What form will the presentation take? From the inquiries we receive from Village, Town and County Councils, we know it's not so easy to decide.

Many are giving special medals, others watches or signet rings. All strive to give something that will be lasting enough to be prized in the years to come.

One thing we know—if it's a "Birks" Watch, a "Birks" Ring or a "Birks" Medal, neither we, the donor, nor the wearer will ever have cause to be ashamed of it.

That's worth consideration, isn't it?

FRIDAY
SUCCESSFULLY OPERATED ON
—Mr. James Paton M. L. A. received a telegram yesterday from his son, Lieut. Rowland Paton, M. C. Branch, Military Hospital, Burlington, Ont. stating that he had been successfully operated on for his knee trouble and is doing very well.

FROM OVERSEAS.—Among the island soldiers who returned Tuesday night was Cpl. Percy Gregory son of Mr. Samuel Gregory, East Royalty and brother of the well known hockey player. Gregory was overseas three years, and saw a lot of fighting. He was wounded on May 1918, and was invalided to England for treatment. He served with the well known fighting twenty-sixth Battalion. He has still two brothers overseas.

FIRE PREVENTION.—Mr. J. Groves Smith, head of the department of fire prevention of the Dominion Conservation Commission Ottawa, delivered an interesting and valuable address before a fair sized gathering in the Board of Trade room last evening. Mr. George D. DeBlais, chairman of the Board of Fire Underwriters presided. The speaker among other things suggested the appointing of a Provincial Fire Marshall. Remarks were also made by Mr. J. O. Hyndman, Mr. E. T. Higgs, Premier Arsenal, Mr. G. E. Hughes, M. L. A., Mr. A. P. Prowse and Mr. E. H. Beer.

"HOME FROM OVERSEAS."—Among the soldiers who returned home recently was Pte. Mills, of Little River, King's County. Before enlisting he worked for twelve years in the States of Arizona, Nevada and California and ran the heavy fire for the Union Iron Works at San Francisco. His helpers were going to Canada and enlisting, and although he was receiving ten dollars a day when he saw three of his helpers go he also enlisted as the power was too strong to resist. Accordingly he joined up in Vancouver. He was in the world-famous stealth march from Amiens to Arras and saw much of the heavy fighting in the last year of the war.

—REPECTED RESIDENT DEAD.—Mr. George Wiggins, for many years a resident of St. Eleanor's, died at 10:30 on Saturday morning last of the cause being paralysis. The deceased was a son of Rev. Mr. Wiggins, for many years in bygone days when St. Eleanor's was the county seat, the rector of St. John's Anglican Church at that place. Lady Davies, spouse of Sir Louis Davies (now Chief Justice of Canada) is also a sister of the deceased, and Rev. Cecil Wiggins, of Sackville, is a brother. Owing to the bad state of the roads the remains were brought from Kensington to St. Eleanor's siding by the evening train of Monday and buried the same evening in the family plot in St. Eleanor's graveyard.

DOUBLE BEREAVEMENT.—Mr. F. W. Hyndman has received the news of the death in Edinburgh, Scotland of his brother-in-law. An Edinburgh exchange in referring to the death says: Captain R. G. Hyndman Cate, whose death from pneumonia is announced, was the second surviving son of the late Rev. George Johnstone Cate, D. D., of Forfar, and brother of the Rev. N. MacLeod Cate, B. D., of Hamilton. At the outbreak of war he joined the Royal Fusiliers, and he saw much fighting in France. He was severely wounded at the Battle of Loos (September, 1915), and later was invalided home with frost-bite. In 1916 he obtained his commission, and though unable for active service abroad he had been for some time attached for duty to the office of the Judge-Advocate-General, London. His widow, formerly Miss Belle Hyndman, it is pathetic to note, died three days after him, also from pneumonia.

The weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club was held in the Hotel Victoria yesterday. Rotarian Justice Fitzgerald presided, and the speaker for the day was Major, the Rev. G. C. Taylor, newly returned from his duties as chaplain to the forces at the front. A delightful violin solo, enthusiastically endorsed was contributed by Mr. C. Causton, violinist of the People's Theatre, accompanied by Mr. William Lynch, pianist at the same place of entertainment. Yesterday being the anniversary of Vimy, April 9, 1917, immediately covers were removed and before entering upon the after proceedings, the company, at the request of the chairman, stood in silence for a minute to salute the memory of those heroic Canadians who sleep the last sleep on its gray-brown slope, "and giving won."

The chairman introduced the following guests: Messrs W.M. Lea, M. L. A., Victoria, H. D. McLean, M. L. A., Souris, Dr. McDonald, M. L. A., Souris, Rotarian J. T. Fraser, Halifax, C. Causton, W. Lynch, E. H. Beer, W. R. Stewart, St. John's, and Frank Scott, St. John's.

Major Taylor was received with musical honors when he rose to address the club. He expressed his appreciation of Rotary and said his spirit was the spirit in evidence at the front. Wherever the soldiers met it was helping the other fellow that characterized them. Cowardice and selfishness were the cardinal sins "over here". He hoped the Rotary Club would be the means of extending the spirit of unselfishness among the people to the absolute extinction of jealousies and uncharitable feelings. The Major then gave some interesting experiences. The island had no little cause, he said, to feel proud of the boys who went over to take a hand in that great game, for in every regiment the islanders were held in high esteem and where an opportunity was given them rose to positions of responsibility and honor. The Major then gave a vivid word picture of the conditions prevailing at Passchendaele when the Canadians operating in an area entirely inundated and traversed only by a single wood path, under cover of the Hun fire, completely defeated the enemy. This wooden pathway was one of the wonders of the war and saved the situation at Passchendaele. He spoke of the undaunted spirit of the Canadians and of their determination to succeed whatever the cost. They had proved worthy of Canada which had won undying fame through having at the very beginning of the war, thrown in her lot with the side of righteousness and justice. "Not counting the cost" August 1914 was the beginning of a new era in the history of the world and he thanked God that Canada had not hesitated in taking her stand by the side of the Mother Country. Those who had been "over there" did not care to talk much about the sights they had witnessed and the experiences they had gone through and it was better it should be so. The terrible time was now past but the spirit which had overcome all their troubles and trials was still with them, and the men who had returned were determined that the old spirit of selfishness and greed should no longer predominate but rather comradeship and service as was so well illustrated by the spirit of Rotary.

Lieut. Colonel W. G. McKendrick, Toronto, who was present and who had charge of the wood path making in that part of the front in which Passchendaele is located was called upon to say a few words. He explained that he was in charge of the engineers who laid the first wood paths up to St. Julien, such as saved the day at Passchendaele. He explained further his difficulty in getting the War Office officials to authorize these woodpaths. It was not until he returned to London in connection with the death of his son at Combrete that he got any action taken. He met Mr. W. F. Favells who introduced him to a friend through whom he got in contact with Sir Eric Geddes with the result that woodpaths were authorized, and the Canadians were the first to use them successfully.

On the motion of the chairman hearty votes of thanks were accorded speakers and musicians.
