Great Things Expected From Jack McKenna

A Canadian Press message to the Post, received at noon, says that advices from Cleveland via the Associated Press, declares Jack McKenna did not fight here last night. According to telegrams received last week McKenna was booked to meet Gorilla White at Cleveland, Monday, but evidently, there must have been a hitch in negotiations. All last night and this morning the Post was flooded with inquiries as to how Jack had got on with White but no news could be had from across the line.

Harry Meade, McKenna's new trainer says: "I like Jack. He is a clever boy and carries a punch. I hope to get a battle for him every week and in that way tune him up and polish up his boxing. Already he has a big following in Detroit, and he won the Chicago fans where he defeated Benz, who was being groomed for the title. I predict he will go far, and would not be surprised if one day he should wear the middleweight crown."

Note.—McKenna, it is rumored, will fight here in Charlottetown during the early part of May. His opponent will either be Johnny Nemis, of New Waterford, who has lately taken on considerable weight or a boxer from New York.—Sport Ed.

THE GUARANTEED OINTMENT

Eastern Guardian

..°THE SAD NEWS of the death of their daughter Amelia in Boston came to Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McPhee, Big Pond. The corpse is expected to arrive at Harmony Station Tuesday evening.

..°EARLY FARMING OPERATIONS is pretty certain this spring, and is much needed, too, as food is very scarce. At the Mooney sale recently the first ton of hay was struck down at $17.50.

..°THE ROADS, particularly the Souris Line Road is impassible and by all appearance will remain so for a while, unless an unexpected move is made to shovel the deep drifts in the lanes and on most of the steep hills, throughout the country, through woods, etc, and this work be done unless at the instance of the Government as paid work. The now scattered and small family population cannot be expected to do it even for their own convenience.

..°SOURIS LINE ROAD — The Souris Line Road South Institute held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank MacAulay. Eleven members and eleven visitors were present. The meeting opened with singing of "Ode". The minutes were read and adopted. Mrs. Allan J. McCormac and Mrs. S. J. MacAulay were appointed to visit the school next month. A paper entitled "The Unexpected Guest" was read by Miss Mary J. McCormac and found very interesting. A very dainty tea was served by the hostess. The meeting closed with singing of National Anthem and a social hour spent in music and Auction Forty-fives.

..°PRIZE WINNERS — The following won prizes in the Drawing in favor of St. Mary's Church, Montague: Mrs. M. Naddy, Newton, Centre, Piece; Miss Beatrice Grant, Montague, Silver Spoons; Miss Julia Lannan, Boston, Mass., China Tea Set; Mr. Joseph Collins, Montague, Five Dollar Gold Piece; Miss Margaret O'Donnell, Boston, Mass., Bedspread; Mr. Earl McLeod, Peakes, Five Dollar Gold Piece; Miss Mary Kennefec, Melrose, Mass., Eight Day Clock; Mr. Alphonsus Clinton, Souris, Five Dollar Gold Piece; Miss Phillis Cassidy, Winnipeg, Man., Hand Painting; Miss Bernice O'Holloran, Greenfield, Hooked Rug. The Committee wish to thank Mr. Harry McGregor, Montague for his kind assistance in deciding the lucky winners.

..°SPLENDID PROSPECTS FOR FISHING—It is several years now since there was such bright prospects for fishing as there seems to be at this time, the present spring. Unlike the past several years there is no ice in the gulf, nor has there been any solid ice for many weeks. Neither have we the cold raw north east winds, which prevaded the shores. We have warm, southerly winds, no snow and ice along the shores or on the capes to prevent working or preparing gear on the shore. Herring are sure to strike in early. In fact it is four or five years since appearances looked so good for the fishing. These factory men who have decided not to run apparently are making a big mistake. May be that seeing prospects so high, some of them may open up yet,—who knows. The only drawback seems to be the low price of lobsters, owing to competition of the Japanese Crab. Like New Zealand butter and German Browntop seed, a good stiff duty should be placed on these commodities.

Revolution In X-Ray Technique

(By British United Press)

LONDON, April 9.—A medical revolution will be brought about, it is claimed, by the use of a new form of X-rays, which has been discovered. This permits a doctor to see, say, a person's lungs "in the round" instead of "in the flat."

The principles of the cinematograph and of television have both been applied by the inventor, a German. Rotating discs with holes in them, as in television, are used, while a rapid succession of moving pictures, as in the cinema, is seen by the doctor's eye.

This steroscope which peeps into the patient has been devised only after scientists have been struggling for thirty years against the limitations of the old form of X-ray, which showed merely a dark silhouette of hidden organs.

The importance of a steroscopic view in examination of the lungs is stressed by Dr. F. Howard Humpgris who is one of the principal X-ray experts in Europe, in an article in the "Lancet," the principal medical journal, in which he announces the invention.

"Every X-ray diagnostician must have always had the feeling that there was something wanting," he writes, "and never felt satisfied with even the best steroscopic plates gave an unsatisfactory result. With this, the most flexible of all organs, a stereoscopic vision is important.

"Such an apparatus I have recently examined in Munich. Of this invention of F. E. Bornhardt I have made a careful examination, and have seen it in good working order.

"The observer views the (X-ray) screen through a mechanical device with diaphragms rotating before the eyes in synchronism with the impulses from the X-ray tubes. The result is that one eye sees the image produced by one tube and the other one eye sees the image produced by one tube and the other the image by the other tube.

"The physiological action of the brain combines these two pictures into one plastic impression. The picture appears to be continuous, as each eye is supplied with fifty pictures per second.

"Having seen this apparature when working, one may affirm that the solution of the problem of satisfactory stereo-fluoroscopy has been attained."

Other moving organs, such as the duodenum, Dr. Humphris points out, may be seen to good purpose with the new device.

Australian Athletes For Amsterdam

(By British United Press)

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 10. — Once again Australia will send her representatives many thousands of miles to take their place with the best world's athletes at the ninth Olympic Games at Amsterdam. A team of ten, comprising four track athletes, three swimmers, two wrestlers and a sculler, has been selected. It is an evidence of keenness of Australian sportsmanship, for the sending of a team to the other side of the world is a big undertaking, and expensive, the cost involved in the despatch of the present team being £10,000. Of this sum the Commonwealth Government has conditionally agreed to provide £2,000. The remainder will be subscribed publicly.

To Users Of The Farador

Dear Friends,— At the present time there is much illness in various parts of the Island, and many have passed away. This letter is to remind you of the great value of the Farador in all acute ailments such as pneumonia.

Only a few days ago I met a lady who purchased a Farador several years ago, and she informed me that it was the means of saving her son's life. The lad was very ill with pneumonia, the temperature being up to 105. She applied the Farador with hot compress over the chest. The temperature was reduced, great perspiration followed and in a few days he was quite well.

This case is by no means an isolated one. A great number of such cases have been cured by the Farador after other means had failed.

But be sure to keep the Farador in proper working order. I will gladly test all Faradors free of charge.
