Sing-Song At "Y" Last Night

Last night the student committee were in charge of service at the Y which was attended by 250 people. The order of the service was of a missionary type. The president of the Student Christian Movement of Prince of Wales was in the chair and was also the chief speaker of the evening, basing his remarks on Being Christian to the Foreigner. Mr. Stewart gave a very interesting address on the Christian Student work being done, especially in China. The College Quartette rendered two very nice selections. Two of the students led in very earnest prayer. A collection in the aid of the Foreign Work of the Association was taken. Next Sunday night a sacred concert will be held in the large hall. Silver collection. Student Christian Movement. Saturday night socials at the Y. M. C. A. are now in operation again. 150 members enjoyed a varied program Saturday night. Beginning at 7 p. m. with a Bible Study group of 35 under the leadership of Prof. G. D. Steel. At 8 p. m. all hands adjourned to the gym where a two hour program of contests, reading, marches, music and games was indulged in by all. The program was brought to a close at 10 p. m. with refreshments and the singing of God Save the King. A Junior and Intermediate ping pong, checker and basket ball tournament took place during Friday and Saturday. The finals will be played off Monday when a full list of contestants and results will be published.

Dr. CHASE'S OINTMENT

WINNIPEG, March 22.-Sweeping from Norway House northward, an influenza epidemic took toll of 20 lives among Indians of Northern Manitoba, while several hundred were stricken with the malady, according to reports received by the Department of Indian Affairs, Winnipeg branch.

LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION

He was not what you call a specially good driver, but he never met with a single hole and every bridge was level. It was simply like a billiard board or a boulevard in a city. Last year the roadway was positively neglected and it looked to Mr. Saunders as if it was done for a purpose. There were holes and ditches from one end to the other. A few years ago, on either side of that road, alder bushes were growing; you couldn't pass unless you pushed your horse into the bushes. Last year alder bushes were again permitted to grow on portions of the road, so that the road is now so narrow in some places that teams cannot pass. Take the Borden road; had the Commissioner of Public Works attempted to do a single thing there? He allowed it to go to ruin and decay. The same was true of the road from Summerside to Kensington and Eastward. If there was any work done there Mr. Saunders never saw it. He didn't believe there was a man on the road till somewhere in the vicinity of the 20th of June last year; at least he didn't see any. If we expect good roads we must not leave it till the summer. There was ample time to do it. One fault of the late Bell Government, he admitted, was in regard to the maintenance of our public roads. He had spoken to the late Commissioner, Mr. Crosby, time and time again, and Mr. Crosby's answer invariably was that he had so many of these improved roads to do that he hadn't time to consider the others. Later on the Bell Government was inaugurating a policy of maintenance, but unfortunately that time didn't come. He (Mr. Saunders) had no doubt but that the late Commissioner had the very best intentions, but there was no reason for it that he could understand. The Department under the present Government needs backing up in that respect. He hoped they would not stay in the same old rut and do nothing. It is time they were getting busy, because the money of this country had been wasted. There is no reason that Mr. Saunders could see why they have not inaugurated a policy of proper road maintenance. Put a little pep in that office! Get a little busy! This was the kind of work that he had yet to see done. A little care should be given especially to that Western road, which was improving each year with age. A little attention would have been all that was necessary. He had pointed out in the House last year a method of supervision and maintenance, but nothing was done. Probably the hon. members didn't think his suggestion worth considering, and perhaps it wasn't; but the people are not satisfied with the way the roads are going into decay, and the Premier ought himself to get busy on the job and inaugurate a proper method of road maintenance. It should have been done long ago. He trusted that a little work on the collateral roads would also be done this spring.

