CANNOT AGREE ON PLACE OF MEETING.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—According to information received in official circles in Paris tonight Sir Edward Grey's suggestion for a conference of the Ambassadors to consider the Balkan settlement is meeting with opposition from the members of the Triple Alliance, who desire that the conference shall be held in a neutral city, such as Bern, The Hague, or Brussels, and not in the capital of one of the Powers interested.

A GOLD COIN WITH A RECORD.

Albert Almon, the well known collector of Louisiana relics and other articles of antiquarian interest, showed the Gazette a French gold coin of 1730, worth probably between $10 and $15 for the gold in it, aside from its historical interest, which formed part of the treasure in a ship which was lost shortly after that date at Point Michieu, Richmond County. The coin is practically as good as new and on one side bears an effigy of the French King, Louis XV., with a small lion rampant below, with the inscription, Lud. XV. D. G. Fr. et Nav. Rex. On the reverse there are the fleur de lis and shield, arms of France, and surrounded by the inscription, Chrs. Reqn. Vm. Imper., with the date, 1730. The initial "M" below the heraldic device would indicate that the coin was minted at Toulon. The history of this coin is an interesting one. About the year of the first siege of Louisbourg, a French gun boat left France with £1,500,000 of gold coin to pay the troops and all other expenses which were standing for some time in Louisbourg. On nearly the Cape Breton coast a fierce storm arose and drove the little ship into the rocks towards Point Michieu, (which name is a corruption of Pointe Michel, after this ship, which was named, "St. Michael.") The ship struck on a reef at Point Michieu known as "Gros Bos" (big rock). All the crew were lost. The gold was in oak kegs bound with copper or brass hoops.

PROTECTORATE OVER EGYPT.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 2.—A British protectorate over Egypt is likely to be announced shortly, according to the Egyptian representative of the Swiss Popular Bank, one of the largest financial institutions in Switzerland. He telegraphs from Cairo. It is considered in official circles here that a British protectorate over Egypt has been definitely decided on and it is understood that it will be proclaimed in January. He adds, "This step of the British Government will affect business favorably."

MONTREAL'S BANK CLEARINGS SHOW MARKED INCREASE.

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—The bank clearings for the month of November as well as those for the eleven month period ended with Nov. 30 are proof of the wonderful progress made by Canada's commercial capital. The clearings: Month ended Nov. 30, 1912, $254,328,774. Month ended Nov. 30, 1911, $244,238,078. Eleven months period ended Nov. 30, 1912, $2,598,576,945. Eleven months period ended Nov. 30, 1911, $2,153,708,034.

WOMAN PUT CHAIN AND PADLOCKS ON DOOR TO KEEP OUT TAX COLLECTOR.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—An eight month siege of the house of a prominent member of the Women's Freedom League, Mrs. Harvey, who refused to pay her taxes, culminated today. The house was plastered with defiant placards and the doors were chained and padlocked. The bailiff, tax collector and police unitedly filed the chain on the garden gate, forced the locks, entered the house and destroyed the furniture. Mrs. Harvey happened to be absent.

ONTARIO MINER SUDDENLY BECOMES INSANE.

SOUTH PORCUPINE, Ont., Dec. 2.—A French-Canadian suddenly went crazy in the Dome bunk-house this afternoon and attacked two Austrian miners with a knife and an iron bar. They were lying quietly in their bunks when he drew a knife and slashed one man in the face and he struck another savagely with an iron bar. Both men are severely hurt, but not seriously injured. The Frenchman was arrested by the Provincial Police, and will be medically examined. All three men had come to work but a few days ago at the Dome, and are unknown, except by number.

LAX DESPATCHING CAUSE OF TWO DEATHS.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 30.—The coroner's jury investigating the fatal wreck here on Saturday brought in a verdict to the effect that Motor in a Conrail of St. Thomas and Conductor Ryckman of London met their deaths through a lax system of despatching on the London & Lake Erie Transportation Company. "The blame was not placed on any person in particular, as it was shown that orders are given, not by despatchers proper, but by men who sell tickets and attend to freight and other business."

