IN MEMORIAM

ARTHUR PETER DWAN

Suffer little children to come unto me. For such is the kingdom of Heaven. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dwan, St. Peter's Bay, were shocked to learn of the death of their little son, Arthur Peter at the early age of three years and eleven months.

The little chap, who was a lively and lovable child, enjoying the best of health, was stricken with appendicitis on Sunday, Dec. 21st, and was operated on at home by the two doctors, and Mrs. Eugene Rossiter, R. N. During his illness he was nursed by Miss Virginia McKenna, Mt. Stewart.

In spite of the best medical aid and nursing, the good Shepherd recalled him on Saturday morning, Dec. 27th. Although his parents miss him greatly they are comforted in knowing that he has gone straight to Heaven.

His funeral, which was held on Sunday was largely attended, showing the esteem and sympathy held for the sorrowing parents. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. A. McAulay of St. Peter's, R. C. Church.

He leaves to mourn besides his grief-stricken parents, two sisters, Mildred, age seven, Clotilda, aged five, and one brother Owen, age three.

His grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Dwan and Aunt, Mrs. Peter Murphy, both of Quincy, Mass., were with him during his illness.

The pallbearers were Earl McKenna, Frederick Larkin, Eugene Larkin, Xavier Flynn, Francis Larkin and Joseph Larkin.

from General Enrique Perez the military commander of the State of Oaxaca.

It was he who said that at least 25 persons had been killed or injured. Another message by the department of communications said that 12 had been killed but this could not be verified immediately.

It is impossible to describe the extent of the damage. The general's message said the loss is still more, at least 25 persons have been killed or injured and we are still recovering bodies of the dead.

Military Barracks in Ruins

The General's home was destroyed and he was living in his automobile, he said. The military barracks was in ruins and a column of cavalry was one of those that were helping the soldiers to search the ruins for additional victims.

The epicentre of the quake, which struck Oaxaca, was about ten miles southeast of the city. Mexico City itself was shaken for four minutes and one person was killed and 25 injured. There also was considerable property damage.

Oaxaca has suffered from earthquakes before and was only on lines calculated to withstand moderate shocks. The older houses were low massive buildings with thick walls and the most important building in the town was its cathedral. The reports did not say which buildings had been wrecked.

THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 16.—The final report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics places the total quantity of eggs in cold storage in Canada on the first of January at 4,591,590 dozen. A year ago total holdings were 862,240 dozen. The egg market today continues easy with prices still working lower. Toronto, Ont., Jan. 16.—This egg market is again weaker today and dealers are now paying country shippers for ungraded eggs extras 25 to 26, firsts 20 to 21, seconds 15 to 17. Storage eggs are jobbing on spot at 20 to 21 for extras. Montreal, Que., Jan. 16.—Egg receipts here today were 2,309 cases as compared to 2,285 cases for the corresponding day last year. The market continues dull with stocks accumulating. Quotations are unchanged from yesterday.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 16.—There has not been any changes in the liberal supply of eggs arriving on this market. Up to now some dealers have been paying producers extras 20, firsts 16, pullets extras 16. Paying prices for the current weeks receipts have not yet been decided upon. Chicago spot 20. Montreal, Que., Jan. 16.—Egg prices to retailers were lower, while butter, cheese and potatoes were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here today. Ontario fresh eggs were unchanged, extras being quoted at 32 cents, firsts at 26 cents and seconds at 25 cents a dozen. British Columbia eggs were also unchanged, extra selling at 34 cents, firsts at 28 cents and pullets at 27 cents. Storage eggs in carlots were quoted unchanged at 22 cents for extras, 21 cents for firsts and 18 cents for seconds. Quotations to retailers were from one to two cents a dozen. Fresh pullet extras and fresh seconds were unchanged at 30 to 32 cents and 28 cents a dozen respectively. Storage extras firsts and second were all unchanged at 30 to 32 cents 26 to 28 cents and 22 to 24 cents a dozen respectively. Receipts were 2,209 cases. Eastern town ships number one pasteurized cream butter was quoted at 31 1/2 cents solids were 33 cents and prima 34 cents a pound. Receipts were 92 boxes. Winter white cheese was quoted at 11 to 11 1/2 cents and colored cheese was 12 1/2 to 13 cents a pound while summer cheese was 16 cents a pound. Receipts were 131 boxes. New Brunswick green mountain potatoes in carlots were 85 cents per pound bulk and to retailers 85 cents per eighty pound bag.