THE MARKETS

OTTAWA, Mar. 22-Imports of United States eggs for the week ending March 21st amounted to 2,369 cases. Of these Winnipeg received 894 cases. Toronto, Montreal and the Maritime Provinces 400 each and 275 cases of miscellaneous points. Out of 180 dozen eggs sampled this morning on the Ottawa farmers market, 16 1/2 dozen graded extras and 16 1/2 dozen extra and sold at 35 to 40, nine dozen and three graded firsts sold at 35 and one dozen and three eggs graded second which were confiscated. The general market situation shows practically no change. Offers of frozen poultry are being made by the prairie provinces, chickens 25 to 32 1/2 per 23 to 25 l.b. Toronto jobbing specials 39 extras 37 firsts 25 seconds 32. Montreal unchanged. Quebec firsts jobbing 36 to 38 seconds 34 to 36. Ottawa jobbing extras 39, firsts 35, seconds 29. Western markets unchanged.

MONTREAL, Mar. 22

There was some demand from foreign buyers for Canadian western oats on Saturday and it was reported that a few loads were worked with the United Kingdom, but apart from this, business was slow and the market was quiet. In the local market exporters were after No. 2 Canadian western and No. 2 feed oats. But as the bids were 1 1/2 cents per bushel below holders asking C.I.F. at bay ports no sales resulted. The spring wheat flour market was without any new feature to note. The movement for winter wheat continues slow. The volume of business transacted in millfeed was moderate sized and the undertone was steady. The rolled oat situation was firm. The feature of the local egg market last week was the stronger feeling and prices were advanced two cents per dozen, which was attributed to the decrease in the importations from the United States. The trade was fair. Little business was transacted in butter and the undertone was easier. A stronger feeling had prevailed in the market for Canadian cheese. In the past week and prices closed one cent per pound higher which was due to the small supplies available. Fodder made No. 1 white and colored goods were quoted at 22 to 22 1/2 cents and No. 2 grades at 21 to 21 1/2 cents per pound. Beans were steady at $2.70 per bushel.

DEATHS

McLEOD-At North Wiltshire, Mrs. John McLeod, widow of the late John McLeod. Funeral from the residence of David Mitchell on Tuesday at 1 o'clock.

MacDONALD-At Summerside on Sunday the 22nd, 1925, Mrs. Annie MacDonald, widow of the late ex-Speaker, Hon. John A. MacDonald of Indian River. The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning after the arrival of the eastern train from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. James H. Wood to St. Paul's Church where Requiem High Mass will be sung.

GRIFFIN-In this city, March 22, Mrs. George Griffin, nee Bessie M. Dillon. Funeral Tuesday morning at 8.45 from her mother's residence 224 Grafton St.

Mrs. Annie C. MacDonald

The death occurred on Sunday, March 22nd, 1925, of Mrs. Annie C. MacDonald, relict of the late Hon. John A. MacDonald, Indian River. About twelve years ago she moved from Indian River to Summerside, where she lived with her daughter, Mrs. James Wood, Belmont St., and where she passed peacefully away yesterday morning. The late Mrs. MacDonald enjoyed the best of health until a short time ago, when she contracted pneumonia to which she finally succumbed. Her's was a character that expressed true charity to all at all times and she was beloved and highly esteemed by an unusually large circle of friends. She was a great reader and kept abreast of current happenings and this coupled with her enjoyable disposition drew not only those of her kin to her, but made all who knew her desirous of being ever in her company. She leaves to mourn three sons, Messrs. Chas. E. Customs Officer at Borden; Ronald B. Miami, Florida and Rev. John Archibald MacDonald, Lot 7, also three daughters, Mrs. C. H. Hickey, Calgary, Alta; Mrs. Lou A. F. Arsenault, and Mrs. James H. Wood, Summerside. The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning in Summerside after the arrival of the eastern train, from her late residence Belmont St. The Guardian joins with the whole community in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

Participants, very beneficial. Admitting the fact that there are no vacant schools now in the Province, and that there is a larger proportion of teachers of the higher grades engaged therein than ever before, Mr. Saunders maintained that the late Liberal government should get the credit. He was in agreement with the statement in the Speech with the statement arguing, that even in this the Conservatives followed the lead of their predecessors. But travelling cannot be done to any extent. We never did have anything but clay and dirt to make our improved highways, yet when we consider our roads during the past four or five years as compared with the years before there is a wonderful improvement; and it is to be hoped this will continue, as it must do we mean to profit by the tourist trade.

