Famous Britishers Celebrate Important Anniversaries

(Special to The Guardian.)
 LONDON, June 26.—Today was a notable occasion for two men long famous in Britain. The Duke of Connaught, former Governor General of Canada, celebrated the 60th anniversary of his entry into the army by entertaining the members of the Army Council.

The Duke, who recently observed his 78th birthday, enjoys wonderful health, and fulfills a constant series of public and social engagements although he has eliminated evening engagements.

In the international horse ring at Olympia, London, today, the Prince of Wales presented Lord Lonsdale, the Empire's "Prime Minister of Sports," with a gift from all the world, commemorating his golden wedding. The gift to the Peer who is perhaps most known for his love of the turf, comprised a golden casket with eight panels representing hunting, flat racing, steeple chasing, coursing, boxing, shooting, staking and yachting.

The subscribers included all classes from laborers to millionaires and their contributions ranged from 25 cents to $500. The big balance left after purchase of the gift is being devoted by Lord and Lady Lonsdale to charities. The actual anniversary of the wedding occurred tomorrow, and the dinner party to be given by the couple will be attended by the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles.

This will be the first time that their Majesties will witness a car race entertainment such as will be given at the party. Many handsome gifts come from the many tenants on Lord Lonsdale's estate at Penrith, his holdings totalling 175,000 acres.

WOODLEY LLEWELLYN

At Sturgeon on the afternoon of May 6th, Woodley Llewellyn, in the 85th year of his age, answered the call to rest that awaits the people of God. Although he had been ill for a short time, his death came as a shock to his family and friends. He was a kind and loving husband and father, and his presence is greatly missed in the home, especially by his aged widow as he was always a home-loving man. He was a good neighbor, and held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a faithful member of the Methodist church, and always filled his place when health permitted him, trusting wholly in his Redeemer. He reared a family of nine children, some of whom have gone before him. Mrs. Andrew Lavers, Miss Susan Llewellyn and Mrs. John A. Collins. Besides his aged widow, for whom sympathy is felt, are the following: Mrs. Nat. Westaway, Albion, who is an invalid, keeping her bed for the last ten years; Mrs. Albert Young, Attleboro, Mass., who spent the winter months with her parents, and Mrs. Lem. Hicken, Pembroke, Frederic, in Halifax. Richard on Whim Road, and Woodley in Denver, Colo., and his nephew, John R. Lavers, on the home-stead. Besides his wife and family, there are left to mourn 31 grandchildren and 32 great grand children. Rev. Mr. Pierce, pastor of the United Church, Sturgeon, officiated beautifully, speaking from 107th Psalm, being requested to do so by deceased before his death. The pallbearers were six nephews: Richard Llewellyn, Jr., Temple Llewellyn, Herman Westaway, Lloyd Collins, John Collins and Willard Collins. When the evening shades are falling, and I am sitting all alone, To my heart there comes a longing

She Could Not Work HEADACHES Were So Severe

Mrs. A. Biall, Barstall, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe headaches, and sometimes I could not do my work."

"One day a friend told me about and advised me to give it a trial. I decided to do so, and after taking a few bottles I found it had done me a world of good, and I haven't had any headaches for a long time now."

Canadians Make Good Scores

BISLEY CAMP, England, June 26.—The team of Canadians here to participate in the National Rifle Association's Empire Shooting Tournament, despite varying weather conditions, have compiled satisfactory scores in practice. Having completed tests over the shorter stages they are concentrating on the long distance targets. They are being coached by the veteran marksman, Captain Alec Martin, formerly of Calgary, who annually joins the team on its arrival in England.

