RUSSIA DEMANDS DATA ON ATOMIC, JET WEAPONS

Press For Speed In Lewis' Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—John L. Lewis' refusal to let his coal miners back to work, the United States government today pressed for speed at every turn in his contempt trial opening tomorrow.

While the six-day strike spread defiance to more than 60,000 men in coal-burning industries, an important administration figure told reporters no other weapon than the law was considered at this time.

An all-out test of the legal rights of the United Mine Workers president might take weeks, but this government official indicated strong hope that the pressure would lead Mr. Lewis before that time to deal with the operators.

Offered $80,000 For Story Of Spy Ring

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 (CP)—The Evening Citizen said today that Igor Gouzenko, former Russian Embassy cipher clerk who disclosed Soviet spy ring in Canada, has been offered $80,000 for the inside story of the plan to honeycomb Canada with one of the most elaborate espionage networks ever uncovered. The newspaper said the offer had been made by a large United States newspaper syndicate.

R.C.M.P. officials declined to comment on the report. Gouzenko has been in the protective custody of the R.C.M.P. since September, 1945, when he first told his story to officials.

President's Report for 1945

To the Shareholders of the Charlottetown Driving Park and Provincial Exhibition Association—Ladies and Gentlemen:—It is a pleasure to again meet with you and to present our annual report.

In recalling the happenings of 1945 we must first refer to the disastrous fire which occurred in the early Spring. It destroyed the large beautiful Main Building and Paton Pavilion, the poultry building and damaged several other buildings as well as fences and sight indicated to witness and we particularly regret the loss of a building which was a landmark in the memory of our people for over half a century.

As soon as we could we made arrangements with M. F. Schurman and Co., Ltd., to build a new building to replace the one destroyed. Our plans envisaged a structure that would be the best of its kind to be found anywhere. You are all familiar with it and it is not necessary to dwell on it.

Pioneer Ontario Publisher Dies

CHATHAM, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP)—Arthur Charles Woodward, 77-year-old pioneer Ontario newspaperman, died in a London, Ont., hospital today following a lengthy illness. He was a former publisher of the Chatham Daily News.

Mr. Woodward came here in 1900 to take over the almost defunct Chatham Banner and changed the paper's name to the Banner Daily News. Under his ownership the paper continued the Liberal tradition of the old Banner but his political campaigns were marked by a softening of the old asperities and a growing tendency to discuss issues rather than personalities.

Among the movements to which the Daily News, under Mr. Woodward's management, gave strong support was the establishment of the council-manager form of municipal government.

BEAVERBROOK IN JAMAICA

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 26 (CP Cable)—Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born British newspaper publisher, arrived today by private plane from the Bahamas, at Montego Bay, Jamaica resort. He will spend a month at the home he recently bought there.

Fur Coat Prices In U.S. Tumble From Record High

By Dorothy Casew
NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Fur coat prices in the United States are tumbling rapidly from the highest levels in history. Mink can be had at prices which represent "savings" of thousands of dollars, and Persian lamb, beaver and Alaska seal are off hundreds.

It all began a month or more ago when consumers began to balk at the temporary slump due to unseasonably warm weather; others state that the drop in sales came as a direct result of the September break in the stock market.

Economists are inclined to agree with a third group which describes the current fur situation as "a terrific deflation—and a real one."

Raw furs have followed the same price course.

British Labor Policy Menaced By U. S. Strike

MR. SAM WATSON

The present soft-coal strike in the United States places a handicap on the policy of the British Labor Party so great as to make it impossible to say whether or not the British Government could continue to substantially improve the social security of the British people. Mr. Sam Watson, member of the British Labor Party executive stated at a public meeting in the Canadian Legion Hall last night.

Mr. Watson was attended by Mr. A. M. Nicholson, C.O.F. Federal member for Mackenzie, Sask. Mr. George Wootton, Bedouque, presided at the meeting.

The British Labor member said Canada was, in his opinion, potentially the richest country in the world. He said that the British Government should give priority to raising the living standards of the people higher than they had ever been before. A planned economy, he said, was the only way to do this in Britain with the people retaining all their essential freedoms such as those of religion and the press.

