FAREWELL NIGHT FOR BROWN AND WILMOT

Saturday evening is always the banner night at New Wonderland, and as the popular team Brown and Wilmot say farewell this Saturday night it will naturally be a record breaker. In their catchy songs, difficult dances and splendid work, they have made a lasting impression here, and it will be regretted that they make their last appearance this evening. Come and see them! Give them a grand send off. The illustrated song is one of those gems of music which appeal to lovers of good music, perfect harmony and touching words. It is "Down the Vale" and in the capable charge of Sid Allison last night fairly brought down the house. Mr. Allison is no ordinary singer, and in a song such as this his magnificent voice shows to greatest advantage; clear, true and strong throughout the vast auditorium, and in its perfect cultivation offering an attraction seldom equalled in any picture house.

The pictures for this evening are: "Blind Man's Friend," a grand subject faithfully told, the name explaining the outline. Puck's Pranks on the Suburbanite, is a comedy full of laughter, and capably foils the more serious side of life as shown in the Courageous Flower Girl, with the happy comedy Mother's Darlings, off setting it a gain with many a laugh.

SATURDAY MATINEE.

In order to give all school children an opportunity to see Brown and Wilmot before they leave, there will be a Matinee this afternoon at a quarter past four with the following program:—
The Ranchman's Love.
Mother's Darlings.
The Courageous Flower Girl.
The Stolen Dog.
Robin Hood and His Merry Men.
Sid Allison will sing "Down the Vale" and Brown and Wilmot will give the program for the evening. Let all the children come and enjoy themselves. Matinee time is specially theirs, and let them have the hall in possession as they generally do, and they will spend an hour of complete enjoyment. Admission five cents to all parts of the large, comfortable hall. Come and bring the little ones this afternoon.

CONCERT, PRESENTATION AT FALCONWOOD HOSPITAL

The annual Christmas entertainment for the benefit of the patients at Falconwood Hospital was held Wednesday night, Jan. 6th. Two trees laden with all the thoughtful remembrances imaginable were there displayed, under powerful electrical effects. They were in full view of the audience, decked in all the splendor and grandeur of holiday decorations. Santa Claus arrived in his majestic personality and personally distributed presents to each of the patients, which was followed by a generous supply of fruits, candy, etc. The program included, reading by Mrs. V. L. Goodwill, comic recitations by Dr. V. L. Goodwill and songs by the nurses. Followed by an instructive and educative magic lantern show by Dr. V. L. Goodwill. One pleasure derived by the patients—they were simply delighted. At the close of the entertainment Supervisor Bonnell was suitably remembered with an address and a handsome hall clock. He was dispatched to the front and was gratefully surprised when William Buxton began reading the following words. W. T. Payne made the presentation. "Now that the New Year is ushered in and we are in the midst of the time when greetings and tokens of good fellowship are the customary order of the day. We wish to take this opportunity to express in modest terms the feelings of special esteem which we hold toward you, and we feel quite sure that throughout this whole institution no discordant note could be found, in respect to anything which might be said in commendation of the services rendered by you to this Institution. In the interest of all concerned, the care of patients, in an Institution of this kind can produce the best results, only when the attendants are in complete harmony with those in authority over them. Intent in the one object, the best service that can possibly be rendered to the patients under their care. Towards the undersigned attendants, and employees you always have been most courteous, painstaking and gentlemanly in your conduct, ever ready to assist with your mature wisdom and advice. You have in your long service in your present position endeavored you each in the execution of everyone with whom your duties have brought you in contact, your loyalty for pouring oil on troubled waters, and wishing about peace and harmony, kindness, tact and practical knowledge of this new of labor anxious us an example which we will do our best to conclude to follow. At least we can assure you of our hearty cooperation. As a small token of the mutual and general esteem, we present you with this clock, which we would thank you to accept, hoping it will be as regular in the record of time as you have been in discharge at your duties. Wishing you and yours A Happy New Year, the address was signed by the following: Robert Sample, Roderick McKinnon, William Buxton, William Taylor, Jerry Larkin, Frank Hyde, John McPherson, John McLean, Patrick Evans, William Smith, Henry Guerny, William Welsh, Harry Court, David Welsh, D. K. Lacey, W. T. Payne, James Tarney, Allan McInnis, Frank McLaughlin, James McInnis, A. J. McInnis, L. Monaghan, Fred W. Monaghan, William Brazil. Although taken by surprise Mr. Bonnell replied sincerely thanking them for the evidence of good fellowship and co-operation existing towards him in his capacity in that institution. He was followed by the Medical Superintendent, Dr. V. L. Goodwill who paid a high tribute to Mr. Bonnell's capabilities and character and his qualifications in caring for the sick and insane.
