

Frost Bantam POULTRY FENCE

Increase your poultry profits

Canada imports eggs—it pays to keep poultry! The way to make the most profit is to use proper runs. If you want to actually save money—use Frost Bantam Brand Fence! It is heavier than poultry netting, lasts years longer—and yet is lower in price!

Frost Bantam Brand has uprights only 6 inches apart; the top and bottom wires, No. 12 gauge, have the strength and weight to carry the fence without the expense of top and bottom scantlings. All other wires 13½ gauge. It also makes a splendid garden fence for keeping poultry out. Lateral wires are spaced one inch to three inches and six inches apart. It stops the smallest chicks. Heights 24 to 60 inches.

Frost Bantam Brand is the fence for you—you can afford bigger runs!

ACME PLANTER.—Mr. J. A. McDonald, Hermonville, has imported from Traverse, Michigan an Acme hand potato planter. This little machine plants down in the ground the potato sets and covers it at the one operating and is a very useful tool for small growers.

FERTILIZER ARRIVES.—A special fertilizer train brought this much needed stimulant for the potato crop to Eastern farmers on Monday, none too soon, but in good time. June planting for this year. Eastern farmers are apparently using large quantities of chemics this year.

BROWN TOP GOOD FIELD.—Instead of plowing up their brown top fields for oats as they would have done this spring under former conditions. Eastern farmers are reserving these now considered very valuable grass seed crop for seed purposes, and thus curtailing the oats crop. A fairly good brown top field yields (according to results last year) $40 an acre, and no plowing cultivating or sowing as in the case with oats. Brown top is the making of many Eastern farmers.

The food chamber is lined in one piece with porcelain, white and smooth as a dish. The Barnet is a beautiful refrigerator. Its insulated walls are eleven layers thick.

Demonstration begins today Tuesday and continues the rest of this week. Come and see the Barnet in actual use. It's a real refrigerator.