U.M.W. May Get Strike Mandate

GLACE BAY, N. S., Nov. 26 (CP)—President Freeman Jenkins of the United Mine Workers (C. C. L.) district 26 said tonight that results of a pit head poll in question of empowering U. M. W. demands indicated an overwhelming majority in favor of a strike-mandate.

Details of the voting by the union's 13,000 members in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick would not be announced until tomorrow. Mr. Jenkins said that the vote was 11,993,000 in favor of a strike-mandate and 1,007,000 against.

The question answered by the union's membership at coal mines from Glace Bay to Miramichi, N.B., was "Are you in favor of a strike if in the opinion of your district officers a satisfactory settlement of wage demands cannot be made?"

The wage demands would bring basic pay in Maritime collieries up from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

Eskimo Child Spotted By Visit To Toronto?

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP)—A 10-year-old Eskimo child, Maggie Atuk, today took her first car ride, and the telephone for the first time and visited her first store.

Cured of spinal tuberculosis following treatment in a sanatorium at nearby Weston, she is ready to take her home to Baffin Island and hospital officials are wondering if she can readjust herself to the Arctic way of life.

For although Maggie did not see big city sights until today, she mastered most of the complexities of civilization. In a department store restaurant today she said: "I'll have butterscotch ice cream, sandwiches, cake 'n' chocolate milk."

With crew-black pigtail sticking out, Maggie does errands for everyone in her section of the sanatorium.

"I don't want to go back," she says. "I'd like to stay here."

Tourist Trade Up 28 p.c. This Year

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP)—The Canadian tourist business increased 28 per cent in 1946 in comparison with 1945 and probably resulted in 15 to 20 per cent of Canada's foreign exchange, Leo Dolan, chief of the Federal Government Travel Bureau, said today in an address to the Advertising and Sales Club.

Mr. Dolan said that any Canadian who uses unfair practices in relation to tourists will be regulated out of business. The Canadian service industries "must have no black eyes."

Election Being Held In New Zealand Today

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Nov. 26 (CP)—New Zealand's elections tomorrow decide whether to return the long-established Labor Government or to elect the National Party.

The elections actually started today when balloting took place for four Maori seats in the 80-seat House of Representatives. All went to the government.

Although the National Party hoped to gain at least one and possibly two of the Maori seats, the results were not unexpected because Maoris with large families have benefited heavily from the government's social security family benefit payments.

Both Labor and National leaders have issued statements expressing confidence over tomorrow's major vote, which will take place on the 11th anniversary of Labor's accession to office.

Between them the Labor and National parties held every seat in the last legislature, with Labor representatives in 44 seats and the Nationalists 35. One seat was vacant. No third party emerged in any strength during the election campaign.

The main issue of the election is the Socialist policy of the government. Coincident with the election a poll will be held on the liquor issue. Electors will be asked to vote for continuance of the present liquor system operated by private firms, prohibition or state purchase and control.

In New Zealand, simple majority voting is used and no matter how many candidates stand for any seat, the one with most votes is elected. This system is similar to that in Canada.

Cement Production Up During 1946

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 (CP)—Canada's construction activity was reflected today in figures released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on output of some leading mineral products.

Cement production during the first nine months of the year rose to 8,913,097 barrels from 8,384,732 in the same period of 1945; clay products to $8,939,824 from $5,765,905; asbestos to 400,730 tons from 357,863; gypsum to 1,193,053 tons from 588,382; while the lime recorded a minor decline to 809,982 tons from 825,902.

Coal production moved up sharply during the period, totaling 12,976,826 tons compared with 11,944,110 a year ago.

Nine-month output of lead rose to 278,471,479 pounds from 247,084,332, while copper fell to 275,831,620 pounds from 375,608,390; nickel to 137,991,417 pounds from 196,191,302; and zinc to 368,515,033 pounds from 399,183,624 pounds.

Conservative Candidate Scores In Fifth Prince

A hotly contested provincial election for the fifth district of Prince Edward Island yesterday resulted in victory for Mr. Francis J. McNeill, Progressive Conservative candidate, over his Liberal opponent Mr. Carol Delaney. The seat was left vacant by the death on Sept. 24 of Mr. McNeill's father, Mr. D. F. McNeill.

The 34-year-old high school science teacher had a majority of 44 votes over his Government-endorsed opponent when final returns were announced last night. He polled 1,736 votes against Mr. Delaney's 1,692.