FORTY-SEVEN YEARS AS INSANE CRIMINAL. Acquitted on the ground of insanity for the murder of his wife forty-seven years ago, at Manchester Assizes, James Kelly, aged 76, has just died in Broadmoor Lunatic Asylum, where he had been detained ever since. It was a gruesome tragedy, and there was no doubt about the state of Kelly's mind. His wife, whom a few days before he had nearly strangled, was found dead in the doorway of their cottage, terribly mutilated, a large knife and a poker lying on the body. Kelly was washing the blood from his hands in a well. Kelly made his living by playing the accordion and concertina on the Hollingworth Lake, a reservoir of the Rochdale Waterworks, where there were water carnivals. His talk was often that of a religious fanatic. After the murder he said he was one of the devil's children. At one time he travelled the country addressing temperance meetings.

CARNEGIE PRAISES BRYCE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Referring to James Bryce, retiring British ambassador to the United States, as International asset whose position towards both England and the United States justifies him in tendering advice to both, Andrew Carnegie, in a speech before the St. Andrew's Society of New York state, tonight urged widespread reading of Ambassador Bryce's writings. "These revealed the vital fact that the celebrated Monroe doctrine has accomplished its mission, declared Mr. Carnegie. With 60,000,000 of people the South American republics proclaim themselves quite able to prevent European powers from acquiring territory in their part of the hemisphere. This releases our republic from a serious responsibility and should silence our belligerent advocates for increasing expenditure upon our naval and military forces, both of which are today more than ample to meet any possible foe. Mr. Carnegie said there is universal regret because of Mr. Bryce's decision to retire. Such a man as he may be called to high public service again, he asserted. Ambassador Bryce, followed Mr. Carnegie, expressed his regret that he must soon leave the United States. "But I'm not here tonight to take leave of you," he added. "It may be some time before I depart from these shores. Even then I don't believe I will be taking leave of the St. Andrew's Society."

COST $3 A MINUTE TO STAY IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—On of the passengers on the liner Mauretania, which sailed as Princess Yvonne Colloredo-Mannfeldt, of Austria, who on her arrival in New York three weeks ago, declared she was planning to live while in this city on three dollars a week. She engaged a suite before she sailed, somebody asked her how she would get along. "I attended in a fashionable hotel and should have had several times. Just as she had succeeded in limiting herself to three dollars a week. The Princess laughed and replied: "No, it cost me three dollars a minute. But I enjoyed every moment." Among the other passengers on the big liner were the four English spy officers who represented that country at the Horse Show. "We are anxious to get back as quickly as possible," said Lieutenant Walter Brooke. "In fact, we expected to be called back to duty at any time during our stay here. We thought it probable that a war in Europe might break out while we were in this country."

RUBBISH SAYS THE DUKE OF ARGYLE

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—One of the features of the recently published "Reminiscences of the late Sir Richard Cartwright," which has aroused interesting discussion is the allegation that during the last two years of the residence in Canada of the Duke and Duchess of Argyle, (the Princess Louise) Sir John A. MacDonald was non persona grata at Rideau Hall, because he had insulted the Duchess and had been requested by her to leave her presence.

The Star to-day announces that it called the Duke of Argyle—"Cartwright's Memoirs, just out, say Sir John MacDonald was on unfriendly terms with Princess Louise during the last two years of his stay owing to affront by McDonald."

To this the following reply was received—"Kensington Palace, Thursday. Rubbish. (Signed) Argyle. This should give the story the final quietus."

CELLULOID COMB CAUSES CHILD'S DEATH

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Nov. 30.—Little Pearl Madeline, daughter of Patrick and Mrs. Madden, of Stamford, died from burns received when a celluloid comb with which she was playing, became ignited. The little girl was badly burned about the body and face, and inhaled the flames and a large quantity of the poisonous fumes. Mrs. Madden was busy with her work in another part of the house when the accident occurred. She heard the child scream and, rushing into the sitting room, found the little girl lying on the floor writhing with pain. On the floor, near the stove, was the celluloid comb, which had been ignited by the heat from the stove, burning fiercely. When medical aid arrived the child was unconscious. Her wounds were dressed, and everything possible was done to save her life, but after lingering for several hours she succumbed.

COAL DIRECT FROM MINE TO FURNACE.

