and firemen said that while the carton material was not of a highly inflammable nature, that very fact made it difficult amid so much bulk to get at the heart of the smouldering mass.

While the outside walls of the plant are little injured, the roof is practically irrepairable and all interiors above the first floor were badly damaged.

Officials of the Company were reluctant last night to put any estimate on the amount of loss suffered but stated the insurance adjuster would likely arrive shortly to make an appraisal.

The origin of the fire is undetermined.

Mr. Bracken called for an international authority over atomic power "with such prestige and power that we can be assured... there are no underground factories preparing to obliterate the human race."

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader:—"Our purpose should be to enable science to inaugurate a peaceful and prosperous society based upon the widespread use of atomic energy... Government control must not only relate to the making of war; I say it has got to relate wholly to all the economic developmens of peacetime...

"Ownership and control of atomic energy will set the pattern of living for years to come ...the misery and poverty of the age of the industrial revolution must not reoccur through private ownership."

Solon Low, Social Credit leader:—"We are on the verge of the golden age of the world. Whether our stupidity will prevent us from passing over the threshold will depend upon how bodies of this kind react to suggestions for use and control of the energy in the best interests of the world...

"For the time being, I wholeheartedly support government control. As for peacetime application, I am not just sure."

To Control Raw Materials

During committee questioning, Mr. Howe said "it is the intention to keep very strict control over the raw material that is used for atomic fission." Canada and the United States were the only countries which have a plant producing the final product from which the energy comes.

"It is very important that we control not only the raw materials but the working processes and control of the finished product."

The board would control the domestic situation and would have no direct part in the international sphere. Future of the government-owned Eldorado mining and refining firm would be decided by the board.

He felt the Chalk River, Ont., plant should be a Crown company. The bill gave powers to take over any such plant if the board decided it was desirable.

If Parliament wished to examine the affairs of the board, a committee could do so.

The budget for atomic energy now contemplated was about $3,500,000 a year. Applicants for position under the board would be screened.

The National Research Council was favorable to the board taking over the actual operating in the field of radio-active substances but no decision had been taken as to making it an operating body.

Mr. Howe said there were no likely prospects of new deposits of uranium outside of those now being mined in the Northwest Territories.

PROVINCES DIFFER SHARPLY ON "DOMINION" vs. "CANADA DAY"

But Largest Group Over Whole Country Approve Change

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

TORONTO, June 1 — Here is a Public Opinion Report on the action of the Canadian Government in changing the name of Dominion Day to Canada Day:

One in five Canadians don't think it makes the slightest difference.

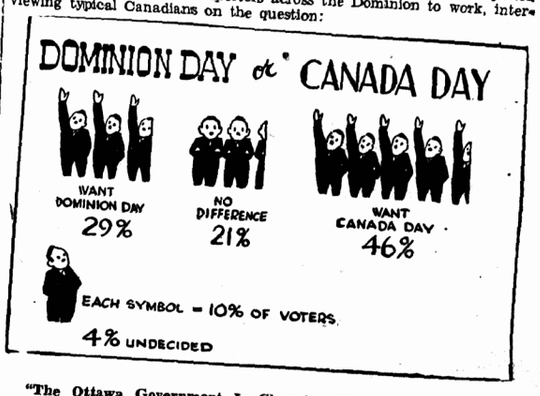
Outside of Quebec, opinion is quite evenly divided, with a slight leaning in the direction of those who disapprove. In Quebec, nearly eight in ten voters approve the change.

Younger voters are much more inclined to approve the change than older voters.

On the whole, if the issue were made the subject of a national plebiscite today, the change in name would probably be approved by the voters.

And speaking of holidays, a most popular move would be a measure setting all holidays like Victoria Day and Dominion Day on a Monday, instead of letting them fall on whatever day of the week the calendar dictates.

Right after Parliament had speeded through legislation changing the name of Canada's July 1st holiday, the Institute of Public Opinion put its battery of opinion reporters across the Dominion to work, interviewing typical Canadians on the question:



"The Ottawa Government Is Changing The Name Of Dominion Day to "Canada Day." Do Yu Approve Or Disapprove Of This?"

The national vote:

Approve
Disapprove	46%
Indifferent	29
Undecided	21

Because Quebec opinion is so overwhelmingly in favor of the change, it is of interest to view the results of this survey as between that province and the rest of Canada:

	Quebec	Rest of Canada
Approve
Disapprove	78%	34%
Indifferent	5	37
Undecided	12	24

The survey also finds different attitudes as between the various age groups. For example, while 57 per cent of the voters in the 21 to 29 years of age bracket favor the change, only 37 per cent of those over 50 years approve.

In the same survey the poll asked:

"Would You Approve Or Disapprove Of Having All Holidays Like Victoria Day, Or Dominion Day Celebrated on Mondays, In Order To Have Longer Week-Ends?"

The answers leave no doubt as to where the public stands on this one, and approval is much more emphatic in Canada than in United States, where a comparable question was asked by the American Institute.

	Canada	U. S. A
Approve	82%	62%
Disapprove	10	37
Undecided	8	11

"What the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, Frank, there's a whole tangle of troubles to be straightened out all over the world. Makes your head swim to think of it."

"And yet, Jim, most of it springs from one cause ... suspicion. You and I wouldn't be very good neighbours if we suspected each other of all sorts of skullduggery. Actually, what the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, the life insurance business is a good example. British life insurance companies have had offices in Canada since 1833 and several of our Canadian companies are well known throughout the United Kingdom."

"What about American companies?"

"We found it good business to be good neighbours with the American life insurance companies. We welcome them here. They carry almost one-third of all the life insurance in force in Canada. And our Canadian companies are well liked in the U.S.A. where they do a large and increasing business. As a matter of fact, they are well and favourably known throughout the world. Nearly half the business of the Canadian companies is outside Canada."

Life insurance is truly an international business—a neighbourly business. At home Canadians buy their life insurance as they choose from British or United States or Canadian companies. And our Canadian life insurance companies abroad! Who can assess the value to Canada of the confidence in the Dominion which they have built up over the years in their dealings with tens of thousands of foreign clients and of their services in establishing Canada's reputation for financial integrity and security throughout the world?

A message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their agents.
