BLACK AND WHITE

Colored Miner Weds the Girl With Whom He Eloped

The ending of the love story of a black man and a white girl was foreshadowed at the London Sessions when a good-looking young man of color, named George Wilson, pleaded guilty to causing bodily harm to David Davies. For a long time, said Mr. Macdonald (for the prosecution) the two men had worked side by side. Then Wilson fell in love with Davies' daughter, a girl of eighteen. Her stepmother was in favor of the match, but nothing could persuade the father to give his consent. The lovers eloped and went to London, where Wilson went to a registry office, and paid the necessary fees. Before the wedding had taken place, however, the girl's father followed in pursuit, and, having obtained their address from his wife, he discovered the couple at an hotel in Hartmersmith, from which the marriage was to have taken place. There was a scene, and Wilson, in a fit of temper, struck "the typical old Welshman" on the jaw, which was fractured. Prior to the elopement, added counsel, the girl was warned that marriage would result in her being turned from home, but she was still determined to marry the man she loved. The marriage would now take place as soon as possible--probably next day, for the father had withdrawn his objection. At first he was heart-broken, but he had told counsel that he had a vision. "The Lord appeared to me last night," he said, "and told me to behave in a Christianlike way to this girl and man, and to forgive him, although he is black."

Spring Dress Colors You Should See Them

You can secure some splendid suggestions from the New DY-O-LA Shaded Color Card, which your Druggist or Dealer has just received from the Manufacturers of DY-O-LA. He will be pleased to show it to you. It gives a variety of shades, from the lightest tint to the deepest Dyeing of Reds, Green, Blues, Browns, Purples, Pinks, and Grays. Just drop into the nearest store when you are passing, and don't forget to ask him for one of the handy little DY-O-LA Booklets. They give in a very concise form the results that Professional Dyers have been long in acquiring. Should he happen to be out of these little Booklets, don't hesitate to drop a Post Card to the Manufacturers of DY-O-LA, The Johnson-Richardson Co., Limited, Box 1240, Montreal, Can. DY-O-LA is the Dye that makes Old Clothes look "Just like New" not giving them the appearance of "Dyed-over-Goods" which other Dyes do.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

Children's frocks are never fussy if the mother has good taste. American children are noted for the plainness and attractive simplicity of their dresses and coats. As wash materials are generally used they are always fresh and clean as well. If dark materials are used, a bright ribbon on the hair or at the throat gives the required bit of color and is a becoming note.

No. 7867 is a long-waisted dress for a child of from 8 to 14; it shows a blouse with an adjustable shield, sailor collar and full length sleeve; the skirt is a four-piece design attached to a separate underwaist.

As plain linen is so popular just now, this dress would be an excellent model for a plain white or colored linen; the collar, cuffs and straight stitched belt could be of a contrasting color and material if desired.

For a skirt of 12 this pattern requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes; 8, 10, 12 and 14.

This is a Perfect Pattern. Be sure to give right size, passing the tape around the fullest part of the breast well up under the arms. It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin, to the Pattern Department of this paper.

WEATHER WISDOM

Strips of seaweed--provided that they are not kept in a room warmed artificially--will keep dry and have a dusty feeling in fine weather; but, with an increase of moisture in the atmosphere, they will become damp and sticky, and so indicate a change of weather in the form of rain.

Sea birds, sensitive to pending changes in the weather, fly inland at the approach of stormy weather in quest of food.

The expression "an inch of rain" refers to the marks up a standard rain-gauge, the amount of rain equivalent to the distance between two such marks being represented by nearly 101 tons over an acre of land.

A Hertzian wave weather service has been established on the Eiffel Tower, Paris, whence a code message giving the state of the wind, sea, etc., at six of the principal stations on the Atlantic coast is radiated over the Atlantic Ocean every midday for any vessel with appropriate wireless receivers to pick up.

What this means to holders of the Common Shares of the Company will be readily appreciated.

We have instructions to offer a small block of this Common Stock at an attractive price, to yield well over six and one half per cent.