A large manufacturing plant located in the Pennsylvania coal fields employs a very novel and inexpensive method of bringing coal to its furnaces. The company owns a coal claim in an adjacent hill to which a heavy aerial cable is strung. A car, shown in an illustration in the December Popular Mechanics Magazine, is suspended from the cable on two double-flanged wheels and is used to carry coal direct from the mine to the coal bins in the boiler rooms of the plant. The car is also utilized to carry of the furnace slag, and other refuse. Motive power is furnished by an electric motor at the entrance to the mine, and transmitted by means of a long pulling cable.

A ROYAL NURSE.

The great interest that Queen Alexandra is showing in the Red Cross arrangements for the present war in the Balkans calls attention to the fact that Her Majesty is herself a nurse of very considerable ability, having studied the subject most thoroughly in all its branches. It was largely owing to the skill and devoted nursing of Queen Alexandra that the present King recovered from his dangerous attack of typhoid fever in the latter part of 1891. Military nursing has always appealed to Her Majesty, and she was largely instrumental in the recent reorganization of our own Army nursing services as a result of the deficiencies that were revealed during the course of the war in South Africa.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—According to information received in official circles in Paris tonight Sir Edward Grey's suggestion for a conference of the Ambassadors to consider the Balkan settlement is meeting with opposition from the members of the Triple Alliance, who desire that the conference shall be held in a neutral city, such as Bern, The Hague, or Brussels, and not in the capital of one of the Powers interested.

If this objection is maintained it is considered that it will be difficult to point out that a meeting of the Ambassadors implies the choice of a capital, where the Ambassadors, already accredited could meet their Governments, whereas, the choice of a neutral city would involve the sending of special envoys. This would really be a Congress, and there would be no reason why delegates from the belligerent States as well as from Roumania should not be admitted thereto.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 2.—A British protectorate over Egypt is likely to be announced shortly, according to the Egyptian representative of the Swiss Popular Bank, one of the largest financial institutions in Switzerland. He telegraphs from Cairo. It is considered in official circles here that a British protectorate over Egypt has been definitely decided on and it is understood that it will be proclaimed in January. GERMANY STANDS WITH AUSTRIA

(Continued from page one.) ATHENS, December 1.—The military governor of Saloniki, to preserve order, has disarmed the whole population. An official message from Chios to the Aegean Sea, says that the Greek army is proceeding slowly but surely. The Turkish troops are surrounded, and the Greeks have occupied all the fortified positions. A Greek warship has bombarded and demolished the Hagir monastery which the Turks were using as a storehouse. A deputation from the island of Samos, representing the provisional government, has arrived here and presented to the premier a memorial in favor of union with Greece. M. Venizelos responded in a non-committal way on account of the island's international position.

HORSE MEAT FOR FOOD IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Hundreds of unsuspecting Chicagoans have been eating horse meat recently, according to investigators of city health department. Assistant Health Commissioner Keeler asked for warrant for arrest of a Chicago Sausage Manufacturer. The Health Commissioner said last night they have evidence that at least one butcher has been selling horse meat from a slaughter house in a suburb.

OAK PARK AND EVERETT CLASH

FENWAY PARK, Nov. 30.—Fighting for the "interscholastic" football championship of East and West, the Everett High School eleven and the Park High School team of Chicago lined up before a great crowd this afternoon. It was the first football game ever played at Fenway Park, the home of the world's champion Red Sox. The visitors claim the championship of Chicago and, having challenged all comers in the West, maintain that they are the titleholders of that section. Everett claims the championship of Massachusetts high schools. The average weight of the visitors was 157.5 lb., while that of Everett was 118.5 lb. A feature of the game was the appearance of "Captain" George Erickson, left half for Everett. He is a brother of Charley Erickson, of Harvard.

KNOWS THE EXACT HOUR ENGAGEMENT WAS BROKEN

MONTREAL, Dec. 2.—That the course of true love never did run smooth received additional proof, when a breach of promise suit commenced in Superior Court. The plaintiff is Magloire Carriere, photographer, of Montreal, and, as tutor, to his minor daughter, Yvonne. He has entered suit against Aime Ambrose, of Outremont, claiming $400 damages. The defendant, who was to have with his future father-in-law certain effects to furnish the room of his husband and wife. These effects are still in the possession of the plaintiff, and comprise: A bedstead of the value of about $46; a chiffonier, $18; two little clocks, $1 each; flower basket, $2; linen of the value of nearly $32—a total value of about $100. Other minute details were furnished by the plaintiff, such as the exact hour the engagement was broken. This occurred "at 7 o'clock on the evening of September 20, 1912." The plaintiff claims $375, alleged to have been spent on the trousseau, and $225 "for the gravity of the affront to his young daughter," or $400 in all. As part of this he asks that the $100 worth of furniture be declared his property. The case is being continued.

