MONDAY

An impression prevails in England since the Kaiser's attendance at King Edward's funeral, that the German Emperor is now desirous to form a world league of peace. He was born of a warrior stock and had his youthful enthusiasm stirred by the victories of the Franco-Prussian War. Yet in reigning 22 years he has found no opportunity to distinguish himself in warfare, while King Edward in half that time made himself a great name as a peacemaker, and was universally mourned at his death. The Kaiser's best chance for enduring fame would now be in taking up the work of peace and he may see it in that light.

TUESDAY

Telegraphic advices from Ottawa announce the appointment of Hon. Benjamin Rogers of Alberton as Lieutenant Governor of this Province. Although there were a number of applicants for the position from among public men who might be thought fairly entitled to promotion, the appointment of Hon. Mr. Rogers was from the first confidently expected by a large number of those who take an interest in such matters. And though there has been delay, the appointment now made, without depreciating the claims or popularity of other aspirants, may be said to fairly meet the expectations and the wishes of the majority of the people of the Province. Governor Rogers has long had a prominent place among the public men of the western section of the Province, and has been recognized as one who stood for the cause of right in moral and social affairs as well as in public life.

The new Lieutenant Governor has had an extended connection with the public affairs of the Province. It is now thirty-two years since he was first elected to the Legislative Council. For some years he led the Liberal Opposition in that Chamber, and later was elected to the House of Assembly and was a member of the successive Liberal Governments led respectively by Hon. Frederick Peters, Hon. A. B. Warburton, Hon. Donald Farquharson and Hon. Arthur Peters. On the reconstruction of the Farquharson Ministry in 1900 he was appointed to the position of Provincial Secretary, Treasurer and Commissioner of Agriculture the latter being a newly created department. It became his duty to organize and develop it, and the importance it has since assumed is largely due to his capability and energy in shaping its affairs and outlining and directing its work from 1900 to 1909. Hon. Mr. Rogers also served upon important delegations to Ottawa from time to time and took part in the interprovincial conferences which resulted in an increase of subsidies to the Provinces.

Hon. Mr. Rogers is the ninth Lieutenant Governor appointed for this Province since the union with Canada in 1873. Their names and the date of appointment in each case are as follows:

- Hon. W. C. F. Robinson, June 10, 1873.
- Sir Robert Hodgson, Nov. 22, 1873.
- Hon. T. H. Haviland, July 14, 1879.
- Hon. A. A. McDonald, Aug. 1, 1884.
- Hon. J. S. Carvell, Sept. 2, 1889.
- Hon. G. W. Howland, Feb. 21, 1894.
- Hon. P. A. McIntyre, May 23, 1899.
- Hon. D. A. McKinnon, Oct. 3, 1904.
- Hon. B. Rogers, May 28, 1910.

So far no Lieutenant Governor in this Province has been accorded a second term in office, although this has sometimes happened in other Provinces. Governor McKinnon and Mrs. McKinnon have enjoyed an extended term at Government House which many would gladly have had further extended. Their kindly and gracious courtesy has made the ancient residence a more popular and pleasant centre of social life than it had before been and hosts of friends will wish them every happiness and prosperity hereafter.

Charlottetown as well as the Province will accord congratulations to Lieutenant Governor Rogers and Mrs. Rogers, both of whom are well and favorably known in this city, although hitherto residing at a distance. He is well versed in all our public questions, and will find little difficulty in discharging the official duties which the constitution enjoins. His advisers will be his former colleagues in the Government. Mrs. Rogers is admirably equipped for the social duties of her new and exalted position. The Guardian joins in the hope and confident expectation that the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Rogers may heartily enjoy the positions to which they have been allied throughout their full term, and amid the happiest official and social relations.

WEDNESDAY
The opening of the South African Parliament yesterday inaugurates the third confederation of Provinces beyond the sea under the British flag. Canada was the first, and began business as a Dominion in 1867. The Australian Commonwealth started some thirty-three years later at the beginning of the century and now the South African Union is consummated. The area of the new union is considerably less than that of Canada or Australia, being 666,639 square miles. The white population is also much less, being 1,188,570 souls, along with a colored native population of 4,282,720, making a total of 5,471,490 white and colored. More than half the white population is in Cape Colony alone, while Natal has 95,440, the Transvaal 325,250, and the Orange River Colony 157,200 white people. The colored native problem will be a serious problem for the future, as they are increasing quite rapidly.