In regard to the establishment here of an Experimental Fox Station Mr. Saunders said he appreciated the importance of this to the Province; but it should be placed in Prince County, where the industry was propagated, fostered and developed. Today there are more foxes in Prince County than in the other two Counties combined. Where will this Station do the foxmen of the Province the most good, in Charlottetown, Alberton or Summerside, where the industry is dominant? A generous offer had been made by the foxmen of the Province, mostly from Prince County, of donating a site, foxes and everything; yet the inference is that the Government is taking all the credit. True, they are doing something substantial, but it was the foxmen, especially of Prince County, who had advocated the Station and had taken the matter to Ottawa. They supplied the foxes necessary for the experimental work. Did the foxmen of the Queen's County lend their hand in that regard? When it was decided finally to bring the Station here one would think it would be placed in a central locality where these men who have been working for the good of the industry would be benefited. But no, a little pull from the hon. member for Charlottetown, and the Government listens to him.

The credit of assisting the Fishermen's Union, Mr. Saunders maintained, should go to Mr. A. E. McLean, M. P. and not to the Provincial Government. He was surprised to see anything in the Speech about the changes in the system of accounting in the governmental departments because they already had a capable auditor in the person of Mr. Anderson. Were the accounts so intricate that they had to send to New Brunswick for an expensive man to audit them? The important thing, has the new system saved the Province anything? So far as that, the country was concerned no one was deceived by them; we understood them perfectly. If there are better results under the new system, then we are getting somewhere, but if it is only just a little change for political purposes, what is the benefit? Mr. Saunders had explicit faith in the Provincial Auditor and his ability to make proper returns without the assistance even of the External Auditor, though he did not wish to be understood as advocating that we should do without the External Auditor. If the new system is real improvement, however, he had no objection to it.

The paragraph in the Speech referring to the issue of debentures for highway improvement and additional bonds to pay off the bank overdraft was criticised by Mr. Saunders as being too vague. The Opposition should have a reasonable opportunity of looking into these things. It should have been stated how much was issued for highway purposes, and how much for the other purpose. The total amounts to $500,000 and the bonds bear interest at only four and a half per cent, but they may have been sold at a terrible discount for all that appears in the Speech. If so there would be no saving made. Without this information he was not in a position to discuss the matter intelligently. He did maintain however that the method adopted was inaugurated by the Liberals in 1920, when an act was passed to provide for the issue of debentures to pay off the bank overdraft. He trusted that the proposed amendment to the Taxation Act will be along lines similar to the acts now put into operation at Ottawa, Washington in England and elsewhere; namely, reduction of taxes. The old Bell Tax Act was repealed and what was substituted in its place is now known as the Stewart Tax Act, which in regard to the two essential items, land and income taxation, is the same. The present Government made a fatal mistake in repealing the Poll Tax. It was a fair and equitable tax. He believed, however, it was one of the big factors in defeating the Bell Government. But now he contended the Gasoline Tax has been substituted for the Poll Tax. He was not in a position to know how much the Government is obtaining from the Gasoline tax, but he had heard a number of complaints, that it was most unfair and unjust. It is possible for the fishermen and farmers to apply to the Department and get a refund, but he knew of a great many who would have nothing to do with it, there was so much red tape, and he believed not too many have taken advantage of that provision for the sake of three or four dollars rebate. The people would rather pay the old Poll Tax. The present Government a year ago said they intended to collect all the arrears of the Poll Tax; the speaker would like to know just how much they did collect; he knew of a great many people who have not paid. If the tax is wrong why are they attempting to collect it? If the leader of the Government has done all he can to do, he is entitled to the credit. He has surely collected a great deal more revenue than was necessary to run the affairs of the Province during the past year. Something over $25,000 was collected in 1923 and carried into the account of 1924. Then again a saving was promised at Falconwood. The speaker had always maintained that the expense of operating that institution was entirely too great, or at least that the revenues derived from the institution were not what they should be. Institutions of a like nature in other places, especially in Upper Canada and United States, are self sustaining. We know that many people have relatives at Falconwood who are quite able to pay a reasonable sum for their maintenance, and if during the past year an effort has been made to collect these fees, no doubt the natural result has followed and the Government is able to show that a substantial amount has been realized.