JOHNSON READY TO MARRY CAMERON GIRL.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—That Jack Johnson and Miss Cameron have been in communication since she left her mother is admitted by the pugilist, who says he has received two letters from her Friday morning, and later talked with her over the telephone. She said she was going west, and that after she reached her destination she would write me, Johnson said, adding that he was ready to marry her any time she would accept him.

REDDUCING THE BRITTLINESS OF GLASS

The brittleness of glass is due to the quick cooling of the hot substance. It is known that constant motion tends to rearrange the molecule in any substance and a similar effect is observed when glass is heated in a weak solution of salt in water, and allowed to cool gradually. The toughness of the glass is increased very much, and the effect of quick heating is less disastrous to them. This is easily applied to articles such as glass globes for lighting purposes, and prevents much breakage.

A TEMPERANCE HOTEL THAT HAS BEEN A FINANCIAL SUCCESS

NEWMARKET, Ont., November 30.—Sixty leading citizens of Newmarket, who own the King George, a temperance hotel, which the traveling public declare offers better accommodations than any licensed house in towns much larger than Newmarket, held a banquet last night to celebrate the close of another successful year. Dr. J. H. Wesley submitted the financial statement, showing that the company was in a position to pay a dividend of eight per cent.

CUSTOMS REVENUE STILL INCREASING.

OTTAWA, December 1.—Customs receipts during the month of November were $9,831,105.99, as against $7,332,085.54 during the month of November 1911. The increase thus was $2,499,020.45, or 34 per cent. During the month ending November 30, 1912, the customs receipts were $76,528,885, an increase of $20,189,075.22, or nearly 36 per cent. over the corresponding period in 1911, when they were $56,339,809.53.

PEACE CONDITIONS.

PARIS, Dec. 2.—A Constantinople correspondent gives the main lines of a peace scheme from Turkish Serbia as follows:— Greece to get Epirus, and Servia to get old Servia and Novibazar. Bulgaria to get Thrace following the frontier from Media to Dedeaghad or Kavala, but excluding Adrianople which would remain connected with Constantinople and the Dardanelles. Autonomy to be granted Montenegro with Saloniki as the capital. Albania, minus a part ceded to Montenegro to be under the suzerainty of the Balkans. The final condition is the admission of Turkey to the Balkan League.

MURPHY'S MOTOR CAR

Murphy, a machinist, became rich and tony, and got a handsome motor car. Mrs. Murphy invited Mrs. Clancy for a ride in it. "Whatever you do, Mrs. Clancy, don't talk to the shoofar at all; not a word or a whisper to him, for it takes his mind off what he is doing."

So they started out at a rapid clip. The chauffeur went zip round the corner and zip around another corner; sometimes the car would be on two wheels. Finally Mrs. Clancy touched the chauffeur on the back and says:—"Mr. Shoofar, I beg your pardon. I was told not to speak to you at all, but let me tell you that Mrs. Murphy hasn't been in the car for the last ten minutes."

THE DANGERS OF A DIALECT.

Andrew Carnegie at a dinner in New York talked about the Scotch dialect. "It is a hard lingo to understand," he said. "It often causes awkward mistakes. Once an American divine spent Sunday in a Highland inn. In the morning he gave the maid a tip of a sovereign, and she said earnestly, looking at her—'You've said a pretty maid.' 'You know, Kathleen, you are a very good-looking lassie!'"

"Of course, Kathleen was pleased, but being modest, she blushed like a rose and answered:—"Ah, na! Ah, na! But ma kiestin, air, is beautiful!" "The divine frowned. 'Leave the room, you wicked young haggard!' he said sternly. "He didn't know, you see, that modest Kathleen had been simply praising, in her dialect, the superior charms of her cousin."
