BAPTIST CHURCH

The morning sermon by the Rev. I. Judson Levy, B.A., was "The Fulness of Time." Saint Paul, in the epistle to the Galatians, 4:4, says, "But when the fulness of time was come, God sent forth His Son." The real meaning of Christmas is that the eternaly existant God expressed himself at one time, fully, in the person of His Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. Saint Paul expresses in his words two parts of one thought that God sent forth His Son, a statement that climaxes all else, is superior to all else, beside which nothing else matters. Saint Paul also introduces the time element. There had to be a right, appropriate, suitable time. Form a mental picture of a world without a definite knowledge of God. What is in their minds and hearts? There is a nameless longing, a vague reaching for a presence that they have never touched, a groping in the dark for a power that will make life whole. It is a pathetic picture but that is where Christmas begins. There was a people, a chosen people, selected for a purpose and a task, and among such people leaders, teachers and prophets looked forward for the expression of God. There came a time when Rome at the zenith of her powers had brought order, law and wide communication into being, when Greece had granted the world a language the medium of understanding, but the old pagan faiths had faded, the people yearned for truth and at such a time God expressed himself in His Son. Once more we face the Fulness of Time. The bars are down, the world is open and we are faced with the great alternatives, God or Darkness. Christ must reign in all the world, or He cannot reign in any part; once more Christmas comes, God is asking His place in our hearts, are we ready for Christmas, are we ready for God?

The anthem of the morning was Brackett's "We Would See Jesus." Mr. MacAuley took the solo. At the evening service, the B.Y.P.U. presented a pageant "The Christmas Story" very effectively, with the parts well sustained. The choir cooperated with Christmas carols.

The church was beautifully decorated for the Christmas season.

New school committee, Mrs. Norman McMillan and Mrs. Peter Cairns. Next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Cairns, roll call to be answered by hand-made decoration for the Christmas Tree. Red Cross yarn was distributed among the members for knitting. The program consisted of a reading on Peace and Legislation by Miss Maria McMillan, and a contest by Mrs. Norman McMillan, won by Mrs. G. D. Praught. The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

The late Mr. A. N. MacLeod

There passed away on Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. N. Large, 243 Pownal St., Mr. Angus Norman MacLeod of Brookfield in the ninety second year of his age. Mr. MacLeod enjoyed the best of health up to the previous day, and passed away suddenly shortly after enjoying his breakfast. He was born at Brookfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacLeod, of Portree, Isle of Skye, who emigrated to the Island in the fall of 1828. He was brought up on the farm, but in early life was employed in railway construction in New Brunswick, taking part in the laying of a portion of the Intercolonial line leading into Moncton. This was practically all pioneer work, and he shared in cutting the first trees of the virgin forest which separated Moncton from Point du Chiene en route to Prince Edward Island. He subsequently returned to the old homestead and at the age of thirty one married, remaining on the farm till he retired in 1922, and went with his wife to live in North Wiltshire, subsequently proceeding to Vancouver where they lived for some years between there and California. They then returned to the Island, but four years later again went West where they remained for another year Finally they came home in Sept. 1938, and lived with their daughter, Mrs. Large. A year ago, Mrs. MacLeod passed away, and now he has joined her at the ripe old age of ninety two. He is survived by three sons, Angus M. of Cambridge, Mass., Neil and John F. of Charlottetown, and eight daughters, Mrs. Neil Simpson and Miss Ella of Vancouver; Mrs. Harry Rogers, Seattle; Mrs. Edward C. Stalder, Piedmont, Cal.; Mrs. C. G. French, Brookline, Mass.; Mrs. West MacDonald, Wheatley River; Mrs. Millar McPherson, New Wiltshire; and Mrs. J. N. Large, Charlottetown. There are also twelve grandchildren, and three great grandchildren. Three children predeceased Mr. MacLeod, two in infancy, and Mrs. George E. McLean, North Wiltshire. The funeral takes place today from Mrs. Large's home at 1:30 p.m. with funeral service at Brookfield Church at 2:30 p.m. The Guardian joins in sympathy with the bereaved in their loss.

