MARITIME SENATORS TO MEET — A fitting sequel to the meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade in the historic chamber in Charlottetown, when it drew up the bill of rights for the Maritimes that was presented later to the Winnipeg Conference, will be the meeting of Maritime Senators in the same chamber to consider the economic handicaps of these provinces and the best method of overcoming them. The meeting, we are told, will probably be held in September and it will undoubtedly give a new impetus to the movement for Maritime co-operation. The Senators, while they are politicians, will on this occasion meet as business men to consider economic conditions from a non-partisan standpoint, and the people of the province have a right to look to them for leadership and wise counsel. They will not be sectionalists any more than partisans at this conference, since whatever makes for prosperity and contentment in the Maritimes is of national import and makes for the good of all Canada. — St. John Telegraph Journal.

STANLEY FIRE—Losses on the Bennett and Weeks residences destroyed by fire at Stanley Bridge on Wednesday night, are respectively about $2,000 and $1,000, partially covered by insurance. The United Church of which Rev. Mr. Bishop is pastor, was built about 40 years ago but had been redecorated and improved last year and was as good as new. It was valued at about $12,000 and there was only a small amount of insurance. A call for aid was received by the Summerside Fire Department at nearly midnight and a contingent of fifteen or eighteen firemen under the direction of Chief W. B. McNeill left here on Schurman's large motor truck, conveying the old hand-pump, 900 feet of hose and ladders. The firemen made the run in the quick time of 45 minutes which in the face of the dusty condition of the roads was remarkable. When they arrived they found the church and buildings a mass of flames and beyond saving. It was thought that the length of hose taken would be sufficient to reach to the river but this was not the case and water had to be brought up in barrels which were so quickly emptied that fire fighting in this primitive way did not have much effect. Nevertheless the good work of the firemen both from Kensington and Summerside prevented the fire from spreading further and causing more damage.

PERSONALS

Miss Irene MacKenzie, Boston, arrived Monday evening on a visit to her home in South Melville.

Miss Ethel Clinton left yesterday afternoon to spend her vacation in Montague and Panmure Island.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bonnell, of Sydney, are on a short visit to the city, and are renewing many old friendships.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Greene, of Waban, Mass., have arrived by motor on a visit to Mrs. Greene's mother, Mrs. M. J. MacMillan, King Street.

Mrs. Hattie MacKinnon, Brighton, Mass., arrived on Monday. She is now the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Windsor Bell, South Melville.

Mr. Peter Brodie, York, was in the city yesterday. He reports crop prospects good, despite the continued spell of dry weather which threatens to affect the root and vegetable crop. The shortage of well water, Mr. Brodie says, is more noticeable than any time since 1911.

Seventy-nine-year-old M. Victor Laloux, a Frenchman, was awarded this year's Royal Gold Medal on the recommendation of the Royal Institute of British Architects.

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald and family wish to thank their friends for all messages of sympathy, floral offerings and many acts of kindness shown them at the time of the death of their son and brother the late Kenneth MacDonald. 7020-8-2-11.

NECROLOGY

Lines written to commemorate the death of CECIL EDWARD KELLY Who left this earthly abode on the evening of August 3rd, 1928. R. I. P.

As the eventide was falling
Quickly to our home a summons came,
And took from us a loved one
Of pure and unswerving fame.
Angels bore him gently
To his home in the azure skies,
His loving voice no more will greet us
Until we meet in Paradise.

'Tide Of Empire'

At Capitol Truly Great Spectacle

HUGE PRODUCTION IS EPIC PORTRAYAL OF LIFE IN DAYS OF '49

Glorious romance, thunderous adventure, and the dramatic spectacle of the onward march of a new civilization hold away now at the Capitol Theatre, where "Tide of Empire," Peter B. Kyn's gigantic romance of the California gold rush, is astounding its audiences by the sheer beauty and mighty drama of its story.

This new Metro-Goldwyn Mayer spectacle, produced by Cosmopolitan, is so huge that it almost staggers description. Its theme is the founding of a modern era of progress and the overthrow of an old civilization. The hardships of the pioneers of the West and the glamor of the days of '49 form the background for the story. Through its plot runs a tender love theme that leaves a haunting imprint on the memory.

Allan Dwan, who directed the huge production, has achieved one of the signal triumphs of his career. Renee Adoree, as the Spanish heroine, Josephita, and George Duray, as the Irish hero, Derry D'Arcy, and the rest of the cast in the picture are to be congratulated on the splendid portrayal they have contributed.

