In Memoriam

HANNING

Sacred to the Memory of a dear Husband and Daddy,
PTE. ALLAN HANNING

Pleasant Grove, who gave his life for his Country and loved ones on the battlefields of France on Sept. 4th, 1914.

He has solved M. M.'s wonderful problem
The dearest, the strangest, the last
And into the school of the angels,
With the answer forever has passed
How strange he should sleep so profound
So young, so dear,
While beside him brimful of hope's nectar,
Untouched stood the goblet of life,
God knew all about him how noble
How gentle he was, and how brave
How bright his possible future
Yet put him all about in his grave,
God knew all about those who loved him
How bitter the trial must be
And fight through it all God is loving
And knows so much better than we.

Proudly Remembered by Wife
Pearl and Daughter Betty,
Toronto.

Campbell as co-pilot. The 200-mile flight to Sydney, the Canadian terminal for the service, was made in an hour and 20 minutes.

The French Government has appropriated nine million francs (approximately $750,000) to improve the St. Pierre airport in the next two years.

Some 4,500 people on St. Pierre-Miquelon are served by the new service, in addition to a smaller number in southern Newfoundland, some nine miles away.

City Schools Are Improved

In preparation for the opening of the four City schools for the fall term which commences Tuesday, September 15th, much work has been carried out during the summer months in the redecorating and general improvement of the facilities of these schools, Mayor T.E. MacNutt, M.P.E., Secretary of the City School Board, stated yesterday.

West Kent, Queen Square, Prince Street and Rochford Street Schools have all been redecorated inside with new paint jobs on the walls and ceilings whitened, as well as other necessary cleaning up and improvements carried out, including the re-decorating of the assembly halls at West Kent and Prince St.

New up to date lavatory equipment is also being installed at West Kent, and the boiler room at Prince Street has been made as nearly fire-proof as possible. The janitors' houses at Prince Street and West Kent have also been re-painted, as well as a new fence having been erected around the Prince Street janitor's residence.

The teaching staffs for the four City schools are complete for the new term, Major MacNutt said, and that four or five changes in appointment which had taken place have already appeared in the press.

The most recent appointment on local teaching staffs has been that of Mr. John Stanton, City, who has been appointed Manual Training instructor for Queen Square School, in place of Mr. Percy Barlow, who has retired from the position in June, after giving many faithful and efficient years of service in that capacity.

Women's Institute Executive Meeting

A meeting of the Provincial executive of the Women's Institutes was held yesterday at 11 A.M. in the Best Room. With the president, Mrs. Macdonald, in the chair and a full attendance of members, a very heavy agenda of business was transacted.

Members learned with concern of the recent health of Superintendent of the Institute, Mrs. Bruce, and Mrs. Stewart. These same ladies, with power to add to their number, were named responsible for arrangements of the next meeting, which is the first week in November.

The possibility of a new issue of the Institute cook book was discussed, and Mrs. Macdonald and Mrs. Stewart were appointed to investigate and report on this project.

Extension work discussion brought out many ideas for handkerchiefs which would utilize Island products, and it was decided to explore the possibility of securing handcraft instructors for Institute members.

Other business discussed included: Insure the items; Drama Festival trophy placement; the printing of official stationery for use of members; and the mimeographing of minutes of executive meetings.

Mrs. Allison MacMillan spoke briefly about Federated Women's Institute work. She also mentioned the anticipated visit to Canada of the International president of the Associated Country Women of the World, Mrs. Sage, and hoped it would be possible for her to include this Province in her Canadian tour next summer.

Labor Day Message from Mr. Mitchell

I would like to express on this occasion my greetings to the workers of Canada.

We have enjoyed another year of high employment, high wages and sound family security. The country has had the benefit, I think, generally of wise labour leadership, and I see no reason why this very satisfactory condition cannot continue in the future.

It seems to me that the leaders of our labour organizations, and those in the ranks as well, are coming more and more to realize that the road to social security does not lie in the direction of a continuous competition between wages rates and the price of commodities.

What we need, of course, and what we must consciously strive to obtain, is greater stability in our wages and prices. With this condition, labour and management will find themselves much better off than when participating in a race in which there is no final goal.

Generally, we have had a high order of industrial peace in Canada in the past year; we have an increased realization of the responsibilities of both parties in industrial good will. I am hopeful that the same condition will exist in the next year. I do not think it need to point out that, if there is industrial strife, both sides lose. The only way both sides can win is by way of cooperation and amicable settlement of differences between them.

I want to assure both labour and management that the services of the Federal Department of Labour are always at their disposal.

We have now a new "Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act". It has been generally endorsed, but on the arrival of practical experience, defects may be revealed. What I do sincerely want is to have labour and management join in a real effort to make it work. I am sure they will. However, if after a fair trial it is found that changes seem desirable then I want to hear from both sides and also the provincial governments and suggestions resulting will be most carefully considered.

It is my earnest hope that Labour Day of 1948 will be another milestone in the forward march of our trade unions and employer organizations, uninterupted production, continued high employment and improvement of living standards of the working men and women of Canada.