Q. M. N. G. is Thanked by men Of "Saguenay"

H.M.C.S. "Saguenay"
Nov. 17, 1940.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. Branch
"The Queen Mary Needlework Guild"

Dear Ladies:—

On behalf of the officers and men of the H.M.C.S. Saguenay, may I express to you our sincere thanks for the lovely parcel of woollens which you sent to us through Lieut. Commander Buntain.

It was a most delightful parcel and the contents were much appreciated, in fact they were well used on our trip over to this side of the Atlantic, as we had a very rough and stormy passage and from what we have had on this side in the way of weather, I can imagine that the next few months will be most unpleasant.

Again thanking you for your kindness,

I remain,
Yours sincerely,
(Signed) RALPH B. WARWICK

The above should be of interest to Guardian readers, coming as it does when H.M.C.S. "Saguenay" is so gallantly in the forefront of the news.

Will ask Gov't To maintain Potato Warehouses

An effort would be made to have the Government maintain the Potato warehouses at Charlotteown, Souris and Georgetown to permit the storage of tubers near rail facilities for prompt shipment when market conditions are favorable, it was learned over the weekend.

Produce dealers said it was possible the market would advance shortly after Christmas but cold weather might prevent farmers from hauling their stock to the railway. If the warehouses were available the tubers could be hauled during mild spells and left until shipments were required.

Just now the market for table stock tubers was described as "extremely dull," dealers said. Price to the growers last week was 25 to 26 cents per bushel.

Heavy shipments of turnips for the Christmas trade had slowed up by the end of the week. The price to the farmer was 12 to 13 cents per bushel.

HOME BURNED — Fire destroyed the residence of Mr. Alfred Affleck about one mile from Mt. Stewart, Saturday afternoon. The blaze was first discovered on the roof by Mrs. Affleck who summoned hedp from the Mt. Stewart fire dept. Because the house was too far from the river it was impossible to use the pumper and water was carried to the fire in puncheons loaded on trucks. Furniture and most of the movables were removed but the roof collapsed and the building was badly gutted before the fire was put out.

NO NEW CASES.—No new cases of spinal meningitis were reported at the Beach Grove Inn military training camp, Dr. B. C. Keeping, Deputy Minister of Health for the province, said today. They were not "out of the woods yet," he said, but every day brought increasing confidence there would be no more cases. J. D. Keenan, Georgetown, one of the 150 trainees at the camp, died last week in hospital here of spinal meningitis. Since then the camp has been under quarantine.

MRS. WILLIAM CALLGAHAN PASSES SUDDENLY—Mrs. William Callaghan died in the Charlottetown Hospital here Saturday after a short illness. She became ill with what was believed to be the 'flu on Friday and died 24 hours after being admitted to hospital. Before her marriage she was Mary Weeks, a native of Tracadie Parish, on the north shore of Prince Edward Island. She has resided in Charlottetown for many years. Surviving are three sons, Henry Callaghan at Halifax, William Callaghan with the Prince Edward Island Highlanders, and James Callaghan, a barber at Charlottetown. A sister, Miss Catherine Weeks, of Charlottetown, also survives. Her husband predeceased her. Funeral services will be held today at St. Dunstan's Basilica. Burial will be in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

LEGION SEEKS JOINT DRIVE.—At a meeting of the executive council of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion at the Legion rooms here on Saturday, preliminary arrangements were made in connection with the raising of the Island's quota in the Dominion Command's drive for one million dollars. The campaign will begin on February 17, and is designed to raise funds for the war services of the Canadian Legion. It was decided to call a meeting of other organizations interested in war services early this week for the purpose of considering whether it would be advisable to have a combined campaign throughout the province instead of four separate campaigns. This has been the policy advocated by the Legion for some time. Other organizations referred to are the Knights of Columbus, the Y.M.C.A. and the Salvation Army. Legion men said a similar arrangement in British Columbia early this year was very satisfactory.

