ILLUSTRATED TRAFFIC LECTURE—Complete new by-laws governing Charlottetown traffic regulation framed in accordance with suggestions for a better system by Captain T. O. Leggett, head of Montreal's traffic department, will soon go into effect here. Before leaving Charlottetown after having spent a week here, Captain Leggett gave a public illustrated lecture in connection with the new traffic system which is to be adopted in Charlottetown. Smoothness of operation of the new traffic system here, depended entirely on the automobile drivers. The Montreal traffic official said. He stressed the need of observing "stop" signs and signs indicating speed limits. Parking is to be restricted on many streets to relieve congestion in business districts. Captain Leggett announced.

MADRID FACES

Unofficial reports today told of Government militiamen in Toledo to the south entering the subterranean passages honeycombing the besieged rebel garrison, the Alcazar. About 1,700 rebel men, women and children have held out in the mined fortress for eight weeks, withstanding incessant bombardment, and scoring all requests to surrender. A special appropriation of 30,000,000 pesetas (nominally $4,000,000) for the purchase of war materials and the maintenance of fighting forces was voted by the Government.

PROVINCES

be required, the Prime Minister thought but all preparations would be complete to introduce legislation when parliament meets in January.

Employment problems and League of Nations policies occupied the ministers today and announcements on appointments to the Canadian National Railway directorate and other bodies will be made later. Tomorrow council will sit morning and afternoon. Mr. Mackenzie King and his associates on the League of Nations delegation will leave Ottawa Friday evening for Geneva.

Encouraged by the outcome of similar provisions made by the United States government, the intention is to extend the Housing Act to the extent that personal loans up to $200 may be advanced to home owners without endorsement at a maximum of five per cent interest for terms up to five years.

Guarantees against losses up to 15 per cent of the total over a given period will be made by the Dominion government, the total maximum liability to be thus assumed to be fixed initially at $7,500,000—covering $50,000,000 worth of loans.

Details Revealed
Following are detailed recommendations of the commission on home rehabilitation, which the government has tentatively accepted, as contained in an official statement given out tonight:

(a) The Dominion to guarantee chartered banks and other responsible approved lending institutions against losses up to 15 per cent of the aggregate value of loans made by each such institution for the financing of repairs and improvements of all kinds of dwellings:

(b) The limit of the aggregate loans to be $50,000,000 and the limit of the government risk therefore $7,500,000;

(c) The government to retain the right to announce at any time that no further loans will be guaranteed for all lending institutions or for a particular one;

(d) The government administration action to be limited to accepting and recording loans for guarantee; receiving claims and paying them;

(e) The conditions which the lending institutions will have to meet to obtain the government guarantee to be:

(1) Maximum loans on one property, $2,000.

(2) Loans to bear not more than five per cent discount rate repayable in equal monthly instalments over one year or a pro rata discount rate for other periods. No service or insurance charges nor any additional charges of any kind except as provided for arrears.

(3) Duration of loans; one to five years.

(4) Loans to be used solely for rehabilitating and improving existing real property by the borrower. Not for building on vacant land. Fixtures but not removable attachments or appliances to be considered as improvements.

(5) No endorsements to be required.

Official Statement
The official statement, covering the two new policies outlined, care of the single homeless adults coupled with housing and rehabilitation of rural and urban dwellings, was in part, as follows:

The Dominion government has decided to adopt a broad policy for this winter of offering to share on an equal basis with individual provinces in the cost of such plans as can be worked out in conjunction with the provinces for the purpose of absorbing in primary production industries all physically fit single homeless adults.

"Conditions attached to this policy will require that it be applied in such manner as will result in giving the maximum of employment at the minimum expense and that the provinces make a determined effort to abolish direct relief for this class of relief recipient for the period of such assistance. Wages under the plans will be related to the prevailing normal rate for corresponding work in the area in question.

ments, said: Singling out a group of Italian Fascists who are officially attending the convention, Streicher greeted them with special words of praise and declared that Germany year after year has raised its voice against Bolshevism.

(Nuremberg throughout the convention has been paraded with signs labelling Bolshevism "world enemy No. 1.")

Await Government Stand
LONDON, Sept. 9.—Chancellor Hitler's demand for the return of Germany's colonies, expressed in his proclamation to the Nazi party conference at Nuremberg today, gave point to recent agitation in certain political quarters for a firm government declaration on the colonial question.

A strong demand exists, observers said, in the ranks of the Conservative party for a definite government stand against the transfer of mandated territories.

The whole subject is to be fully debated at the annual conference of the Conservative party which opens at Margate Sept. 2, it was announced.

Former Colonies
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Germany's former colonies, whose return Hitler today demanded at the Nuremberg assemblage of 800,000 Nazis, are almost six times the area of post-war Germany.

They are: German East Africa 370,000 square miles, Belgian and British mandate; German S. W. Africa 220,000 square miles, Union of South Africa; Cameroon in Africa, 365,000 square miles, French and British mandate; Togoland in Africa, 34,439 square miles, French and British mandate; Caroline Islands in Pacific 500 square miles, Japanese mandate; Kiaochow in Shantung, China, 200 square miles, Japanese mandate; Marshall Islands in Pacific, 158 square miles, Japanese mandate; Maui Island in Pacific 81-2 square miles, British mandate; New Guinea in Pacific, 93,000 square miles, Australian mandate; German Samoa in Pacific 1,320 square miles, New Zealand mandate; total 1,127,005 1-2 square miles.

They rolls of a number of those who really do not wish to work, with a monetary saving as a corollary.

4. The improvement of displaced farm properties through the work of helpers who will be taken on to the farms.

5. A measure of relief to those drought areas which have been especially affected.

6. The creation of a situation gradually leading up to the abolishing of relief for physically fit single adults in the provinces in which it is applicable.

"Realizing that a large group, not indeed by far the largest individual group, of the employable unemployed is connected with the construction industry, government, acting in accord with the recommendation of the national employment commission, has adopted a broad policy for the purpose of stimulating construction activity in the housing field. The problem is being attacked on three main fronts:

(1) The restoration and modernization of existing dwelling units both in urban and rural districts.

(2) The construction of new houses and dwelling units in urban areas which can be made available at sufficiently low rentals to serve the lesser income groups—associated in some cases with slum clearance.

(3) The construction of new houses for those whose income is inadequate only when convenient financial arrangements for purchase are made available to them.
