Will Marry Man She Shot.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 27.—When Kate Clancy grew desperate over the probable loss of Conductor Frank McCaffery's affections she boarded his car and shot him. Then she went to her home and tried to end her life with a dose of poison. The other day Miss Clancy was at Judge Clark's court on a charge of assault to kill, but when the case was called the defense announced that McCaffery wished the suit dismissed and that by an agreement the defendant would pay costs. Miss Clancy has settled her differences with McCaffery and will marry him in a short time. Judge Clark dismissed the case.

TO PREVENT CONSUMPTION.

SIR,—It is most gratifying to learn that one of our medical men, at least, has seen the necessity of taking some steps for the prevention of that disease, most dreaded of all diseases—consumption. It is to be sincerely hoped that Dr. McLeod's paper will receive the attention it merits, and we should be very grateful to the Doctor for bringing the matter before the public. Eminent medical men have for years been studying this disease, and they tell us that it is a disease which is infectious, also a disease which cannot be cured, but can be prevented. This being so, we should deal with it precisely as we should treat any other infectious disease, such as small-pox, etc. and since it is preventable, we should do everything in our power to prevent it. Drunkenness is also a disease which is hard to cure but can be prevented. A continual war has for years past been waged upon drunkenness, large sums of money have been expended, eloquent men have lectured from one end of the country to another, and we have had wise men lecturing on this question of the prevention of drunkenness.

And all the while a vampire has been in our midst, that claims probably many more than even the deadly liquor habit, and nothing or nearly nothing has been done to stop its ravages. Now we are told it can be prevented, but in order to do this we must have legislation, and we must educate the people up to do their part. It is not necessary to mention the measures proposed by Dr. McLeod, but I would like to suggest a few additional measures. If we go into the public schools we will find in the hands of the pupils textbooks on temperance. Why should not the pupils be taught concerning the prevention of consumption? And let us further follow up the principles of the temperance party. Let us have lectures on the subject from men capable of doing so. Let us form leagues for the prevention of consumption. There is another source of consumption, which has not yet been mentioned by doctor or layman. I refer to the marriage of consumptive persons. This is one of the most fruitful sources of consumption. We should have a law preventing the marriage of such persons. And I believe that sometime in the near future we will have such a law, because the need for such a law is constantly increasing. In most all enlightened countries the war has been declared against consumption. Why should we, who boast of being as enlightened as any other country on the face of the earth, be the last to see the necessity for such a step? One man has had the courage of his convictions, and has spoken out, let us see how many will follow his example. Or will the movement be allowed to die a natural death, and no more be said about it? We who live in a country so famous for its healthy climate as P. E. I., should not look on unmoved, when we see this disease entering our homes and taking away one after another irrespective of age, or position, or riches, when anything can be done to prevent it.

Yours, respectfully,
ANTI-TUBERCULOSIST.

Through Tickets and Baggage.

SIR,—As you are ever ready in your popular journal to explain any questions that seem to interest your country friends, I would like to know why the government of our Dominion never make any move to help our surplus population into the great Northwest? Our young men and women every spring and fall make a stampede to Uncle Sam's dominion and every convenience is offered them in the way of travel. They can purchase a ticket at any regular R. R. station on the Island to Boston or any other U. S. city but if they want to go to Montreal or any points west in our own land you cannot purchase a ticket or get your baggage checked at any place but Charlottetown or Summerside. Now this is quite an inconvenience to people who do not happen to live in those favoured cities.

I see that the Doukhobors got a free pass from Halifax to Winnipeg. I have no fault to find with that, but why not give our own men and women who wish to go there a free pass too occasionally, say twice a year, spring and fall? Are they not as good a class of people? Are they not twice as good as any immigrants we can get from the half civilized nations of Europe? They are educated and intelligent, speak the same language and belong to the same noble race that poets and statesmen talk so much about of late. Then why should we let them go to a foreign land when we know they could do better in our own if they were only helped to get there—a land where they can get a home of their own in a few years with fertile soil, under their own flag and governed by the best laws on either side the Atlantic.

If the tide of emigration from our own Island, was once turned westward it would likely stay that way, for those who would go there and prosper would write to their friends and neighbors and more would be sure to follow. How much better to have homes of their own than to serve in a strange land, scores of them every year finding a sailor's grave on George's Bank.

er government or private, keep up their tariffs and make it as inconvenient as possible for our people to go west, will this state of things continue. As a well wisher of my country I would like to see it made easier for our people to go west if they want to, so that they would help to build up our own land, in whose future I have every faith.

Yours truly,
A. PATRIOT.

CRAPAUD CREAMERY—A FINE SHOWING.

SIR,—In looking over the published reports of the different cheese and butter factories of the province it is gratifying to see that in almost every case satisfactory returns have been realized by the patrons and to note the steady progress our farmers are making in this very important industry. Nowhere I think, is this more observable than in the case of the Crapaud Creamery whose printed statement for the past season has recently been issued. If this statement be compared with that of 1894, the first year the factory was in operation, it is surprising to see the advancement this factory has made during the five years it has been running. In 1894 from June to December there were 480,746 lbs of milk supplied by 76 patrons and the amount of butter manufactured was 20,684 lbs, realizing $3,713.20 while for the same time last year there were 2,877,959 lbs of milk producing 127,977 lbs of butter which realized $22,480.76. From this it will be seen that the business of this factory has increased about six fold during the time stated; in fact the milk supplied by the ten leading patrons during the past season amounted to about 487,000 lbs, considerable more than the total amount sent by the 76 patrons in 1894. Now Mr. Editor as I am much interested in the dairying industry, not only of our own community but of the whole province, I would like to know if there are ten patrons of any other factory on the Island, that have done better than this. If so I would like to be informed through the columns of your paper.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 27.—Tom Allen an old-time prize fighter, at one time heavy-weight champion of the world, in under arrest charged with murder. Tom Couprey, whom Allan shot in the course of a fracas in the prizefighter's saloon, died at the City Hospital shortly before midnight last night. Allan declares that he thought Couprey was going to shoot him, and for that reason used his revolver.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. Thomas Harrison, of St. Mary's N. B., tells a Thrilling.

His Doctor Failed to Benefit him—No Treatment availed till Dodd's Kidney Pills Were Used—They Brought a Huge Stone from the Bladder.

Fredericton N. B. March 1.—Dodd's Kidney Pills have been making a reputation in the pretty and picturesque village of St. Mary's—a suburb of this city.

Mr. Thomas Harrison, one of the most prominent residents of the village, comes forward with a narrative of disease and suffering, of hope deferred, and final release, that reads almost like a romance.

For a year or more, Mr. Harrison says he suffered with horribly severe pains in his back. A dull, heavy listlessness overcame him, as to cause serious alarm. He consulted a physician who put him under treatment. No good resulted however. Mr. Harrison's condition grew rapidly worse. Soon his urine began to be tinted with blood, and this condition became more and more pronounced, as time went on.

One day, about this time, a friend advised him to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Willing to try anything that promised relief, the sufferer did so. He used just one box, when a large, ragged stone, which had grown in his bladder, was voided.

Ease came at once, after this. Mr. Harrison used two more boxes of the pills, and these effected a through cure. To-day, there is not a more robust healthy man than he, in Fredericton. Thousands of persons are suffering from stone in the bladder, but do not realize it. A dull, heavy pain in the small of the back, and a sensation of languor and heaviness are unfailing indications of this disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure stone in the bladder.

GENTLEMEN,—In January last, Francis Leclair, one of the men employed by a tree, working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain, and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to work again.
