MAGIC IN GOLD AND HUMOR.

How Happy Combination of the Two Put End to "Run" on Famous Mous English Bank.

A story is told, with some reservation, by a London paper, concerning the grandfather of the well-known Quaker peer, Lord Peckover. The story goes that, during a run on the bank of which he was principal, at one time known as that of Gurney, Birkbeck, Peckover & Co., he exhibited, within sight of the counter, bags full of gold, surmounted by a peck measure, also filled with sovereigns. "You see," he explained to the depositors anxious to draw their balances, "that there is enough money for you all, and a peck over." This is said to have terminated the run. Such is the magic of gold, and of humor. One feels by no means certain that stack of "fivers" would have achieved the same happy result. Or, to revert to the time of George III, when the sum of two pence was represented by a solid two-ounce coin, would a large pile of these weighty "cartwheels" have allayed the fears of the small depositors? No! Not even a warehouseful!—Christian Science Monitor.

A PRAYER

I do not ask a broad, unchanging path Down, sunny slopes; Methinks that one most sure Thy guiding hath, Who blindly gropes O'er roughest darkest ways. I do not ask my shoulders may be Of load or cross; Were never need of seeking aid of These. Lord, mine the loss. And mine the saddest days. Not like to roses would I have my years, To pluck and wear; But when I know the thorns, and then the tears For strength to bear. For this Thy wanderer prays. Lucy Gertrude Clarkin. DEPENDS ON THE RESULT.

Butter And Cheese Lower At Auction

MONTREAL, June 6.—Saturday being partly a holiday there were no receipts of butter or cheese posted at the Board of Trade. The usual auction sale of creamery butter was held and the prices realized showed a further decline of 3-8c to 1-2c per lb. as compared with those of the previous one, which indicates that the undertone sympathy with the above local prices for round lots were reduced 1-2c per lb., with finest creamery offering at 30c to 30.1-2c and met with a slow sale. Local wholesale prices for round lots were quoted as follows: Pasteurized creamery 30 1-2c to 31c. Fine creamery 30c to 30.1-2c. Fine creamery 29 1-4c to 29.1-2c. A weaker feeling also prevailed in the local cheese situation owing to the lower values ruling at the country boards on Thursday, and at the auction sale of Ontario cheese held here yesterday prices declined 1-4c to 7-8c per lb. as compared with those paid on Tuesday. There is expected to be a steady demand from English importers for supplies and some business is passing daily, but the market on the whole is rather quiet.

AUCTION SALE OF BUTTER

At the Quebec Agricultural Co-operative Society sale held at the Board of Trade yesterday there were 1,870 packages of creamery butter offered, of which 475 packages finest sold at 29.7-8c per lb., 495 packages finest A at 29.7-8c, and 325 packages fine at 28.3-4c, while 30 1-4c per lb. was bid for 575 packages of pasteurized creamery and refused. This bid was 1.1-2c per lb. below the previous sale of this class of butter.

AUCTION SALE OF CHEESE

COUNTRY PRODUCE

The trade in eggs in a wholesale jobbing way was fairly active yesterday, there being a good demand from grocers and other dealers for small lots to meet immediate wants. There was no change in prices to note, notwithstanding the advance reports to have been paid in the country of late for car lots of current receipts, but the undertone to the market was firm. We quote wholesale jobbing prices as follows: Selected eggs33c to 34c Straight candled31 to 32c No. 1 stock29c to 30c No. 2 stock26c to 27c The trade in maple product was rather slow owing to the fact that buyers in most cases had ample supplies on hand to meet their actual requirements and in consequence the demand was limited but the tone of the market was steady and prices were unchanged with maple syrup quoted at $2.10

TO $2.25 PER TIN OF ONE GALLON, AND LIGHT COLORED MAPLE SYRUP AT 22c TO 23c PER LB., AND DARK GRADDES AT 20c TO 21c.

The market for potatoes were without any new feature to note, business in car lots being still slow, of which the offerings for shipment from country points were fair, but buyers showed no interest and prices were nominally unchanged for Green Mountains at 75c to 80c, and Quebec stock at 65c to 70c per bag of 90c lbs. extra-track. Hedtmund in a jobbing way was steady at 85c to 90c per bag of 80 lbs. ex-store. NEW YORK, June 3.—Eggs, irregular. Receipts, 52,756 cases. BROODING CHICKS ARTIFICIALLY.

Warmth is the first requirement of young chicks, and when they are placed in the brooder the temperature should be about 100 degrees F. on a level with the chicks. This temperature should be lowered gradually from week to week, depending upon the season. In the early season the chicks will require being brooded at a higher temperature for a longer time than later on. Chicks that are hatched about the first of April should be brooded for about ten weeks. It is important to watch the chicks closely the first few nights after being placed in the brooding quarters to see that they do not get too far away from the source of heat or do not pile up in one corner of the room. The latter is disastrous. Put pieces of board across all corners so that there are no square corners into which chicks so frequently crowd. Keep the temperature even and thus avoid driving the chick away from the brooder by too much heat, and also avoid having them crowd together under the brooder by too little heat. When they are most comfortable they flatten out just around the edge of the brooder. For the first day or two keep them confined near the brooder and gradually enlarge the space until they have free access to all parts of the room.—M. A. J.

A COMMERCIAL CHICK RATION.

The following chick ration has given very good results in different parts of the country. One feature of the ration is that it provides plenty of variety and is also palatable. Like any other ration, it should be fed carefully during the first three or four weeks, as that is the period of danger in over feeding. Grain ration:— 10 pounds cracked corn. 10 pounds cracked wheat. 10 pounds steel-cut oats. Dry mash ration:— 10 pounds bran. 10 pounds shorts. 5 pounds cornmeal. 5 pounds meatscraps. 2-1/2 pounds charcoal. In addition plenty of sour milk should be provided in pans. Drinking water should always be provided and it is well to put enough potassium permanganate in it to make it light wine-colored. Give the chicks grit and fine oyster shell. More rapid growth can be obtained by giving, in addition to the dry mash, a moist mash feeding once daily. Just moisten the dry mash given above slightly with milk or water and feed in V-shaped troughs.—M. A. J.

HOW DO YOU USE THE ROLLER?

We are told by no less an authority than the Dominion Field Husbandman, that many of us do not use the roller properly. It is generally used, as most of us know, to put the finishing touch to seedling operations, whereas its chief value is for firming and crumpling the soil previous to seeding. It is essential, however, to use the roller immediately after seeding on light soils, though it should be followed by the drag harrow to stir the smooth surface, in order to restore the much and check evaporation of moisture. The roller should not be used on damp soil, especially clay. The surface should first be allowed to dry, after which rolling will be a distinct benefit by breaking the crust and making the necessary mulch. Rolling when the grain is a few inches high is sometimes advisable, as it helps to firm the soil and break the crust.

GOOD SEED BED AND EARLY SOWING.

A man is not justified in rushing in a lot of crop on a half prepared seed bed, though, of course, early seeding is important, one correspondent estimating that it increases the crop about one-third. Fall-plowed sod and fall-diced or fall-plowed rctd, corn, and potato make the most suitable land for spring grain. Then in the spring the land should be disced, dragged, rolled, drilled or broadcasted and again dragged, in order to properly prepare a good seed-bed. When the seed-bed is considered just right, says one man, give an extra stroke with the harrows.