Witness identified the skeleton and the rough coffin in which the remains were contained. He was not sure whether or not the doctor saw the remains. The clothes were decayed but he thought the man had been wearing overalls and thin woolen underwear. Only one boot was found and no cap.

Escape at Falconwood

William Livingstone, Charlottetown, chauffeur for Falconwood Hospital, testified to remembering the time that Percy Gay escaped from the hospital, in May, 1928. A search was begun about two days after Gay had got away. He had escaped on two occasions previously but had been brought back on both occasions within a couple of days. Searchers sent out by the medical superintendent, Dr. MacIntosh, went first to St. Peter's Bay, as they had information that the man had gone in that direction. They continued the search until they came to Mr. Allan Gillis, on the North side. They got word that he was at Mr. Mossy's at Bothwell. Mr. Gillis sent his boy along with them. Mr. Mossy told them that the man had been there one half or three-quarters of an hour before they arrived. They had given him something to eat and the man had left in the direction of East Point. The searchers went to the residence of a Mr. MacDonald, and later to East Point school house, where Mr. St. John, the teacher, told them that he had seen a man go into the woods about twenty minutes before they had arrived. That was about 8 o'clock on a dark, foggy night. The witness went to Mr. Beaton's where they got a lantern and searched the woods in the section where the teacher had seen the man enter. They did not find him, so they returned to Mr. MacDonald's for the night. Leaving early in the morning they returned to East Point school. The witness, Mr. Monaghan and Mr. St. John comprised the party that continued the search next morning. They searched the surrounding country during the day and that night went to Souris where they stayed all night. Most of the next day they spent at the telephone office. Calls to the different parts of the country brought no tidings, and they came to the conclusion that the man had left the vicinity and was on his way back. That evening they returned to Charlottetown and reported at Falconwood Hospital. The medical superintendent was not satisfied and ordered the witness, Mr. Bonnell, Fred Monaghan and James Livingstone to continue the search. They left town about 4 p.m. and went to East Point school house. Witness went down to McIntyre's lobster factory and organized a party of four-

Crystals Win Hectic Hockey Battle 3 To 2

Came From Behind A Two To Nil Lead And Win Fixture In Overtime—80 Minutes Of Hockey.

Getting the jump on the coasting Abegweits at the opening of the third period, Crystals of Summerside electrified about 2,000 fans at the Forum last night to score two goals in five minutes and tie a comfortable Abegweit lead, and then beat them in the second session of an overtime play to capture the first section of the P. E. Island Hockey League.

The smart and fast skating Summerside aggregation never deserved a win more than they did last night. Playing good hockey in the first period only to be turned back by the stellar goal minding of Stull who kicked out eleven shots to four, and then to be over run by a determined Abegweit attack in the second period Crystals came out in the third session with hopes still high to realize against a 2 to nil lead. With Nicholson penalized twice at the start of this session Silliphant gave the all-up signal and quick to take advantage of the break, his forwards answered the call one hundred percent to tie the score. Abegweits were caught flat footed around their net on the first twister, and before they realized what it was all about, a pretty combination play of Schurman and Gallant brought them back to terra firma. As above mentioned the Westerners deserve all the praise in the world. They played winning hockey in the final session and capped the job in the overtime, when McDonald, fast left winger took a perfect pass from the gritty Saunders after three minutes in the final session, to bang the disc by the hard-working Stull.

Abegweits scored in both periods Lawlor getting the first on a pass from McDonald, a half minute before the rest bell. Saunders clicked the other at 10 minutes in the second on a pass from Lawlor from Nicholson. The locals went scoreless in the third.

Bill Power, rangy Abegweit defence man never played a more brilliant game behind the blue line in his life. He broke up dozens of Crystal rushes, single handed and dealt out body punishment galore.

