Large Number of Entries at Local Affair. Judges Pronounce Exhibits all to be First Class. Energetic Board of Directors.

The members of the Farmer's Institute, Tracadie Cross, held an exhibition on Wednesday afternoon last. The Institute, under a capable and energetic body of directors has been doing noble work during the last few years but never was its importance so publicly felt as on Wednesday evening. The committee on arrangements J. Dugan and J. D. McAulay, were kept busy taking account of all exhibits received. Upwards of two hundred entries were made and when the hour of opening arrived the spacious hall was filled with an ambitious yet appreciative audience. The exhibition was opened by a well worded address by P. D. McGuigan, who complimented the ladies and gentlemen on the large list of exhibits and the excellence thereof. He compared the present exhibition to the first one held by the institute last year and said he knew he was voicing the opinion of all present by saying that the present display greatly surpassed all past exhibitions. The judges were Prof. T. Ross, Charlottetown, P. Brodie, York and Messrs Gibson and Stetson of Marshfield. Their task was a difficult one. In all the departments there was close competition and as MONSTON, N. B., Nov. 14.—That there exists in Gloucester County a literal mountain of iron ore deposit extending eighty feet beneath surface and in vast quantity, is the report brought to this city by W. J. Pride. The latter who has been visiting the iron deposits recently acquired by the Drummond Co. of Moncton, brought back to Moncton with him a few pieces of ore which are exceedingly rich and heavy. At the present time the mine is situated on the line which is twenty miles from Bathurst. The ore will be hauled to Red Pine, twenty miles from the deposit and shipped.

THE CZARINA IS HYSTERICAL

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—The Czarina is suffering from phlebotomy, but her principal ailment is a nervous disease. She suffers sometimes from acute hysteria. Her majesty sees only a few of her most intimate friends and relatives, and suffers visibly when surrounded by a crowd. She recovered at first in the loneliness of the Finnish islets during her cruise with the czar, but soon became melancholy and mystic. There is no particular danger, and the court physicians advise sunshine and fresh interests.

Ag n Tonight at New Wonderland. Thrilling Indian Story Faithfully Portrayed.

The Redman and the Child is the subject of one of the grandest Indian stories yet featured on canvass. The scene is placed in Colorado, a Sioux Indian being the grand central figure in a wonderful drama. He is a noble creature, kind hearted as a woman and brave as a lion. Every one loved him, his daily companion being a little boy. He showed the lad his little store of hidden treasure one day, and two outlaws who had suspected there was one somewhere, followed. They captured the boy and by torturing and beating him made him show the Indian's hidden wealth. In the meantime a couple of surveyors obtain the Indian's assistance to guide them to the hill top. They set up their telescope and made calculations. The Indian looks through the scope, and while looking through it he starts back with a cry of horror, looks into the sky, and then dashes down the mountain side. Arriving at where his store was hidden he finds it gone and the little boy's grandfather who had followed the miscreants, murdered. He picked the old man up, takes the body to the camp, and arrives just as the outlaws with the boy have gone. He lies the body tenderly on the sands, and covered it reverently with his shawl, making as he stands there a magnificent picture, as his tawny skin shone out against the sky, his muscles set in grim determination, he raises his hands to Heaven and vows to avenge. He follows the miscreants who have taken to an open boat, and the rest of the story deals most thrillingly with the chase, the capture and the rescue of the boy, along with the punishment of the outlaws. There has been nothing so fine presented here for a long while, and the picture is in every detail the acme of photographic art. The Rolling Arm Chair, and John the Idiot, are the other numbers, with Miss Von Brander's in her taking speciality of "Harrigan" costume, and her new illustrated song. Be sure and see this grand program tonight.

THE SHEFFIELD CHOIR WERE BADLY TREATED

According to Their Own Belief. They Say They Came to See the People of Canada But They Were Hissed Around Like Barn Stormers on Night Stands And Had No Chance Whatever.

QUEBEC, Nov. 15.—(Special)—The Sheffield Choir closed their Canadian tour here by a concert at the Drill Hall. At the termination the choir gave three hearty cheers which were returned with a vigor by the audience. The choir donated half the proceeds to local Catholic and Protestant charities.

The party sailed by the steamer Gramplan on the homeward journey. The members of the choir complained of the way they had been handled in Canada. They found the people very kind but very poor arrangements made for their accommodation. They were hustled through the country like a crowd of barn stormers on night stands. They insinuated that Canadian management exploited them for what was in it. They want to meet the people of Canada but were hustled around so that they had little opportunity of doing so.

He also said the freight subway system would banish the horse in New York City and the City will save $5,000,000 in wear and tear upon pavements.

FUTURE WOMAN MORE BEAUTIFUL

LONDON, Nov. 14.—"I think woman's beauty will be more refined in the future," said Mme. Melba yesterday to the World correspondent. "In a hundred years from now I believe the prevailing type will be of extreme distinctness. Greater use of her brain will spiritualize the woman of the future. Her countenance will be alight with intelligence. 'Freak fashions will die. There will be harmony in dress, daintiness in manner and speech, a shunning of hollows and affectation.' The diva had been talking about woman's suffrage, in favor of which she has strongly declared herself. 'Woman's freedom,' she argued, which she will surely win, will not rob her of woman's love of home. 'After a man has battled with the world and been buffeted by it he returns with an ever-growing longing for the peace and beauty of the home environment. So when a wider look of the open before a woman she will surely find the looms of home life drawing more tightly around her. 'A woman will always be a woman. The hard, unsympathetic facts of life will make her home seem even more of a haven than ever.'"