A substantial increase in revenue has been derived under the Prohibition Act. The speaker had advocated that as a revenue producer, the contrary, he believed there was entirely too much liquor dispensed for medicinal purposes. There are too many doctor's certificates issued. The mover of the address, (Mr. Tanton) he understood, had intimated that there was a possibility that a bill will be introduced to provide for light wines and beer. He (Mr. Saunders) wished to say that he would be unalterably opposed to that if it is introduced. Until the temperance people of the Province, through the Temperance Alliance, state that they desire any change made in the Prohibition Act, he would stand just where he always stood. He believed the Prohibition Act was a good Act notwithstanding all the mud slinging and argument to the contrary; but unless the people want to enforce it, we might as well do without it. The mover of the Address said he would like to discuss the question with the people of the province; the speaker would like no better opportunity than meeting him anywhere in his own district to discuss it. It was he thought an unfortunate mistake for the hon. member to come into the House and advocate light wines and beer. While it is true the adoption of this measure is proving a revenue producer in other Provinces, it is nevertheless a disastrous step to take. He had seen the effects of it in Montreal, and the suffering caused by the squandering of the workman's wages. Here to a large extent the people are themselves to blame that they do not get behind the Prohibition law.

Mr. Saunders referred to the annual meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association held in Summerside last fall in which he understood a resolution was passed condemning him for certain statements he had made on public platforms in regard to the actions of the present Government; statements which he would not make on the floor of the House. This he now wished to deny, whatever those supposed statements were. He had always maintained that a mistake was made in defeating the Liberal Government in 1923, because under them he could see a great improvement in every department, whereas the present Government has utterly failed to maintain the highways. He again intimated the Western Road, and appealed to the Commissioner of Public Works to get busy and cut down the alder bushes that were growing almost in the middle of the road; and the same thing would apply to the Summerside-Borden road.

and the same engineers were doing the work under the same specifications. Thousands of dollars are being taken out of the public treasury for the purpose, and if this was wrong under the Bell Government it must be wrong now. He complained about the way the work was being done on a portion of the road between Charlottetown and Summerside. It was a quarter mile stretch, and he was satisfied that there were at least four inches of nothing but pure sand that would blow away with the wind; and on top of that was loaded dry sods taken from an adjoining field and put on there, for what purpose he could never understand. Mr. Saunders even got out of his car to look at it to see whether his eyes had not played him false. When it was raining on that road you would imagine you were going through a bog hole; and that was what they called an improved highway. The hon. members may say this is an exaggeration, but everybody knows we had considerable rain last fall. He didn't think that any of the hon. members' portion of the road was any good; it was left pretty much the way it was built; the wagon wheels had cut into it and it was simply money wasted. What he couldn't understand was how the Dominion Government engineers had passed it; he didn't believe they ever saw it.

The travelling of the approaches to the city and towns which the present Government is undertaking was also done by the late Government. Mr. Saunders continued arguing, that even in this the Conservatives followed the lead of their predecessors. But travelling cannot be done to any extent. We never did have anything but clay and dirt to make our improved highways, yet when we consider our roads during the past four or five years as compared with the years before there is a wonderful improvement; and it is to be hoped this will continue, as it must do we mean to profit by the tourist trade.

Are Fortunes Being Earned in Selected German Bonds?

Less than fifteen months ago we recommended and sold to investors in Canada, Newfoundland and the United States the following selected Foreign Government and Municipal Bonds at the following prices, and which now possess the actual cash values indicated in the last column:

BOND	Price Sold 15 months ago	Present Value
German Govt. 5%	$10	$12.25
Berlin 4% 1915	20	4.250
London 4% 1915	40	14.750
Belgium 4% 1915	200	20.000
Colombia 4% 1915	40	13.000
France 4% 1915	100	13.000
Frankfurt 4% 1915	120	3.000
Hamburg 4% 1915	195	7.500
London 4% 1915	85	7.000
Munich 5% 1915	39	6.000
Stuttgart 4% 1915	60	4.500

The above exemplifies only a few of the bonds fortunate investors purchased through our recommendation after we had exhaustively studied the merits of the bonds.

