Talented Alberta

Man Now Trade And Commerce Minister

(Condensed from Toronto "Saturday Night")

Before the twentieth century was a year old, a young man of nineteen left his home in the East to follow his star of fortune to Alberta, where he taught school. Today this young man, grown rich in experience and in years, is a member of Parliament for Edmonton West, Alberta, and occupies the important post of Minister of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa.

Hon. James A. MacKinnon, M.P., Minister of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa of that numerous company of distinguished men from Bruce County, Ontario, who rooted themselves in the West and grew up in this young prairie land full of promise and opportunity.

After teaching school for some time, Mr. MacKinnon turned to newspaper work and his experience in this field was with the late Honorable Frank Oliver on the staff of the Edmonton "Bulletin". A growing desire to engage his talents more actively in the world of business led him to establish, in Edmonton, an establishment known as the Northern Hardware, Limited. In 1911 he founded James A. MacKinnon Limited—a general fire insurance and financial business with city and provincial organizations. Later he became Edmonton manager of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association and he has held this position for almost twenty years, in addition to directing the activities of his own firm.

Mr. MacKinnon's splendid executive ability is now given still wider scope in his recent appointment as head of one of the most important departments of the government.