AN ORGY OF EXPENDITURE

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
 OTTAWA, June 25, 1928.—On four different occasions upon going into supply, the Opposition moved votes of want of confidence, not with the hope of defeating the Government, because only on one occasion did they have the support of the independent groups, but to place the members definitely on record in respect of important matters. The last was moved on the Saturday preceding the session, taking occasion to criticize unparliamentarily the tendency of the Government towards excessive expenditure. He quoted largely from the estimates and Public Accounts in support of his motion of censure, taking occasion to marshal former arguments and placing the whole situation in a very complete and precise form. It was a very able effort. The effect of his remarks was that this orgy of expenditure, together with the present rage for speculation, was bound to have a disastrous result sooner or later, and he warned the government and the country that it was time to call a halt. The Hon. Mr. Robb, in reply, took what might be regarded as an optimistic view of the situation, and he also quoted a great many figures about the prosperity of the country. His idea was, evidently the old one once expressed by Sir Charles Tupper, senior, though not original with him, that when the trade winds of finance were favorable, it was time to clap on all sail. While he professed to believe in economy in all matters, yet a young and expanding country he claimed needed money and still more money to be expended and a government that did not provide the money to carry on accordingly would be truthfully regarded as falling down on the job. The fighting spirit that was aroused during the last session was kept up to the last minute, and it looked for a time as though His Excellency would have to go to Government House and return another day.

CABLE HEAD WEST

A very successful Concert was staged in Cable Head West School on Friday night, June 8, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, and despite the inclemency of the weather the Schoolroom was filled to its utmost capacity. Mr. Leslie McLaren ably assisted by Chairman and the following program was carried out.

Instrumental Selections (encored) Miss Minnie Chasson.
 Song "Sing Me To Sleep." (encore) "Jack and J." Mrs. Jasper McLaren, accompanied by M. Chaisson.
 Dialogue, "Flea Powder," Miss Laura Simmons, Messrs Leith Sanders and Ira McLaren.
 Chorus: "Mother," School Children, accompanied by M. Chaisson.
 Dialogue: "Getting Rid of an Agent," Mrs. Jasper McLaren, Mrs. William A. McLaren, Miss Beth Rattray, and Mr. Victor McLaren.
 Song: "In the Garden of My Heart," (encore) "Dawn of Tomorrow," Miss Minnie Chasson, accompanied by Mrs. John M. Lasher.
 Dialogue: "Courtship Under Difficulties," Miss M. Chaisson, Messrs Leslie McLaren, and Leith Sanders.
 Song and Drill: "Canada East and West," School Children, accompanied by M. Chaisson.

Instrumental Selections. Mr. Harry McEwen, accompanied by Miss Minnie Chasson.
 The lucky ticket for Auto Robbery was drawn the winner being Mr. Wilfred McLaren, Cable Head West.
 Ice Cream and other refreshments were sold during the evening. The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close this very enjoyable Concert.
 The proceeds will go towards improving the schoolroom.

Lord Plumer Will Resign

(Special to The Guardian.)
 LONDON, June 26.—Field Marshal Lord Plumer will shortly vacate the High Commissioner'ship of Palestine, which he has held since 1925. The Daily Express says today that the retirement will be brought about by Lord Plumer's differences with the British Colonial Office over the division of the cost of the Trans-Jordan force as between the British

That Car Of Yours
 By WILLIAM ULLMAN
 Hear-to-Hear Talks With Automobile Owners and Drivers How to Get the Most Out of Their Cars at the Least Expense.

BREAKING IN NEW BRAKES
 Many re-lined brakes suffer great wear during the first few miles of service after they come out of the shop because they are not given the desire to give them a thorough test. The test idea is all right but the point is that it often is entirely too vigorous. The linings may not have had a chance to get set properly; there may be high or low spots on band or drum which will mean inequality in brake application with consequent uneven wear. It is a good plan to work in the new linings gradually.

THAT FIVE GALLON HABIT

Filling stations report that a large majority of car owners still have the "five gallon habit" that is, that they buy gasoline regularly five gallons at a time. Many motorists, however, have gotten away from this practice. They find that filling the tank is a big time saver, an assurance against running out of gas, and provides excellent ballast at the rear of the car. These advantages are at least worth considering.

ROLLING SPEED VARIES
 Among those car owners who realize that the car has a rolling speed, a pace at which it consumes the least amount of gasoline, there are many who sacrifice the advantage to be gained thereby by failing to realize that conditions create variations in this speed. For instance, it is related to tire pressure, engine condition, the weather, and several other factors. If the car is running into a head-wind, its rolling speed will be higher. It is a matter of "feel."

"ANYWHERE" WILL NOT DO
 There is something snappy about these roadsters when the top is removed. By the same token, there is something very costly about the way the top is treated after it has been taken off. It is not wise to leave the top "just anywhere" about the garage. First it should be folded properly. Then it should be stored away in a clean, dry, cool spot until it is needed again.

