Office Machinery Demonstrated To Women Workers

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—Free demonstrations and lectures on uses of every kind of office machinery were recently arranged by the Y.
 W. C. A. here as the result of a questionnaire answered by employees of 10,000 young women of the workers, who stated that the average girls would have a better chance of getting and holding a job if she were equipped with the knowledge needed to operate several kinds of office machines, instead of the traditional one, according to Miss Edna Fyle, general secretary. Five hundred girls attended the opening day's classes.
 Some of the machines used in the classes were as follows: records and key punch, tabulating, assorting, typewriter, bookkeeping, adding, addressograph, milliograph, mimeoscope, mailing and sealing, dictaphone, calculating and the telephone switchboard.

 pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, North Sydney, N. S., for the past five and a half years presented his resignation on Sunday morning to become effective the last of June.
 Three years ago Dr. Freeman suffered a severe illness but after five months returned to his pulpit and has carried on until the present.
 He now feels that his strength is not sufficient for the full work of the pastorate. He will remove at the end of June to Lawrencetown, Annapolis County, where after a brief period of rest he hopes to be available for pulpit supply work as occasion may offer. Dr. Freeman has held pastorates at Bridgewater, Aylesford, Canso, N. S., Charlottetown, St. John, N. B., and Calvary Church North Sydney, N. S., and was President of the United Baptist Convention of the Maritime Provinces in 1917 and 1918.

Canadian Dollar Climbing Up

(Canadian Press)
 NEW YORK, N. Y., Mar. 7.—The Canadian dollar and pound sterling advanced to new highs for the year on local foreign exchanges today.
 The final quotation for the dollar was 90 1/2 cents, 1/2 cent higher than Saturday's close, and sterling's close was $3.53 for cable transfers, 1/2 cent higher than the previous close.
 The dollar opened 1/2 cent higher at 90 1/2 cents this morning, rose to 90 3/4 cents at noon, sold for 90 5/8 cents in mid-afternoon, and ended the day at 90 1/2 cents.
 Sterling started the day 1/4 cent higher at $3.52, rose to $3.53 at noon, and maintained this figure throughout the remainder of the session. Sterling's further strength was accompanied by Wall Street reports that the Bank of England would cut the discount rate at the weekly meeting on Thursday.

IN MEMORIAM

PROF. J. HERBERT LOGAN

It is only when Death with gentle finger touches and releases the overburdened spirits of our friends that they become free. Then indeed, they come back to us. Until then, they were tied by circumstance to some particular place; they had not become really and truly ours. They were only in part with us. Now, there is nothing to keep them away. So it is with our friend Professor Logan. He has returned. This time, he will stay. He will remain and dwell with us in our hearts. No more afflicted, no more tied to earth, he dwells now in the Spirit-Land, the Land of true Music and Beauty. Rejoice and purified by fire and by suffering, his gentle spirit has graduated into the Realm of Everywhere. He is here; he is wherever the hearts of his friends have known him; and he will be always young. He has drunk of the fountain of Perennial Youth, always kind, always considerate of others, his life will be true music, from now on, but it will be music in our hearts, music with never any discord.

To those who knew him or who may have partly forgotten, Professor Logan may be remembered as the Organist of Zion Church, (Richmond Street), many years ago.
 Some who have listened to his teaching and who have sung praises to their Maker under his guidance, are still with us and will remember his kindly gentle spirit. Others will remember him by his fondness for yachting, with many a tribute in their hearts to his generosity and sweet unselfishness. Bright, noble, true-hearted, undaunted, our friend we greet thee.

Halifax mourns the loss of a former teacher in the Conservatory of Music. Educated in Germany under some of the finest Masters, he was beloved by teacher and pupil alike until ill-health brought release from the task he loved to perform. The last tribute of his friends, in prayer and praise and song, was poured out from sad but thankful hearts for a life which had been singularly sweet and pure.

Burial took place at Camp Hill Cemetery on the 29th February, the funeral services being attended by Rev. Dr. Falconer, Rev. A. J. Pua-glichrist, the Principal and members of the staff of the Conservatory of Music, and by many ladies and gentlemen who had been Professor Logan's associates in music and in the cultivation of the gift of song.

MR. JAMES MCINNIS

It is our painful duty to record the death of Mr. James McInnis, which sad event occurred at his home, St. Avars, on Thursday, March 3rd, at the age of 72 years.
 Although Mr. McInnis had not been in the best of health for the past few months yet he was attending to his duties and seemed to be recovering, but God disposed otherwise and his sudden death came as great shock to his family. In his last moments he was fortified by the last sacred rights of the R. C.

Church, of which he was a devoted member.
 Mr. McInnis was a man of sterling character, honest, upright and true, a model Christian in every respect, ever ready to give his assistance in the time of need. In the home, where he will be greatly missed, he displayed the qualities of a most loving husband and father, ever solicitous about the comfort and happiness of his wife and family.
 On Saturday morning his funeral proceeded to the Basilica, where the Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father Farrell, thence to the R. C. Cemetery where the office for the dead was performed, by Rev.
 Father McCarthy. The pall bearers were: Albert Shaw, Bernard Mc-Cabe, Henry Callbeck, Alfred Chappelle, William Smith and Fred Monaghan. May his soul rest in peace.
 Many Mass Cards and Spiritual Offerings were received.

 a close by Mrs. C. H. Robinson,

PROFESSOR WOULD TAKE LAURELS FROM ERICSSON

Another patriotic myth has been forced to lower its colors in the face of careful historical research writes William E. Rae in a Boston paper. The popular conceit that the United States led the rest of the world in the introduction of ironclad warships and that the dramatic combat between the Monitor and the Merrimack began this revolution in naval architecture which transformed navies the world over, receives no countenance from Prof. James Phinney Barber, assistant professor of history at Harvard and master of the seventh house to be built under Harvard's new house plan.
 "The dramatic qualities of this first fight between ironclads have led Americans ever since to exaggerate the effects of the battles of Hampton Roads," Professor Baxter says. "An examination of manuscript material in Paris, London and Washington shows clearly that France, not the United States, played the leading role in the introduction of ironclads."—Detroit