The Progressive Conservative majority for the Assemblyman's seat in the last provincial general election in 1943 was 282.

As a result of the by-election, standing in the Legislature was: Liberals, 20, Progressive Conservatives, 10.

Effects Of Coal Strike Spreading In The U.S.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26 (AP)—Effects of the six-day-old walkout of 400,000 bituminous coal miners extended today into the education as well as the industrial life of the United States with students from many schools and colleges leaving about 70,000 workers in enforced vacations.

From points as far west as the Pacific coast came reports of lack of fuel to keep the country's halls of learning open. Denver's public and Roman Catholic schools and Colorado's Women's College already have closed while the University of Colorado will shut down Saturday.

Public schools in Utah County also were closed as the Mountain Fuel Supply Company conserved its reserves for domestic uses and hospitals.

In the heart of the soft coal region, Pittsburgh school authorities asked the Solid Fuels Administration in Washington for authority to buy 500 tons—enough to tide the city's 119 schools over a two-week period.

Meanwhile unemployment in industries depending on coal rapidly reached the 70,000 peak as additional blast furnaces and open hearths ceased operations.

Cocooner Grove Club Owner Receives Pardon

BOSTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Bartlett Welansky, who was jailed for manslaughter after nearly 500 persons were completely nude in a fire that swept Cocooner Grove nightclub in 1942, was pardoned today.

The Massachusetts executive council approved by a 5-4 vote the pardon recommended by Governor Maurice J. Tobin after two cancer specialists testified Welansky was dying and had less than nine months to live.

He had served less than four years of a 12-to-15-year sentence.

THIS WAS DIFFERENT!

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26 (CP)—Constable James Langton was amazed as he watched a man chase a woman across a downtown street from one house into another late last night.

"A man chasing a woman isn't news," he explained, "but this woman was completely nude."

He escorted the couple to police headquarters. The man was freed; the woman booked on a charge of vagrancy.

Victims Of Robber Gang Lead Toronto Manhunt

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP)—Two battered victims of an armed robber gang tonight led one of the largest manhunts in the city's history for thugs who today commanded their truck, drove them for hours over country roads, beat them over the head with gun butts and stole a $15,000 cargo of cigars and tobacco.

Driver Peter, May, 30, and Harry Jackson on a downtown street by the bandits, who pulled their automobile in front of the truck which had just left a warehouse.

The other knocked Johnston into the rear of the truck.

May was forced to drive to High Park in Ontario, with the gang's car following. At the park May was thrown in the back of the automobile and the gunmen took over the truck.

May said the automobile headed west and went over many bumpy roads. He and Johnston were securely bound and gagged.

After what seemed to be many hours of driving, May said the truck stopped on a sideroad near Etobicoke Township and the bandits commenced to load the loot into other trucks that were waiting.

When the transfer was completed, May and Johnston were ordered into the back of the truck. Johnston entered without harm but May was slugged into unconsciousness.

Johnston finally got loose from the truck after the robbers left. He drove to the nearby West York Hunt Club and phoned police and medical aid for May.

Cars and trucks entering the city tonight are being stopped and searched, while barns and buildings in Etobicoke are being combed.

Britain's Chief Delegate Turns Down Request

(By Francis W. Carpenter)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia bluntly asked the United States and Great Britain today if they were ready to report immediately on atomic and jet-propelled weapons in their peacetime war machines.

Philip J. Noel-Baker, Britain's chief delegate to the United Nations Assembly, heatedly replied that he was no more ready to report on such matters than was Mr. Molotov.

Senator Tom Connally of the United States led the question pass without direct answer from his government.

The request, voiced by Mr. Molotov in answer to Mr. Noel-Baker's contentions yesterday that Russia's resolution calling for a troop (Continued on Page 5 Col. 4)

Flood Crisis In Britain Is Over

LONDON, Nov. 26 (Reuters)—Increasing good weather today gave rise to the opinion that Britain's two-week flood crisis has passed. An Air Ministry spokesman said there were no gale warnings in force for land areas, although new danger spots included an area of the Atlantic west of Ireland.

HONOR CHURCHILL

BRISTOL, England (CP)—In honor of Winston Churchill, Chancellor of Bristol University for 20 years, a $300,000 ($1,200,000) appeal has been launched for a great library centre on St. Michael's Hill and new halls of residence.