SOCIAL EVENING — On Monday evening, November 25th, the young people of the vicinity of Lot 16 gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Best to spend a social evening in games and dancing. The evening started with a game of Cushion which caused much laughter, followed by dancing. The violin music for the evening was furnished by Mr. Leo Farrell and Mrs. Roland Best of Lot 16 and Mr. Wallace MacKinnon of Grand River accompanied on the organ by Misses Irene Farrell and Florence Best. A step-dance by Mr. Leigh Simmons of Belmont, Lot 16 was much enjoyed and a collection was taken up in aid of the Red Cross which amounted to a neat sum. A delicious lunch was then served by hostess. When the wee hours of the morning began to appear the evening was closed by singing Old Lang Syne. The young people then departed for their homes thanking Mr. and Mrs. Best for the enjoyable evening.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Kier Fraser conducted both services yesterday. In the morning he preached a comforting sermon from the text, Galatians VI and 17 "From henceforth let no man trouble me, for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus Christ". The choir rendered the anthem, "Bless the Lord O My Soul" (Ivanoviten).

The late Mr. Horace McEwen

Intimation was received here Saturday of the death in Vancouver, B.C., of Mr. Horace McEwen, former Superintendent of the Prince Edward Island Railway, at the age of eighty-nine. Mr. McEwen spent practically all his active life in the service of the Railway, joining as a young man and working his way up step-by-step by efficient and faithful service until in 1911 he was promoted from Chief Despatcher to be Superintendent. He held office at a very critical period of railway history when it was being transferred from political patronage to independent railway control. Mr. McEwen was between two stools—the old-time politicians were bringing pressure to bear upon him for favours, while the powers-that-be at Montreal and Moncton were insisting upon central management without reference to local or party affiliations and interests. Mr. McEwen strove nobly to keep the control in Charlottetown maintaining that as Superintendent he had full and independent administration of the railway within his jurisdiction. This naturally led to friction with the centralizers, but Mr. McEwen was adamant. So long as he was Superintendent, he declared, neither Moncton and Montreal, nor the employees and politicians would dictate to him what he should or should not do in management. He stuck to this attitude throughout, and as soon as he reached pensionable age, the powers-that-be at Montreal saw that he was retired. But they reckoned without their host in electing a successor. They chose Mr. Grady, then stationmaster at Summerside, who proved even more determined than Mr McEwen to see that his prerogatives as Superintendent were respected and adhered to; and he too, as soon as pensionable age was reached was retired. At one period there were three superintendents, all active and vigorous in body and mind drawing pensions. Mr McEwen outlived the other two. He enjoyed an enviable reputation as to character and ability, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him both as employer and employee, and also by the public in general who had business with the railway. While in Charlottetown he was a member of St. James Presbyterian Church.

Mr. McEwen is survived by his wife, two sons, Mr. J. E. R. McEwen, C.N.R., City, and Capt. W. A. McEwen, United States Naval Commandant, New London, Conn., and three daughters, Mrs. E. D. Nicholson, Charlottetown, Miss Evelyn McEwen, Vancouver, and Mrs. C. P. Price, Montreal, to all of whom, the Guardian extends sincere sympathy. Mr. J. E. R. McEwen left on Saturday morning for Vancouver on learning of his father's serious illness, but would not reach his destination in time to see him before he passed away.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

At the morning service of Trinity United Church, the preacher was Rev. Hugh Miller. He chose as his subject "Divine Providence." In this excellent address, the minister pointed out that in all the complications and difficulties of this world the hand of God is guiding and the eye of God is ever watching his people; and that, though the acts of many may check progress, they can never permanently stop its advance.

The speaker at the evening service was Rev. Donald Boothroyd. He chose as his text the words of Paul, "Remember My Bonds." Paul wrote these words to the church at Colossae while a prisoner at Rome. He may have meant his physical bonds, but it is likely that he referred also to the handicaps of birth and suspicion which hampered him in his ministry. All great men have had bonds to hamper them in their life work; some, such as race and nationality can be stretched and partially overcome, others, such as the prison fetters of Paul, cannot be surmounted. It is the wonderful way in which Christian people like Booker Washington and Kagawa have overcome these barriers to success that make the Christian life so alluring.

The choir was under the direction of Mr. A. R. Kendall and at the evening service, delightfully rendered two Christmas carols. Miss Margaret Sterns rendered the solo, "Come Unto Him."
