the reorganization of the finances of his department provided he next takes up certain pressing reforms. It declares we are still far behind Great Britain, where the telegraph and telephone services are made a part of the postal system; that we are far behind Britain and European countries in the matter of parcel post; that many countries have a cheaper and speedier money order system than Canada, and that we are far behind the United States in regard to rural delivery. These are interesting and helpful suggestions, and they accord, with views frequently presented in The Guardian. We believe, too, that Sir William Mulock, who has already accomplished so much for the reform and improvement of our postal system will follow with reasonable speed along the lines suggested. Our system is yet far from perfect. The telegraph system will yet we believe be taken over by the Government. That course would be warmly approved by the people of this Island, alike on its general merits and as a relief from our present disabilities. Rural delivery must also be introduced before long. But Rome was not built in a day. We are thankful for what our present able and energetic Postmaster General has already accomplished and we find in it the best assurance possible that he will introduce other needed reforms from year to year while he holds a position in the Government of the country.

THE MORNING GUARDIAN

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1902.

THE OPPOSITION VIEW.

Sir William Mulock in an address delivered before the Mulock Club in Toronto a few days ago took large credit to himself and the Government of which he is a member for what they have done in connection with the postal service of the country. The salient features are that the postal service of Canada had never been self-sustaining; that there were large annual deficits in this department from year to year; that these deficits were frequently over half a million yearly and that in the last year before the change of Government the deficiency was over three quarters of a million of dollars; that in those days the internal letter rate was three cents and the rate between Canada and Great Britain was five cents; that our people had frequently asked for a reduced rate making letter postage in Canada the same as in the United States; that successive Conservative Postmaster Generals, Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. George E. Foster had declared such reduction impossible except by enormously increasing the postal deficit; that the present Government had reduced the letter rate in Canada from three to two cents, and between Canada and Great Britain from five to two cents and at the same time had greatly increased the length of mail routes, the number of post offices and money order offices and the frequency of service; that while this was being done the deficit of the Post Office Department had been steadily diminished until in the past year, omitting the mail service to the Yukon where there was no mail service under the late Conservative Government, there was an actual surplus of five thousand dollars in the finances of the Department.

Several of the opposition journals have joined issue with Sir William on various features of his interesting and cheering statement. The St. John Sun for instance, claims that there is no real surplus in the transactions of the Post Office; that the cost of the Yukon postal service ought to be taken into account, and that Mr. Mulock had reimposed postage upon newspapers, which the Conservative Government had long ago abolished. It will be observed that this criticism leaves untouched the principal claims which Sir William set up, of having greatly reduced the letter rate, to the abundant satisfaction of the people, and at the same time having brought about an equilibrium between the revenue and expenditure of his department where before the adverse balance was so large. We think the general feeling of the country will be to bestow a large measure of credit upon Sir William Mulock for what he has accomplished. No one would willingly see the five-cent letter rate to England or the three-cent rate in Canada again imposed.

The Toronto World, a prominent Conservative journal takes a fairer and more practical view, admitting that Sir William has accomplished great things, but calling attention to several things which it conceives to be yet necessary to be done. It says The World will give Sir William Mulock credit for all that he claims in

WORK OF INCENDIARY.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 5.—Reports received here today by mail show the big fire which partially destroyed the town of St. Pierre, Miquelon, last Saturday night, was due to incendiarism. The fire originated in the Catholic cathedral. An unknown man was seen leaving the building by a window shortly after the fire broke out.

BURGLAR TOOK PROCEEDS.

COLCHESTER, Conn., Nov. 5.—Michael Levine, a farmer of this town, was robbed last night of a safe containing $1,100, the proceeds of a recent auction sale of farm property. The safe, which was a small affair, was in a room next to the chamber in which Mr. Levine slept, but the burglars pried open a window of the room lifted out the safe and escaped.

LAURIE AND TARTE.

MONTREAL, November 4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tarte spoke at the annual dinner of Laval university, but there was nothing new in the speeches. The premier contented himself with a number of reminiscences of his university life and made no reference to the cabinet changes. Mr. Tarte made a patriotic speech in favor of his policy of "Canada for Canadians."

OSTRICH LOGIC.

"When I can't see danger there is no danger." That's the logic of the ostrich which hides its head and exposes its body to the hunter. There are not a few people who seem to have gone to the ostrich to learn logic. The most dangerous enemies of humanity are the enemies which can't be seen, the disease breeding microbes which infect the blood. It is harder to get the microbes out of the blood than to keep it out, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does both, by purifying the blood and then keeping it pure. If there are eruptions on the skin, boils, pimples, sores or other signs of impure blood, use Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which will purify the blood and cure the eruptions which come from it.

"My blood was all out of order, and I had to go to the doctor," writes Mrs. James R. Moss, New London, Stanley Co., N.C. "He gave me medicine which helped me for a short time. In the winter of 1895 I got worse than I had ever been. My tonsils were enlarged and my neck swollen all out of shape; my throat was sore and I could not cure it. My husband went for the doctor, but he gave me no encouragement. He helped me a little, but it did not last long. He attended me for twelve months, when I heard of a lady whose condition was like mine, who was taking your medicine and was getting well. So I secured some of the medicine and began taking it. In one week I was able to do my cooking. When I began taking the medicine I could sit up only a few minutes at a time, and I could rest or sleep only a little while at a time. My throat was so sore at times I could not even swallow sweet milk, and my tonsils were full of little eating sores. My left side was swollen out of shape and I could hardly get my breath. The doctor said I would not get well, but three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, three bottles of his 'Pellets,' three bottles of Dr. Saxe's Catarrh Remedy and the use of salt water did the work and cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its consequences.