EXTRAORDINARY SUMS OF MONEY THROUGH DEPRECIATED GOVERNMENT AND MUNICIPAL BONDS

THE LAST OPPORTUNITY TO EARN EXTRAORDINARY SUMS OF MONEY THROUGH DEPRECIATED GOVERNMENT AND MUNICIPAL BONDS WAS IN 1914. DURING THE FRANCO-PRUSSIAN WAR IN 1870. At that time French Government Bonds declined to 75% of their gold value. Two years later—after France had paid off the reparations imposed upon her—the bonds rose to 92% of their gold value, returning fortunes in profits to those fortunate investors who had the grit and courage to buy those bonds when by other men and women out of every hundred entertained too pessimistic an outlook to buy them.

THEN CAME THE GREAT WORLD WAR

It was the greatest war in the history of the world. Naturally the aftermath of such a mammoth war was bound to be distressing and cause a greater lapse of time for the nations involved to readjust themselves once more to normal conditions.

English, French, Belgian, Italian, German, Polish, Austrian and other bonds depreciated in value. Some more than others. German securities, for instance, dropped in value from $28,000 to $4.

ONLY THE SAME PROPORTION OF INVESTORS PURCHASED ONE IN EVERY HUNDRED!

That is why, it is generally conceded, there is only one wealthy man or woman in every hundred.

That one man or woman in every hundred buys when the other 99 out of every hundred do not buy.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO IGNORE, after history has continually repeated itself, the opportunities which exist to-day to earn exceptional profits through the purchase of selected German and other foreign government and municipal bonds which are available and within the reach of practically every man and woman at their present extremely low prices?

There are certain selected German Bonds today which can be purchased for such small sums of money but which have possibilities of rising up to $238,000. Such opportunities do not last long.

It has been a long time that the name CORDASCO has been identified with foreign securities. The foreign bonds which have risen in value and returned fortunes to investors were such bonds identified as "cordasco" bonds. It is important for investors to know whether they should buy and from whom they should purchase their securities. It has been our experience that every time we have brought out before the public selected securities there has followed in our wake a wave of effort on the part of others whom it seems simply life on what we create.

The most important thing, however, that our clients obtain from the field of foreign securities is that we have found the field of foreign securities lucrative, because we have acted with them honorably, squarely and satisfactorily. When a man buys a German Bond from us he gets absolutely the genuine German Bond that he purchases. He does not get a cheap or a dirt or anything else as a substitute; he gets what he ordered. That is why we have attained a reputation that is enviable. We have prepared special circulars on those German and other foreign government and municipal selected securities which we believe at the present time offer the greatest opportunities for lucrative returns. An opportunity comes only once—do not let it go by—seize it now before it is too late. Write or call. There is no obligation whatsoever.

It is important for investors to know whether they should buy and from whom they should purchase their securities. It has been our experience that every time we have brought out before the public selected securities there has followed in our wake a wave of effort on the part of others whom it seems simply life on what we create.

The most important thing, however, that our clients obtain from the field of foreign securities is that we have found the field of foreign securities lucrative, because we have acted with them honorably, squarely and satisfactorily. When a man buys a German Bond from us he gets absolutely the genuine German Bond that he purchases. He does not get a cheap or a dirt or anything else as a substitute; he gets what he ordered. That is why we have attained a reputation that is enviable. We have prepared special circulars on those German and other foreign government and municipal selected securities which we believe at the present time offer the greatest opportunities for lucrative returns. An opportunity comes only once—do not let it go by—seize it now before it is too late. Write or call. There is no obligation whatsoever.

Movie Star in New Role

Officials who appointed Priscilla Dean, movie star, as master of Yonge Street Station, North Toronto, for one hour, were considerably surprised at her versatility especially when she blithely donned engineers overalls and proceeded to show the engineer that she could drive an engine.
