The well known pork packing firm of S. Wheatley & Co., Halifax, established in 1887 consists of gentlemen familiar to all in Charlottetown, both members of the firm being brothers of the dealers of the same name in this City. Messrs S. Wheatley & Co., besides dealing extensively in pork are large importers of butter, cheese, eggs, dressed hogs and all other kinds of P. E. L. produce. They solicit correspondence, guarantee prompt returns and island farmers and shippers would do well to consult them regarding their produce.

MACLACHLAN IN "RULE BRITANNIA."
What resident of Charlottetown is not stirred by the strains of our most popular patriotic song "Rule Britannia" and when it is known that Jessie MacLachlan, the great Scotch singer who will be heard here on the evening of Oct. 2 has earned the reputation of rendering this selection with finer effect than any other living singer, we must all be interested in the prospect of hearing it. A. MacLachlan usually concludes her program with this number, in every large City in this country and Europe, audiences have gone wild with enthusiasm, when the handsome Scottish Nightingale stirred them with her wonderful magnetism through the medium of "Rule Britannia."

The marriage of William W. Crosbie and Miss Lizzie A. Trainor took place at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Church of the Assumption, St. John. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Trainor of Kinkora P. E. I. R. v. J. J. O'Donovan performed the ceremony, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was attended by her sister, while Daniel Dowd acted as best man. In the afternoon an informal dance and supper was held at the groom's home on Main street, while in front of the house small boys exhibited their appreciation of the event by burning all the apple barrels they could conveniently steal. The wedding gifts were numerous and very handsome. Mr. Crosbie will receive her friends at her future home, 278 Main street, St. John, on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

ONE of the pleasantest wedding parties that could be imagined, was gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Millview, on the evening of the 17th inst., when their third daughter, Annie May, was united in marriage to Jas. W. Villet of Hampton. About 8 o'clock as the organ pealed forth the strains of the wedding march, the bride, conducted by her father to the room tastefully decorated by an arch of evergreens and flowers, was attended by her cousin Miss Sadie Fraser, the groom being supported by Willie Villet. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ople of Pownal when the friends, neighbors and relations, to the number of about fifty, all helped to spend a pleasant time, with interchange of greeting, social chat, vocal and instrumental music, the morning hour seemed to pass all too soon. Not the least enjoyable part of the occasion was the ample preparation made by the hospitable host and hostess, for the way in which the well laden tables were partaken of showed the excellent quality of every thing provided. The valuable and useful presents of which the bride and groom were the recipients is a simple evidence of the esteem and favor in which they were held by all. All went merrily "as a marriage bell," even the bells and tangles outside made it more lively for a short time, but when the boys were treated with cake they dispersed quietly. After extending congratulations and good wishes to the new couple, the company dispersed in the early hours of morn.—ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

In Cholera, Anemia, Typhoid, Langour, Br. in Fas, Indigestion and Dyspepsia its action is prompt, and satisfactory cures always follow.
