The death of Miss Annie Alley, who passed away at the Queen Hotel about twenty minutes after eight Monday night, will be greatly deplored by her numerous friends. Miss Alley had been in failing health for several months, and had been confined to her room for the past six weeks, where she grew gradually weaker until she fell into her long last sleep.

Miss Alley was a daughter of the late Thomas Alley, and a sister of the late Judge Alley, of this city. She was a most estimable lady, possessing rare talents as an artist and a writer. Many of her verses had been published from time to time and she was as skillful with the brush as with the pen. She was an intense lover of her native province. Her natural beauty strongly appealed to her artistic mind, and formed the theme of a number of her writings. She usually spent the summers at the seaside, and of late at the Sea Breeze Hotel in Georgetown. Among her immediate surviving relatives is a nephew, Dr. Gordon T. Alley, of this city.

Citizens were shocked yesterday when they heard of the sudden death of Mr. George A. Thompson of the firm of Poole & Thompson, Ltd., Montserrat which sad event took place yesterday morning. Apparently in excellent health Mr. Thompson retired about 10:30 p.m. but had occasion to go to the bathroom about 2 a.m. and was there stricken by death, expiring from heart failure.

The late Mr. Thompson was a general friend, a keen business man and a staunch supporter of good works.

He was born at Albion on January 18, 1855, and had therefore passed his seventieth year. He was a son of the late William and Bevy (Allin) Thompson, the former a native of Ireland, and the latter of English birth. The father of the deceased followed the occupation of farming and milling for many years.

George A. Thompson was educated in the public schools of the neighbourhood, and for a time was an active assistant to his father on the home farm. At the early age of seventeen he took charge of his father's mill, which he ably conducted for seven years. He then went to sea for a short time, and afterwards purchased a vessel of his own, with which he carried on trading between New Brunswick and the West Indies and a number of points, following up this business for about six years.

Mr. Christie had just returned on Sunday last from Europe where he had been on a business visit. He was taken ill on the voyage and on arrival at St. John was removed to the hospital where he underwent an operation on Sunday. The latest news indicates that Mr. Christie is making satisfactory progress.

The body of the late Senator P. C. Murphy was laid to rest yesterday in Finnish Cemetery.

Despite the very disagreeable weather, hundreds of people, coming by road from the outlying districts, and from Charlottetown and intermediate points by special train, gathered in the town of Tignish to pay the last tributes of respect for the dead. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in Prince Edward Island and practically the whole population of Tignish and surrounding country attended it.

On the arrival of the special train from Charlottetown, the cortege, preceded by a large body of the members of the Knights of Columbus Societies proceeded to the Church of St. Simon and St. Jude which was appropriately draped, and in which the impressive Solemn High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Reverend P. C. Gaudet, assisted by Rev. Geo. McCabe, as Deacon; Rev. John Gaudet, Bloomfield, as sub-Deacon, and Rev. M. J. Rooney as Master of Ceremonies.

The church which seats fifteen hundred persons, was filled to overflowing.

Macdonald, Summerside; P. P. Arsenault, Mont Carmel; M. Monaghan, Misouche; Dr. McLeellan; P. D. McGuigan, Ver non Rector; T. Campbell, Alberton; F. C. Connolly, Wellington, M. J. Smith, Kinkora; J. A sleigh immediately preceding the hearse was heaped high with floral tributes from relatives and friends at home and abroad.

The visitors who attended the funeral have the ladies of the town to thank for a splendid dinner served in a most generous and hospitable manner in the C. M. B. A. Hall. This thoughtful act was much appreciated.

The funeral was directed by Mr. P. C. Bowness, undertaker, Summerside.

(Special to The Guardian) SUMMERSIDE, March 11.—The bodies of Rose Macdonald, the 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Macdonald, Outlots Island and Alere Gaudin, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaudin, Alberton who were drowned at Charlottetown Sunday night were recovered Tuesday afternoon. The body of Miss Macdonald was found at 3 o'clock and that of young Gaudin in about an hour later. They both had their skates on when found, and Miss Macdonald's walking boots were also taken up with her body.

Searching parties have been working ever since the accident and on Monday decided to concentrate their efforts on one particular opening which they thought the children had skated into and which is about 500 or 600 yards from the Alberton Shoal wharves down towards the mouth of the harbor. On Monday the opening was small and it was difficult to work with boats, but the weather aided the searchers and on Tuesday the opening was considerably larger enabling the crews to use several boats with the result that after strenuous and continuous grappling the bodies were recovered, in this particular opening just where the searchers had concluded they were.

Additional particulars of the accident are that the little girl had crossed a field from Dock Creek to the shore at Alberton south from which point she could take the most direct route to her home on Outlots Island. She was on the shore with some other young folks somewhat afraid to make the crossing as she did not know the ice at this point, Young Gaudin came along, it is said, and told Miss Macdonald that he knew the route as he had driven a load of wood over it on Saturday (the day before the accident). Young Gaudin was not skating, but went into his home and got his skates. The two young people skated off from their friends on the ice and it could not have been any more than five minutes after leaving them that they skated into the opening and were drowned, as it is only about three quarters of a mile across. There was a light snow covering the ice and this may be the reason the children did not see the hole before skating into it.

The coroner (Dr. Taylor) viewed the bodies on Tuesday evening but considered an inquest unnecessary.

The funerals will be held this morning to the Sacred Heart Church, Alberton.

At the Rotary Luncheon yesterday the speaker was Mr. Justice Arsenault an honorary member of the Club, who gave an interesting address on "Some Characteristics of the French Nation." The Judge visited France last year, and in the course of his address he set forth some of the results of the observations in that country. He mentioned the outstanding characteristics of the French people he mentioned the freedom from affectation and self-consciousness, sobriety, industry, and economy. One strong characteristic is their belief in full liberty of action as long as it does not interfere with the liberty of their fellow subjects.

The Reparations problem and other questions arising out of the Great War were also briefly referred to.

Rotarian P. W. Clarkin, who presided, extended the thanks of the meeting to the Judge for his excellent address.

In the morning hours of Friday, January 23rd, 1925, Mr. John MacCallum, a very highly esteemed resident of Glasgow Road passed peacefully away at the early age of 33 years.

The deceased had been in a rather poor condition of health for several months but up until a short while before his death he was attending to his work.

For a couple of weeks or more before the coming of the end he suffered from a heavy cold and occasional attacks of rheumatism. This heavy cold later developed into pneumonia. In a few days this dread disease completed its work and on the morning of the above mentioned date his gentle spirit winged its homeward flight.

Mr. MacCallum was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacCallum and leaves to mourn his loss a loving mother, who is grievously stricken over her great sorrow, one brother William MacCallum of Glasgow Road and two sisters Mrs. Leslie Ford, Rustico Road and Miss Helen MacCallum at home. His father predeceased him some four years ago.

Mr. MacCallum will be much missed not only in his own home where for a number of years he has been in charge but also in the whole community where he was admired by all. He was of a very unassuming nature and shrank from publicity of any kind, but in his even quiet way was ever ready to lend a hand in every good cause. On a few special occasions he was prevailed upon to give readings at public gatherings and his readings were always good and much appreciated by all who heard them.