The new Parliament sits in Cape Town at the southern end of the Union while the seat of the Executive Government is in Pretoria in the far north. Cape Town has a population of about 90,000 while Pretoria's population numbers about 15,000. The new Parliament consists of a Senate of 64 members and a House of Assembly of 121 members. Four Senators for each Province are nominated by the Governor General and four elected.

The members of the Assembly are elected, and are allotted among the Provinces as follows: Cape Colony 51, Natal 17, Transvaal 36, Orange River Colony 17. The members will receive an indemnity of $1500 each per session. Each Province will also have a local Council to deal with local matters, and the local Council with the members representing the Province in the House of Assembly will elect the four elective Senators for a Province, such Senators to hold office for ten years.

General Botha is Premier and Minister of Agriculture in the new South African Government. The names of his colleagues as the cable brings them to hand are General Slutz, Sauer, Hertzog, Malan and Hull. Taken altogether the lot seems to be very strongly Dutch, the last name in the list alone being distinctly English. How this arrangement will strike the ultra British and loyal element in South Africa we shall learn presently. At this distance it looks a little lop-sided.

The flags flying in Charlottetown yesterday in commemoration of the opening of the first Parliament of the United South Africa, gave a glimpse of the growth of imperial sentiment. The war, in which Canadian soldiers took part, no doubt greatly increased our interest in that distant portion of the Empire, while at the same time greatly strengthening the bond which binds the whole imperial fabric together.

The year after the war with Russia, Japan imported but 348 head of beef cattle. Last year 20,000 head were imported, showing that the Japanese are gradually adopting a meat diet. Wheat flour is also being imported in growing quantities. There is some speculation as to whether the adoption of western food, manners and customs will have an injurious effect, or otherwise, upon Japanese valor and patriotism.

THURSDAY

In our King's County columns yesterday morning was recorded a deed of heroism that entitles the principal actor to enduring fame. The hero is Master Allan, not yet eleven years of age, son of Captain George Allan. He displayed a marvellous courage, coupled with coolness and skill that are beyond all praise. From the published account, which comes from our regular correspondent at Montague and is entirely trustworthy, young Allan saved the lives of the six boys whose rescue he went at the risk of his own life. It was a noble achievement of which he may well feel proud, and his parents, friends and the people of Montague generally may justly share in the feeling. In honoring such heroic life-saving the community may feel that they will be paying honor to the best attributes of our common humanity.

The heroism that saves life, while taking such risks and displaying such cool and resourceful skill, may surely rank with the highest courage shown on the battlefield and should receive worthy recognition. The juvenile age of the hero increases the obligation. Young Allan has set a noble example that will doubtless inspire others of the youth of the land to like courageous and manly helpfulness in future emergencies. What he did was done without thought of reward or of fame, and seems to fulfill all the requisites for which the Carnegie Hero Fund and the Royal Humane Society were established. We sincerely hope that his claims to recognition may be promptly presented and may find acceptance.

FRIDAY

The Boston Herald advocated the law and bottle bill which recently became law in Massachusetts. It forbids the sale of liquor by the glass and in bottles in the same place and under the same license. The brewers at once withdrew their liquor advertising from The Herald, and that journal is now exposing the intimate and corrupt relations between the brewers and the saloons, and the baneful influence of the liquor interests upon politics.

George Cresceus (3)227 42246
Winner 23 and 4 year old trot Halifax

Gentlemen! Why breed to a "WOULD BE" WILL BE, or "MIGHT HAVE BEEN"? Why not breed to a horse who goes out and wins first money every year and will do it again. When Cresceus raced at Halifax, the Halifax Herald said "Four colts faced the wire but after the second heat there was nothing to it but the Fredrickson mare and the son of the Great Cresceus whose superior breeding seemed to tell in the 2nd heat". This horse has proved himself a trotter, sire and show horse, and I will give a free colt from Cresceus unsound or that can be bought for less than $200. He will stand at Park Stables, Cor Queen and Easton Streets, M. A. Driver in charge. For further information apply to:
