THE ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS

Panic-Stricken People Crowd Churches for Prayers. Women Implore St. Anne to Stay the Stream. Great Masses Molten Lead Ejected From the Crater.

NAPLES, April 9.—The inhabitants of the villages in the vicinity of Mount Vesuvius are in a condition bordering on panic. Many homes have been abandoned for the open air. There has been a thick fog and the atmosphere has been dense with volcanic ashes and the fumes of subterranean fires.

The churches are crowded day and night with people praying for deliverance from an impending peril, manifestations of which are heard and felt in explosions which resemble a heavy cannonading and in the tremblings of the earth which are constantly recurring.

The main stream of lava proceeding from Vesuvius is two hundred feet wide, and it advances at times at the rate of twenty-one feet in a minute, the intense heat destroying vegetation before the stream reaches it.

The peasants of Portici, at the west foot of Vesuvius, cleared their grounds of vineyards and trees in the effort to lessen the danger from fire, and resisted the progress of the lava to their utmost.

The population of Boscotrecase, on the southern declivity of the mountain, have sought safety in flight, and Bosco Reale, to the eastward, is also threatened.

Women of this village, weeping with fright, carried a statue of St. Anne as near as they could go to the flowing lava, imploring a miracle to stay the advance of the consuming stream.

The cemetery at Boscotrecase has been invaded by lava.

The scene at night is one of mingled grandeur and horror, as from the summit of Vesuvius there leaps a column of fire fully a thousand feet in height, the glare lighting the sky and seen for many miles.

Occasionally great masses of molten stone, some weighing as much as a ton, are ejected from the crater.

The village of Terre del Greco, which has been eight times destroyed, and is often rebuilt, is again threatened, and the inhabitants are in extreme terror.

Signor Matteucci, director of the observatory, is working indefatigably. He has had military engineers establish telephonic connection between the observatory and points within the volcanic activity.

The director said to the Associated Press presented a grave menace, he did not believe it would reach the village. Indeed, he said, the present volcanic activity was not altogether unmixt with good, for it had not come to pass a violent and sudden eruption having a far wider radius might have occurred.

Healthy Blood Best Germicide YOU CAN PREVENT AS WELL AS CURE DISEASE BY KEEPING THE BLOOD PURE AND RICH WITH

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Healthy blood is the most powerful germicide extant," said Sir William Collins recently, in a lecture on "The Man and the Microbe."

This well-known authority proceeds to show how much more successfully disease can be combated by keeping the blood pure and rich than by inoculating into the system one set of poisonous germs to fight the other germs of disease.

And this is what we have been claiming for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and what we have been backing up by the testimony of worthy people in all parts of the country.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food prevents disease as well as cures it because it contains in condensed form the very ingredients which go to form new, rich blood and nerve force.

Especially at this time of year when the system has become run down and the blood weakened the majority of people find it necessary to use some treatment in order to enrich and purify the blood and increase the vigor of the body.

Nothing to assist Nature at this trying time means that you leave yourself liable to attack by all sorts of disease germs. It also means that, instead of accomplishing your work with pleasure and success and enjoying life, you drag yourself about, feel miserable and by your irritability bring unhappiness to all associated with you.

Some of the most common indications of a run-down system are headaches, sleeplessness, indigestion and a general lack of energy and vitality.

No treatment we know of so thoroughly overcomes these symptoms as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you can prove its remarkable blood-forming, tissue building qualities by noting your increase on weight while using it.

If you would feel strong and well and avoid all the ills and weakness so common at this season, enrich your blood and revitalize your nerves by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edman-son, Bates & Co., Toronto.
