IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MARY PATTERSON

Mrs. Mary Patterson, a life-long resident of Prince Edward Island, passed peacefully away at her residence, 17 King's Square, on Wednesday morning.

Despite her advanced years, Mrs. Patterson had always enjoyed excellent health until a few months ago when she became ill. Since that time she has been confined to her bed, and although rallying from time to time, she gradually grew weaker until the end came.

Born in DeSable, the daughter of the late John Currie and his wife, Isabelle MacKay, she lived there with her family during the earlier part of her life. She received her primary education at the DeSable Grammar School and later graduated as a school-teacher, which profession she followed for a number of years. In April, 1886, she was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Patterson of North River, who predeceased her by twenty-six years.

For over a quarter of a century Mrs. Patterson has been a resident of Charlottetown.

The late Mrs. Patterson possessed a fine, cultured personality which won for her a large circle of friends. She was amiable, gentle and sympathetic in her disposition, ever seeking the welfare of others at the expense of herself. Early in life she attached herself to the Christian Church and to the very end maintained a keen interest in the welfare of the Church at home and abroad. Since taking up her residence in Charlottetown she has been a faithful and devoted member of Zion Presbyterian congregation.

There are left to mourn one sister, Mrs. Hannah Farrow, Hampton, and one brother, Mr. D. K. Currie, of Charlottetown. Besides nephews and other relatives who also share the loss.

The funeral service will be held from the MacLean Funeral Home on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock and will be conducted by her minister, Rev. G. Carlyle Webster. Interment will be made in Clyde River Cemetery.

MRS. WILFRED WOODSIDE

The death occurred in Summerside on Tuesday, Jan. 28th at the early age of 21 years of Mrs. Wilfred Woodside, beloved wife of Wilfred E. Woodside of this town.

The deceased had been ill only one week during which time loving hands ministered to her needs and comfort and medical skill endeavored to stay the progress of the malady which had held her and terminated fatally on Tuesday evening, Jan. 28th.

The deceased was formerly Miss Miriam Montgomery of Traveller's Rest, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talmage Montgomery of that place.

She leaves to mourn, besides her sorrowing husband and parents, one daughter Norma, age 3 years; also one brother Milton at home and one sister, Mrs. Floyd Caseley, Wilmet, P. E. I.

The funeral, which was held on Friday, Jan. 31st at her late residence on Notre Dame St. was largely attended.

A short service was conducted at the house by the Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson of North Bedouque, assisted by the Rev. L. E. G. Davies of Summerside. The male quartet consisting of Wright, Bentley, Slackford and Sharpe rendered beautifully "Abide With Me" while the United Church Choir sang two favorite hymns of the deceased.

"Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Nearer My God To Thee."

At the conclusion of the house service, the funeral procession followed the remains to the People's Cemetery, where the solemn service was conducted by the Rev. L. E. G. Davies and the deceased laid to rest. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Donald and Al Schurman, Floyd Caseley, Frank Woodside, David Urch and Wm. Cannon.—S.

Will Enter Plea of Temporary Insanity

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Feb. 4.—(C. P. Cable)—A plea of "temporary insanity" was entered in circuit court today on behalf of Guy Armstrong, trial on two charges of murder arising from a disturbance in his store at Mandeville Oct. 4.

N. W. Manley, defending the prisoner, called doctors to the stand in an effort to prove the Canadian war veteran was not in his right mind when he shot and killed Benjamin Thompson and fatally wounded Daniel Malcolm.

Armstrong was under medical care during the four months he spent in jail here.

Thompson was shot when he resisted ejection from the Canadian store, Malcolm, who tried to calm Armstrong after the alleged murder, went down next with a bullet in his body and died four days later.

Armstrong, 43 years old, served in the great war from 1915 until 1917 as a lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps. For more than a year before the war ended he was held prisoner in German camp.

Married in England in 1919, he returned to Canada and worked as both a mechanical engineer and an electrical engineer. He came to Jamaica in 1929 for his health and later went into business at Mandeville. His mother resides at 24 St. Joseph Street, Toronto.