LOVE STRONGER THAN POLITICS

GUELPH, Nov. 14.—Because Cyrus Christopher Dent of Saranac voted to let Laurier finish his work his prospective father-in-law, George Pilkey of the same place, decided that Mr. Dent should never marry his daughter. But love will find a way. The young couple stole away and were quietly married here recently. Young Mr. Dent and Miss Eve Pilkey were affianced and their marriage was accepted as a settled thing until the Dominion election campaign came on, and then the young man and the father found that the paths of their political views divided. The old man did not believe in having a son-in-law who was not in some way a politician as himself, and one thing led to another until the fate of the young couple hung upon the balance of the casting of the ballot. The young man, however, had a mind of his own, and so he cast his vote according to his own view. After the election it was thought the storm would blow over, but the irate father declared that the marriage must not be thought of. The wrath of the father had little effect upon the love of the young couple, and they stole away from Saranac and, arriving at Guelph, went to the home of a relative, Chaffrey, Grange street. Here they were made man and wife by Rev. Albert J. Elson of Paisley Memorial Methodist Church.

LORD WOLSELEY HAS FLOATED A RACE TO THE WHITE HOUSE

PICTOU, N. S., Nov. 14.—Tug Lord Wolseley was floated off Seal Rock about one o'clock this morning and steamed into Pictou harbor at an early hour. She is but little damaged. The tug Calluna is still ashore and likely to prove a total loss. The tugs Lord Wolseley and Lord Kitchener left here last week for Port Elgin to tow the dredge Ironquois to this port. John E. Moore the owner of the Lord Wolseley was in communication with Captain Wiley this morning by telephone at Pictou who stated that he thought the bottom of the tug was badly damaged as she thumped hard on the rock. An examination will be made at once of the hull. No further particulars have been received up to going to press. The tugs Lord Wolseley and Calluna had left their tow of the mud scows at Point Du Chene and went out to assist the Lord Kitchener which tug had the dredge in tow, when the accident happened.

SIR PERCY LAKE TAKES CHARGE

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—It is announced that Major-General Sir Percy Lake, who was expected to return this month to the imperial army will, instead, remain in Canada as inspector-general of the Canadian militia, and that the War Office has signified its approval of this arrangement, which is also entirely satisfactory to the militia authorities, who believed Major-General Lake's services of immense value in the working out of the new system of militia administration. It is understood that in remaining in Canada General Lake will become in reality expert adviser to the Government of Canada in military matters and that in this capacity he will be honored with a seat on the Militia Council. In deciding to remain in this country, it is said, that Sir Percy Lake has declined an important military appointment in another part of the Empire. If he had so desired he might have become quartermaster-general under Lord Kitchener, in India.

TWO TUGS ASHORE OFF PICTOU ISLE

PICTOU, November 14.—Two St. John tugs, Lord Wolseley and Calluna, went ashore on Seal Rocks, off the west end of Pictou Island yesterday and are still on the rocks. The tugs were bound from Point Du Chene to St. John. The night was dark and dirty and it was a case of "turning the corner before they came to it. Seal Rocks is a long ledge, making out from the island and is a dangerous place. The steamer Inverail was wrecked there a number of years ago. The crew are still on the tugs. The bottom is smooth rock and unless the wind shifts and freshens the Lord Wolseley, the ocean-going tug, will be rot off without much damage. The Calluna, smaller, is in pretty bad shape. Both tugs are owned by John E. Moore and company, St. John.

NEW GOLDFIELDS HAVE BEEN FOUND

CAPETOWN, Nov. 14.—A report by Mr. Coates, the government geologist, published in the territory etc., states that in the territory west of Lake Albert Nyanza gold has been found in the Kanoi river gravels crossing the boundary of the Lado Enclave. In the Adzi valley gold has also been found in conspicuous quantities in gravels at points below a large area—probably in the disputed territory lately surveyed by the Anglo-Congolese Boundary Commission. This territory Great Britain should refuse to relinquish.

PENNY-A-WORD CABLES NOT WELL REASONED OUT

r Wolfe Barry Regards it as Quite Impracticable Not Afraid of Wireless Competition. Dundee Advertiser Urges Purchase of One Cable.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Sir Wolfe Barry presiding at a meeting of the Eastern Cable Telegraph Company yesterday returned to what he called the extraordinary proposal of penny-a-word cables. He ventured to think the suggestion had never been properly or reasonably thought out. A departmental committee six years ago regarded the proposal as quite impracticable. No new circumstances had arisen to invalidate that report. He did not think that wireless telegraphy would become a material competitor in cable telegraphy. The Aberdeen Free Press says Hearns' proposals may serve a useful purpose in stimulating discussion, but they certainly cannot at this particular stage be regarded as within the sphere of practical politics. The Dundee Advertiser suggests that the British government buy one of the Atlantic cables and show what can be done with cheap rates.
