Monument for Rev D Southerland.

A meeting was held last evening in the Y M C Parlor to give shape to the general desire that the late Rev D Southerland, in view of his able, self-denying and most useful services should have a public monument. THE GUARDIAN understands that the movement grew out of the expressed desire of a number of persons to contribute to that end. A committee was appointed composed of one member from each city church to carry out the wishes of the meeting. In order to enable as many as might desire to share in erecting the memorial it was desired that no larger sum than twenty-five cents nor less than 10 cents should be received from any person. The committee will in due time announce the places at which money will be received for this purpose, probably in city stores. The list will be kept open for a limited time. THE GUARDIAN feels assured that a very large number of the people will desire to share in providing this public memorial for a most worthy minister, now passed away.
