The case against P. S. Brown at the City Police Court was heard on Saturday morning. E. Morrison, Stephen Holroyd, T. Gleason, and E. T. Carboneau taking part in the animated discussion. At the commencement of the close season for trout there, we regret to have to say, a good deal of illegal fishing. The complaints were laid before the Dominion Fishery Officers, produced no results, as they were not acted upon. At last it was deemed expedient to follow the suggestion made at the last quarterly meeting and to bring all cases in future before the Stipendiary Magistrate for the county in which the offence was committed. Our secretary brought three cases of illegal trout fishing at Johnson's river before the Stipendiary Magistrate for Queen's county and produced convictions in every case. The salutary lesson thus taught put an end to the illegal trout fishing in that district. Complaint was made to us that parties were illegally fishing trout at the head of West River but, owing partly to the limited funds at our disposal, the cases have not as yet been sufficiently investigated as to warrant their being brought before the Magistrate.

During the last 12 months the residents of Hazelbrook and vicinity have continually been complaining that some person was putting out poison in their vicinity. It was extremely difficult to get them to give any direct information on the subject as they seemed to be terrified at the thought of appearing in court against the man they were all blamed for the offence. A few weeks ago, after considerable work, our secretary secured the names of certain parties who could convict the offender and brought the case before the Stipendiary Magistrate for Queen's County. The case however failed as it was impossible to extract the evidence necessary from the witnesses.

In obedience to the resolution passed at the last quarterly meeting our secretary wrote to parties in Maine and New Brunswick regarding the proposed purchase and importation of some small deer. The replies showed that the cost of procuring the deer in Maine would be too great considering the limited funds at the Association's disposal, while that from New Brunswick was simply an acknowledgment of the secretary's letter and a promise that the matter would be referred to the Surveyor General.

Acting on the resolution passed at the last quarterly meeting your Executive arranged for our secretary to deliver a lecture, on the Usefulness of Birds, at the Prince of Wales College. In answer to invitations given, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor presided at the meeting and about 20 of the members of the Government and Legislature attended; as also did a good number of other citizens. The Premier and other members of the Legislature.

THE REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM

Cold Wet Weather Starts the Pain But the Trouble is in the Blood.

Cold, damp weather brings on the twinges and pains of rheumatism, but is not the real cause of the complaint. The trouble is rooted in the blood and can only be cured by enriching the blood and driving the poisonous acid out of the system. This is a great medical truth, which every rheumatic sufferer should realize. Liniments and outward applications can't cure the trouble—they can't reach the blood. The sufferer is only wasting valuable time and good money in experimenting with this sort of treatment—and all the time the trouble is becoming more firmly rooted—harder to cure. There is just one sure way to cure rheumatism—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the impure, weak blood. They purify and strengthen it, and so root out the cause of rheumatism.

Mrs. S. Bailey, Newcastle Creek, N. B., says:—"In the summer of 1906 I became lame in my ankles, but thinking I would soon get over the attack I did not seek medical aid, but used liniments to allay the pain and swelling. Instead of getting better the trouble increased and I consulted a doctor who pronounced it articular rheumatism, and treated me for nine months. Instead of getting better the pain and the swelling became worse until I was hardly able to hobble about the house. On rising in the morning I was unable to bear my weight, except with extreme pain. Having tried so much medicine without benefit I began to think I was doomed to be a cripple. One day a cousin advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She said, 'Take them every spring as a tonic for my blood, and they will make a new person of me.' After one persuasion I decided to try them. I had taken three or four boxes before I noticed any change, and when it seemed my ankles were less painful. By the time I had used a few more boxes there was a wonderful improvement in my condition. Not only did my ankles get well, but I felt like a different woman and had not been as well in years. In speaking of this to a doctor afterward he said—'no doubt Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had enriched my blood thus driving out the painful disease.'"

Not only rheumatic sufferers but all who have any trouble due to weak, watery blood can find a cure through the fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

We tender to you our sincere sympathy as it has pleased an all-wise providence to take the soul of your dear father to that home on high which He has prepared for those that love Him. Although your hearts are filled with grief at the parting of a joy it is to know that you will be no parting and where sorrow is unknown. We each and all would gladly help you bear your burden of grief, but we feel there is so little we can do, we only can direct you to the God of all comfort and consolation to the great burden bearer, the man of sorrow who is acquainted with grief.

He also spoke of the manner in which the Dunk River Institute, of which he is a member, imports seeds for its members, claiming that it has been highly satisfactory in the past, and they intend to continue the same. The eradication of noxious weeds was next taken up, the speaker urging our farmers to fight the weeds in every possible way, as they were a source of great loss to the country at large. He closed with a strong plea that every farmer should unite with the Institute, as by so doing they would help themselves as well as others. A song by little Miss Hattie Huestis entitled "Little Black Moustache" was heartily applauded. After a short discussion on Mr. McKenna's address by James Arnett, D. J. Thompson, W. W. Arnett and the chairman the following was passed:—Resolved that in the opinion of this meeting our Legislature should pass an Act compelling every farmer to eradicate those noxious weeds which are found growing on their farms, and that the Government should find means of destroying those on our public highways. After a few selections on phonograph a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Huestis entitled "Will You Come" was received with great applause. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. McKenna for his very practical, instructive, and pleasing address, to which he responded by saying that he had enjoyed the meeting very much, especially the talk on the eradication of weeds. He was pleased to see that the farmers were interested in this subject. A number of friends of Mrs. Nicolson of West Devon gave her a pleasant surprise on March 5th the eighty-first anniversary of her birth. A shower of birthday cards and letters were sent to her expressing congratulations and best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

West Devon can boast of a great number of old people having eight over eighty years of age and eight others between seventy and eighty. It cannot be said of these old people that "all they ever did was to grow old," for they are still capable mentally and physically of taking a keen interest in the affairs of life.

The many friends of Harry Williams, Sr., Ellerslie will regret to hear that he met with a very painful accident Monday evening. While crushing grain a book came in contact with his right hand and drew it into the cogs of the machine, badly lacerating his fingers. Fortunately his daughter Miss Myrtle, a graduate of the P. E. Island Hospital, was at home and did everything possible to alleviate the suffering. Dr. Stewart was called and with the assistance of the nurse amputated the fifth finger.

At a meeting of a large and representative committee of the Kensington Dairymen's Co., at Kensington on March 6th it was decided to advocate the introduction of the hand cream separators as the best means of encouraging winter dairying.