LEAKS AS WELL AS BURNS
 Many an automobile gets a reputation with its owner as being an oil burner when such a reputation is fully unjustified. Much of the oil that some motorists assume to be burned is lost through leakage due to looseness around the crankcase, gasket breaks, and the like. When oil performance is bad this should be considered as a possible cause. There are several gears, bushings, gaskets and other units that permit the escape of oil unless they are tightened periodically. If oil drips from the engine, when it is done, just after being parked after a long drive, look for a leak.

IT IS SO UNNECESSARY
 Driving into the rising or setting sun, many motorists are forced to lean out the side of the car to see ahead of them. The dirt on the windshield, reflecting and deflecting the sun's rays, makes any other procedure unnecessary. The way out of the difficulty is simple. A soft cloth carried in the car will assure a dust-free windshield in a minute. It is a gesture that means safety.

LET THERE BE LIGHT
 Glare is not the only defect of which headlights are guilty and the motorist can check the accuracy of this first dark night. Safety advocates are pointing out on an increasing scale these days that there are tens of thousands of headlights that fail to give sufficient light for accidentless driving. Rusted and dirty reflectors, cracked lenses, poor connections, defective wiring, run down batteries, and other causes are responsible. Inadequate light requires a check-up of many features. It is worth it.

BAPTIST CONVENTION IN TORONTO
 TORONTO, June 26.—Many eulogistic but sincere testimonies and tributes to the immortality, genius and far-reaching influence of John Bunyan were made by speakers at last night's session of the fourth congress of the Baptist World Alliance in Congress Hall, Canadian National Exhibition Grounds, the session being devoted to the "Bunyan Tercentenary."

Addresses were based on the life and works of the "Bedford Tinker" while a fitting climax to the evening proceedings was the announcement by Rev. George W. Truett, of the presentation of a Bunyan memorial window by the 12,000,000 Baptists scattered around the encircling globe to the new McMaster University.

In announcing the presentation of the memorial window of John Bunyan, Dr. Truett stated that acting in behalf of 12,000,000 Baptists throughout the world, he was there to offer to their fellow Baptists of Canada as a slight token of their affectionate appreciation of that group the memorial which would be placed in the "Valhalla of Canadian Baptist Institutions"—McMaster University, Replying in behalf of his colleagues on the Board of Governors and the Baptists of the Dominion Chancellor H. P. Whidden, of McMaster University, acknowledged the gift with "sincere gratitude" the gift.

HOW TO SEND IN YOUR ENTRIES

Here we give the eighth and final set in this competition. Solve the last six pictures and prepare to send us your entry. Make a special point of reading the solving rules.

- Solve the last six pictures and write your solutions in ink in the spaces underneath. We have already published a full list of Towns and Villages. Every name used is somewhere in that list.
- Sign the coupon attached to set No. 8. Then collect the 7 previous picture sets, see that all your solutions are filled in in ink under the pictures, place the sets in order and pin them together.
- Next make an exact copy of all your solutions and keep it as you will need it when the solutions are published.
- Enclose the complete entry in an envelope addressed to:—
THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN
 (Picture Puzzle Competition)
 (Charlottetown, P. E. Island.)

On the back of the envelope you must write your surname and initials and town in block letters.

You will be disqualified if you omit this.

(Any number of efforts may be enclosed in one envelope, provided they all bear the entrant's name.)

5. Post your entry so as to reach us not later than Saturday, July 14th, 1928.

IMPORTANT—As soon as we have all entries under seal, the Editor's correct solution will be published, and claims will be called for. Full details as to claiming will be given with the official solution.

RULES WHICH MUST BE STRICTLY ADHERED TO:

All solutions must be written in ink. Competitors may submit any number of attempts provided that each answer is written upon a separate coupon.

Only complete series of pictures—i. e., Sets Nos. 1-8 inclusive—for each attempt will be accepted. Incomplete sets will be disqualified.

Mutilated, altered or alternative solutions will be disqualified. No responsibility can be taken for delay or loss in the post or otherwise. Proof of posting cannot be accepted as proof of delivery.

No correspondence can be allowed. Entries can only be accepted on condition that the Editor's decision is final and legally binding.

In the case of a tie the Editor reserves the right to divide the prizes as he thinks fit.