Miss Adoree has a fiery role that she handles with consummate artistry. She portrays a daughter of the old Spanish dons in California whose land is menaced by the coming horde of barbarian gold seekers and is torn between her hate for the invaders and her love for one of their number. George Duray gives a splendidly dramatic performance and George Fawcett is a dominant character as Don Jose, one of the last of the Spanish grandees.

The historic discovery of gold at Sutter Mill; the dramatic founding of the Wells Fargo Express, the rise of the Vigilantes, and other dramatic details in the story of the Western Argonauts are staged in a spectacular series of episodes.

James Bradbury, Sr., Paul Hurst and Harry Gribbon, as the comical partners, lend a unique touch of character.

Ordination

At Cardigan

Sunday, July 14th, was a gala day for the parish of Cardigan, for on that day the power of the Catholic priesthood was conferred on one of its sons, Rev. Joseph E. Campbell, of Mitchell River.

Friends of the young priest and of the parishioners flocked from many points of the Province to share with the parishioners and their parish priest the joy and gladness occasioned by such an event.

At 10 o'clock the ceremony began. Rt. Rev. Louis J. O'Leary, Bishop of Charlottetown, was the ordaining prelate and he was assisted by Very Rev. James Murphy, Rector of St. Dunstan's University, and Rev. A. McAulay, P.P. of St. Peter's, Rev. P. McMahon, of the Cathedral staff being High Priest. A forceful sermon on the dignity of the Catholic priesthood was preached by Rev. Owen Kiggins, of Georgetown. Present in the Sanctuary were: Rt. Rev. J. C. McLean, P.A.V.G., Souris; Rt. Rev. J. C. MacGuigan, P.A.V.G., Edmonton; Reverend P. J. Hogan, P.D. MacGuigan, J.V. McDonald, G. V. McCabe, G. Monaghan, Basil Croken, J. K. McIsaac, K. C. McPherson, besides a number of Seminarians, friends and college mates of the newly ordained.

During the ceremony Father Campbell was assisted by Rev. M.S. Rooney, parish priest of Cardigan. On Monday morning Father Campbell celebrated his first mass, assisted by Father Rooney, at the conclusion of which a solemn Te Deum was sung by the choir.

Father Campbell belongs to the Diocese of Winnipeg where he goes shortly to take up his missionary labors. His many friends wish him success.

An Appreciation

(By Leonora McNeilly)

When the siren call of the enchanting scenic beauties of Prince Edward Island reached me at Halifax where a few members of the touring Canadian Women's Press Club had remained to attend the Canadian Author's Convention, my head was turned—literally as well as figuratively. And forthwith, I turned my quickened footsteps towards "The Garden of the Gulf", from whence emanated these beatific sights and sounds,—encouraged by the proffered aid of the Secretary of the Charlottetown Publicity Bureau, Mrs. M. K. MacFadyen, who, in response to our "S. O. S." call wrote us to "come right on" that the Publicity Bureau would "take care" of us. And such care!

Hitherto, a Publicity Bureau was to me at least, just a Publicity Bureau—a conglomerate of cold facts, statistics, road maps and photographs ad infinitum. Now—the name "Publicity Bureau" has taken on a new meaning, an added significance. It is a beacon of light — an oasis in the desert of travel, where the weary and footsore may unload his burdens and shift them and the worries and fatigue incidental thereto, to the broad, capable shoulders of the Bureau's personnel in general, and those of its efficient secretary in particular. Mrs. M. K. MacFadyen, to say nothing of her right hand bower, Mr. J. M. MacFadyen, an ever present help in time of need.

In this appreciation of the invaluable services rendered by a Publicity Bureau, it is my desire to dwell upon one phase only of its work, that which, it seems to me, is the main-spring of its success, namely, the health within two weeks of his death, when he was taken suddenly ill, and despite medical aid and tender care, he passed peacefully away on the above mentioned date.

He was frequently visited during his illness by his beloved pastor, Rev. Father Rooney, who administered to him the last rights of the Catholic Church, of which he was a true member.

He leaves to mourn their loss, two sons and one daughter, James and William and Florence, all of Bristol, his wife having predeceased him four years ago; also one daughter who predeceased him eighteen years ago. He also leaves to mourn two brothers and one sister, John, of Charlottetown; Wallace, of Pictou, N. S.; and Mrs. James McIntyre of Grand River.

His funeral, which took place on Sunday, June 16th, to St. Lawrence Church, was largely attended and testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The services at the church and grave were conducted by Rev. Father Joseph Rooney, P. P., when all that was mortal of a true and loving father was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery, there to await the glorious resurrection. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Alex. R. McDonald, Angus R. McDonald, Hamilton McEwen, Albert McEwen, Donald McDonald and Joseph McDonald. (May his soul rest in peace.) (Patriot please copy)
