STARTS MONDAY THE WORLD'S MOST AMAZING ATTRACTION

NOTE: THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS THEATRE BELIEVES IT HAS TWO BASIC OBLIGATIONS TO ACCOMPLISH... FIRST, TO ENTERTAIN ITS PATRONS AND SECOND, TO PERFORM A PUBLIC SERVICE. IT IS IN THE INTEREST OF PUBLIC SERVICE THAT WE PRESENT THIS SIGNIFICANTLY VITAL MOTION PICTURE...

I have for acknowledgment your letter of June 4th. Right I say that on the occasion when I saw the motion picture 'Mom and Dad' I was impressed with the quiet and portrayal of the attitude of parents towards their responsibility in the matter of instruction in sex hygiene. I am personally of the opinion that the failure on the part of parents to meet this obligation contributes substantially to sex delinquency.

D. Nicholson. The scripture was read by Mrs. Percy Myers, followed by prayer by Miss Janet to segregated audiences.

The producers explain this phase of the policy of presentation with the frank statement the picture contains two modern and powerful medical and health sequences dealing with delicate subject matter. This fact, along with the request of Elliot Forbes, famous hygiene commentator who appears on the stage in person, necessitates segregated audiences. Likewise the picture is presented to only high school-age and older patrons. "Mom and Dad" is a simple, human story of every-day life in an average American town. Carl Blackburn, popular biology teacher of the high school, is the character around whom the story weaves thru one interesting episode after another. There will be three performances daily. Shows for women and high school girls are scheduled for 2 P. M. and 7 P. M. and shows for men only at 9 P. M. each evening. Men's tickets start selling at 7:30 o'clock.

A most unfortunate accident occurred at Lower Montague on Tuesday when the barns of Mr. Pius Steele were consumed by fire. It is reported that Mr. Steele had been burning grass when the wind carried the flames directly towards the barn, the wind carried them to the hay which was stored inside. Soon the barn was a blazing inferno, and carried by the wind, the flames soon spread to the other barns, which were soon beyond control. Fortunately all livestock and machinery had previously been removed from the buildings, so that the loss, although great, was not as large as it might otherwise have been. The wind also carried the flames away from the house thereby saving it from destruction. Up to the present no estimation of the cost of damage has been made, but it is expected to be of a considerable amount.

The death of Mrs. Basil Duffy occurred at Kinkora on April 1, 1948, after a brief illness. Mrs. Duffy, formerly Ethel McCarville, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCarville and was a resident of Kinkora all her life.

In 1944 she married Basil Duffy also of Kinkora but after only five years death called him from her. Her mother resided with her from that time and their home was a center of friendly cheerfulness. The sudden death of her mother last August was a great blow to Mrs. Duffy and when her own death approached she seemed to look forward to renewing their loving companionship. Although Mrs. Duffy was not robust from her youth, she had been around as usual until a few days before her death. A lover of home, her interests centered around it and her kind disposition made her a good neighbour to all who knew her. She was a fervent Catholic and her loyal devotion to her religion in life brought to her the reward it always brings, a happy death in the comforting strength of the Last Sacraments administered by her pastor, Reverend Francis McQuaid.

The pallbearers were: Louis Mulligan, Aidan Mulligan, Leo Warren, James P. Callaghan, Leonard Keefe, John O. Gallant.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Francis McQuaid.