NICE FUR GLOVES?
 "AW, RATS!" SAYS N. B. PIED PIPER

(By The Canadian Press)

SAINTE JOHN, N. B., Feb. 3—The ladies may not like it but George Hawton says that selling the pelts is a profitable sideline or rat exterminating, and the fur of many feminine gloves once covered ordinary rats of the cellar and sewer variety.

"I sold over 800 skins last year," said Hawton. "For one thing, they make gloves out of rat skins. You can't tell them from mole skin when they're treated. A pair of rat skin gloves will set you back 20 shillings or so in the Old Country, and bring about $5 in the United States.

"Then they make fishing flies out of the white belly parts of the skins. They even make coats out of the belly part—very fine ones. I ship the pelts to Montreal. When rat skins are tanned they are very strong. They'll last for years.

"It just depends," said Hawton when asked how much he received per skin. "It's all according to the condition of the pelt. Some bring 11 cents, some 15 cents, some as high as 20 cents. You skin them like you would a rabbit. I can skin a rat in a couple of seconds.

"Handling them doesn't bother me at all. It's never made me sick. Handling a rat is the same as handling anything else. It's just imagination that makes people dread them. Of course, a rat carries a lot of diseases—a lot of germs—but I put them through steam before I handle them. I work with gloves and put them over a bottle for a while before I skin them."

"Pide the Piper," as he designates himself, says proudly that he bagged more than 2,000 rats in 1935. His weapon is a poison which he claims was concocted by him and a German sailor while they were at sea on a square-rigger.

"We were pestered with rats on that ship," he related. "This German fellow and I got together and mixed this stuff up and in a week there wasn't anything but powder left of the rats."

Hawton said he possessed papers as a ship's engineer, had served overseas, was gassed and wounded in France and later saw service as second engineer on a fishing trawler used as a mine sweeper.

After the war he became a rat exterminator more or less by accident, he said. A friend's store was infested by rats. Hawton "fixed" them. The word spread and other demands for his services were made.

Purple Trend For Mourning

(By The Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Feb. 4—Without suggestion from fashion sources Toronto women have added purple, the mourning color for royalty, to their black costumes. Many have chosen a simple type of ribbon and others have pinned velvet to their fur collars. Purple hats with a bunch of violets are being worn.

Viewing a large group of women at some of Toronto's downtown restaurants, one is suddenly aware of this addition of purple to the costumes. Instead of the usual general black but brown color impression which one gets of a crowd in winter garb, the rich depth of the purple tones stood out in striking contrast to the general tone of black and extremely dark colors.

Some of the Toronto shops, commenting on the fact that orders for all-black gowns and purple hats had been received and filed, said no definite preparations for service to customers had been thought of. There has been a demand for dark purple felt hats of the conventional, brimmed, English type.

On the other hand, apparently the demand for purple ties for men has required large orders for them being put through the manufacturers.

CROW BANDING TO AID DESTRUCTION

SASKATOON, Feb. 2—(C.P.)—Fries for killing specially banded crows to encourage slaughter of the destructive birds have been proposed by the Saskatchewan government by the Fish and Game League.

The plan would place a bounty of from $25 to $50 on banded birds. A number of crows would be captured, banded, and released in various parts of the province. Each band would be numbered; lucky hunters retaining the bands until July 15 when there would be a draw to determine the amount to go to each.

It is believed thousands of unbanded crows would be killed in the effort to get those with the bands.

Ice Conditions Cause Fuel Shortage

BOSTON, Feb. 4—(A.P.)—The Boston Chamber of Commerce asked President Roosevelt tonight to order Government ice breakers into the Buzzards Bay area to avert a "shortage of fuel."

It asked the secretaries of war and navy in similar telegrams to dispatch aid to the coast guard cutter that have been struggling to keep open the Cape Cod Canal and other ice-choked waterways.

The Maritime Division of the Chamber telegraphed the three executives that 14 tankers are caught in the ice blockade.

"Unless emergency measures are taken," the message said, "the Boston area will be hit by lack of fuel."

Today the coast guard will send three cutters and a patrol boat to make another onslaught on the ice seal that has been laid on Buzzards Bay.

