It's kind to the hands—

Three times a day your hands may go into the rich harmless Sunlight suds, and never be made red and rough or sore. Sunlight Soap is a blend of the pure cleansing oils of the cocoanut and the palm, the same grade as used in pure toilet soaps. Its great cleansing power, and absolute purity, make Sunlight particularly suitable for dish washing.

SWEDISH WORKERS GO BACK TO FARMING
STOCKHOLM, June 23.—Sweden's "back to the soil" movement, started to turn certain unused lands to agricultural production and at the same time to provide farms for the excess of industrial workers who had difficulty in finding employment when the war boom ended, has already resulted in a number of new and successful farming colonies, according to the Stockholm newspapers. A typical case which illustrates how men without jobs have been transformed into proprietors of forty-acre farms, with home, live stock, implements, etc., is seen in workers who had difficulty in finding employment when the war boom ended, has already resulted in a number of new and successful farming colonies, according to the Stockholm newspapers. U. S. CONTINUES TO SWELTER IN THE HEAT WAVE

NEW YORK, June 23.—With more than forty deaths and scores of prostrations reported in the Eastern States and with seventeen known dead and many prostrations reported in the midwestern States the United States continued today to swelter in the heat wave which has become almost general. Schools and factories throughout the Eastern States were closed today and in many cities, city employees were given their liberty. Philadelphia reported the hottest June day in the history of its weather bureau when the temperature mounted to 99 degrees while it reached 95 in Providence, the warmest spot in the New England States. While the death toll in New York was larger today the temperature was two degrees below that of yesterday when it reached 93. Freshening northeast winds tonight brought some relief. Mayor Hylan issued a formal order today opening parks and beaches as sleeping places for the public. Fourteen deaths had been reported today in New York as directly attributed to the heat. Boston reported a dozen deaths and many prostrations. Schools were closed and many industries shut up throughout the New England States. Lawrence, Salem and Somerville were points where the factories closed. In Boston the fire department was called out to water the streets and provide showers for poor children in the crowded city districts. It was purchased by the Private Homes Commission and divided up into ten farms. Three tenant families of the estate were put into possession of a parcel each on condition that they serve as leaders and instructors of the other seven colonists, who were selected from the super-numeraries of the cutlery works at Eskilstuna. Each farm had a cottage, and the commission further provided each colonist with one horse, two cows, a number of hens, chickens, etc. Each farm had 20 acres or more of forest, which it is expected will be conserved and made productive. The average cost of the land was $1,800 for each farm, and the cost of the improvements when completed will average about $1,300. The financing was done by the Private Homes Commission out of public funds appropriated for the purpose. Each farmstead carries a mortgage, but the interest is low and the terms of payment easy.

SAILS FOR N. S.—The schooner "White Bird," Captain Jerrior, sailed from Montague on Wednesday for New Glasgow, N.S., with potatoes loaded by McLeod & McGregor. 2497-23-31

WELCOME HOME.—It looks like old times in Montague to see Mr. Horatio Nelson back to the town again after spending the winter in Boston. Mr. Nelson has long been one of Montague's most prominent citizens, and his return at this time is most opportune, the approach of an election. It is to be hoped that we will again have the pleasure of hearing him speak from the public platform, and with his usual eloquence, on the important political issues of the day. J

LOADED POTATOES.—The schooner "Charlotte M." Captain Fitzgerald, cleared from the port of Montague a few days ago with a cargo of potatoes for Sydney, loaded by Mr. M. C. McGowan. This vessel was built in Cardigan a few years ago, and is owned by the captain. She is a splendid looking craft, built on a beautiful keel, and is more like a yacht than a coasting vessel. After a return trip with coal, if not too late, this vessel will load another cargo of produce. J

SERVICES APPRECIATED.—The congregation of the Montague Presbyterian Church, have every reason to feel grateful to Mrs. J. J. Stewart and her sister, Miss Jennie Sutherland, both of Charlottetown, for the high class assistance they rendered to the musical part of the services in their church on Sunday last. Not only did Mrs. Stewart act as organist for the day, but she also sang two solos, and with her sister, Miss Jennie, a duet with splendid results. We are sure that no one envies these two sisters their gift, both of whom were formerly residents of Montague, and while the younger one, Miss Jennie, is now to us in the musical line, Mrs. Stewart has always been an evergreen in the display of her musical talent. The singing on the whole in this church on this occasion was without a doubt the best ever heard in Montague. It must have been a pleasant surprise to Rev. J. C. Martin, Pastor, and the choir, to have a visitor to Montague, and who so ably conducted the services, as he certainly didn't expect that in a little town like Montague such a rare musical treat was in store for him. ACTORS MAY ENTER BY WAY OF THE ACTORS MAY ENTER BY WAY OF THE... Mr. Crabtree says he never gave a dollar side of the ring or through a stage entrance facing the stage. This gives great freedom of movement and keeps the audience in great uncertainty. It makes the audience almost a part of the performance. But in scenes where there are only a few persons on the stage the picture is lost in the vastness of the cavernous building, with its maze of steps and platforms and scenery which resembles problems in solid geometry.

PERSONALS

Master Leland, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nelson, of Montague, whose illness was already reported, has much improved and hopes in about a week to be almost fully recovered. The serious illness is reported of Mr. William McLaren, a farmer living on the borders of Montague. Mr. McLaren is upwards of eighty years of age, and this is the first time the services of a doctor were required for him. His recovery is greatly looked forward to. J

FREE TRADE IN LAND RESTORED IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, June 23.—The last remaining fragment of the Lloyd George "revolutionary budget" of 1919 was tipped out of the statute books last night by an amendment to the Finance Bill repealing the clauses upon which the present system of registration of land values when property is transferred depended. The Opposition claims the Government broke the understanding when obviously the real fault lies with the Opposition in this matter. The clause then passed upon a free vote of the House. The measure was unpopular with landowners and it is said that it will take years to destroy these property valuations. The measure and the department which it created were never popular because it provided a check on prices demanded when land was sold. In future unless the bill is amended at the report assistant crown prosecutor. In mentioning the name of Sir William Staver, he stated that he did so unhesitatingly because he had received the Governor's signature prohibiting the manufacture at state of such milk. The bill was strongly supported by the dairy farm interests of the State.

GREAT BERLIN THEATRE FAILS AS CLASSIC STAGE

BERLIN, June 23.—Max Reinhardt's dream of a theatre where the classics could be placed before a new generation of five thousand has been realized, tried for several years and pronounced a failure by the Berlin critics and public. That is, it has been pronounced unsatisfactory for productions where the spoken word must be heard. The production of "King Lear," which Werner Krauss recently offered in the Grosses Schauspielhaus, is shortly to close and Reinhardt is converted to musical comedy. Werner Krauss managed to make himself heard throughout the great auditorium without apparent effort, but some of the members of his cast were less successful. It has been so with all the Shakespearean productions. But in plays like "Julius Caesar" and Roland's "Danton," both of which had great mob scenes, there was a single episode so stirring and so well adapted to the immense auditorium and its expanse of stage and steps and arena that productions had long runs regardless of the inability of auditors to hear all the lines. The Grosses Schauspielhaus resembles a grotto, it is similar to the dome in the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky where Edwin Booth recited the soliloquy from "Hamlet" and Jenny Lind sang. The interior of the theatre is entirely in plain concrete color and is decorated with stalactites not unlike those in the Kentucky Cavern. The theatre is really a stables under roof, a sort of bull-ring adapted to theatrical purposes.