Covering himself with plenty hockey prestige it did get at almost top speed for the entire 80 minutes of play "Chicken" Gallant certainly proved himself the great big V in the Crystals victory last night. Playing in a cagey and as clean a game of hockey as ever seen here, Gallant moved with lightning rapidity teen or fifteen men, who assisted in the search, but unsuccessfully. Mr. Emmill came to the conclusion that the man was not in the woods and that he had gone back. Dr. McIntosh, witness said, wrote several letters to the man's brother who lives west of Summerside, but received no reply. He then sent pamphlets through the country and wrote a number of letters to different localities, all to no purpose.

Questioned by a member of the jury, witness said the rumor that the entire search party had got drunk was false, to the best of his knowledge. The woods were searched fairly thoroughly. The people of the district did their best to assist.

Witness stated, in reply to further questioning, that there had been several patients who escaped from Falconwood Hospital and who had never been heard of again.

Fred Monaghan, attendant at Falconwood Hospital, testified that he accompanied Mr. Livingstone on both searches. On the occasion of the second search the witness did not believe they had remained until the afternoon. They had searched for two hours that morning. The witness was not of the party that went into the woods. There was nobody drunk in the party nor was there anybody drinking.

Extra watch is kept over patients who habitually try to escape, he explained. This concluded last night's proceedings.

Neither team reached the scoring column in the first ten minutes. Twelve minutes after the opening of the final session, McDonald scored the winning point on a pass from Reg. Saunders. Abegweits played heart-breaking hockey to tie the score, the only success in giving LeFurgy the closest calls he ever got in his life. LeFurgy is to be commended in the great game he played for Crystals between the sticks.

The Linesmen—Abegweits: Stull, Power, Spillitt, Lawlor. Crystals: LeFurgy, Saunders, Grady, Montgomery. Forwards—D. Gallant, C. Gallant, Schurman, Silliphant, McDonald.

Referee—Les Lowther. Shots on Stull, 26; on LeFurgy, 31.

It was announced that owners and miners had reached an agreement, that a new contract had been drawn up to last until 1934 under which the men will obtain the same rate of pay as heretofore and will be assured of seven-and-a-half-hour day, instead of the spread-over system proposed by mine operators.

Credit for the victory of conciliation is given largely to Rt. Hon. William Graham, president of the Board of Trade, and to Emanuel Shitwell, Parliamentary Secretary to the Department of Mines, both of whom refused to acknowledge defeat and kept meeting the owners' committee and representatives of the men day after day with the hope of reconciling their viewpoints.

Minor matters regarding working conditions and methods of pay, it was stipulated in today's agreement, will be settled by a conciliation board with a new independent chairman.

Both owners' and miners' representatives signed the agreement which, as regards wages, is based on the 1926 agreement. Next comes the formality of approval by the South Wales Federation and by the South Wales Mine Owners' Association. Both are taken for granted.

The settlement comes at a time when the miners' families were beginning to feel the pinch of the lock-out. They were assured of support however, by the Glamorgan Public Assistance Committee at Cardiff which pledged £100,000 pounds a week for the duration of the trouble to be paid to needy families. Officials of the Ministry of Health had planned to cooperate in aiding the destitute.

With these plans—both attributed directly to government encouragement—and with a Labor Government in power and considerable general talk about nationalization of the mines, the owners found they were in a difficult position.

The representatives of the mine owners eminently satisfied with the outcome. It is anticipated that the Government's position will be considerably strengthened among the labor ranks by the settlement.

Quebec has played the same trick and has approached this matter from partisan spirit. In particular the Quebec Board of Trade has been free to make politics and I would be duty if I allowed Premier Barre to assail the late Premier's Government without warrant and remained silent any more than if some Liberal spokesman were to attempt to make political capital out of the difficulties of the Quebec Board at the expense of Mr. Bennett's administration.

Construction of these plants coincides with a widespread boycott of automobiles made in Great Britain and an increasing demand for United States cars. The latter constitute about 61 per cent of all automobiles used in India.