Nantuxet Island, cut off from Cape Cod by ice, was visited by planes on three different missions, some carried bread and other foodstuffs. A coast guard plane dropped the first mail in three days.

The Stone Horse lightship, stationed near Chatham, forced four miles from its post by heavy ice formations, made its way back to its proper position tonight. The lightship has a crew of eight and is commanded by Captain C. C. Nickerson.

PUPS GET MUMPS FROM HOUSE CAT

ROULEAU, Sask., Feb. 3—First it was the children, then the grown-ups and then the cats. Now the pups have caught mumps. Five puppies contracted the disease from a cat and died of strangulation according to a doctor's diagnosis.

The five pups came into the world recently in a Rouleau home. With the mother they were taken into the kitchen to be kept from freezing during the long sub-zero weather period.

The house cat had a bad case of mumps and was moping around. From this cat the pups contracted the mumps. Their throats became so badly swollen that they could not eat, and strangulation followed.

BUSY CUPID

Cupid is winning in his battle with depression. Marriages are on the boom in England. Eight persons are marrying for every seven a year ago. Men and women are both marrying younger. Widows are remarrying at the rate of 10,000 a year.

With more than 2,000 brides and bridegrooms going to the altar daily sociologists believe that the improvement is due to improved industrial conditions and better housing facilities. This latter consideration no longer provides the obstacle that it did a few years ago. Anyone with a reasonably certain job can find means of financing a small house instead of living with the "in-laws."

A modern tendency, however, is for wives to hold positions longer than hitherto. In some cases they earn nearly as much as their husbands. The feeling is that a little nest egg built up today will come in handy in future years. This tendency to go on working has one bad feature in that it is causing a fall in the birth-rate.

Stories of the colourful gathering of pilgrims at Jerusalem for the Christmas services and festivities make mention of Paletinian Boy Scouts in the well known dress, except for a flowing turban. The boys acted as guides, and in other ways made themselves useful to the throng of visitors.

Official announcement has been made by the International Committee of the Boy Scouts Association of the institution of a new world-wide Scout decoration, the "Bronze Wolf." The new award is somewhat similar in form to the "Silver Wolf" of the British Empire; the ribbon is dark green with a narrow edging of yellow. The International Committee for new decorations will be awarded by exceptional services to world Scouting.

WE SHARE THE TAX BURDEN

THE problems of taxation seem to loom in our present-day economic structure, more and more prominently. Everyone capable of paying taxes is called upon to share this increasing burden for the general welfare of our citizens.

During the last ten years the tax burden of your local electric company has increased by leaps and bounds. In 1935, our total tax bill was nearly 400 per cent higher than in 1926. During this same period, the book cost of our property has increased less than 100 per cent.

CHARLOTTETOWN'S LARGEST TAXPAYER

Last year, this company paid out in direct taxes about 8 cents out of every dollar it received. The tax bill we paid to the City of Charlottetown in 1935 represented nearly 7 per cent of the total taxes assessed by the City on all Real Estate and Personal Property. It is equivalent to approximately $1 for every man, woman and child in this city. We are Charlottetown's largest taxpayer.

This is the fifth in a series of neighborly talks about your local electric company. Another important message for our friends and customers will appear in this newspaper soon.

WE SHARE THE TAX BURDEN

THE problems of taxation seem to loom in our present-day economic structure, more and more prominently. Everyone capable of paying taxes is called upon to share this increasing burden for the general welfare of our citizens.

During the last ten years the tax burden of your local electric company has increased by leaps and bounds. In 1935, our total tax bill was nearly 400 per cent higher than in 1926. During this same period, the book cost of our property has increased less than 100 per cent.

CHARLOTTETOWN'S LARGEST TAXPAYER

Last year, this company paid out in direct taxes about 8 cents out of every dollar it received. The tax bill we paid to the City of Charlottetown in 1935 represented nearly 7 per cent of the total taxes assessed by the City on all Real Estate and Personal Property. It is equivalent to approximately $1 for every man, woman and child in this city. We are Charlottetown's largest taxpayer.

This is the fifth in a series of neighborly talks about your local electric company. Another important message for our friends and customers will appear in this newspaper soon.
