First, by the bright copper color of the tea when steeped.

Second, by the exquisite aroma.

MONDAY
FROM OVERSEAS—Private Angus Chipman, Charlottetown, a member of the 26th Battalion, arrived home on Saturday night after serving overseas.

MACLEOD-STEWART.—On Thursday evening, May 22, another marriage ceremony was performed at "Watermere" by the Rev. D. MacLean, when Mr. Jonathan S. MacLeod of Bridgetown, and Miss Martha A. Stewart, of Alston, Mass., formerly of Mt. Herbert, P. E. I., agreed to be faithful unto each other till death should part them. The bride who has been living in the United States for some time, arrived in the city the night before the marriage, and her old acquaintances in Mount Herbert will be pleased to hear of her return and that she is making Prince Edward Island her future home. The Guardian wishes Mr. and Mrs. MacLeod a happy and prosperous journey through life.

FUR DEALER HERE.—Mr. J. S. Hanson, the well known fur dealer of New York, is again in Charlottetown. He reports the situation good in regard to silver black fox pelts and says that all private sales yielded big increases over last year. He predicts that the clear raven blue fox pelts, the two-thirds black, and three-quarters raven blue-black, with quarter clear silver will be the pelts to bring the highest future prices. The demand for almost clear silver is very strong up to about $300, but the ones he sold brought up to $900 wholesale, for the true P. E. Island type of high grade. Mr. Hanson expects to remain on the island five days, have a look at his foxes in Alberton and shake hands with his old friends. Mr. Hanson says he believes fully that Fifth Avenue, New York, has disposed of more silver foxes than all the markets of Europe put together.

The sad news was received in Summerside of the death of Mr. Leighton Stewart, which occurred in San Francisco on Wednesday last, after a brief illness of pneumonia. The deceased was 32 years of age; a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart, Summerside. He graduated in 1909 from McGill University, Montreal, with the degree of B. Sc., in Mining Engineering, and also took a position with the Ray Consolidation Copper Co., at Ray, Arizona. He also was employed with the American Smelting and Refining Co. in Mexico. He spent three years in Brazil, Peru, Bolivia and Chile examining mines, and about two years ago went to New York and opened an office at 42 Broadway. He enlisted with the Canadian Engineers in the fall of 1917, returning from overseas in February last. Besides his parents and a wide circle of friends, there are left to mourn a widow, formerly Miss Helen Christie of Amherst, N. S., and one sister Mrs. (Dr.) Nase of St. John, N.B. To the bereaved, sincere and heartfelt sympathy is extended.

LAI D TO REST.—The following in reference to the death of Mrs. J. Wilfrid Davison whose death in Belleville, Ont., was previously noted is from a Belleville Exchange: The funeral of the late Mrs. J. W. Davison was held yesterday afternoon to St. Thomas' Church, where Ven. Archdeacon Beaman conducted an impressive service. The remains were then taken to Pleton, Ont., and interred in Glenwood cemetery. The bearers were H. F. Ketcheson, Dr. M. J. Clarke, Dr. M. A. Day, Lt.-Col. A. P. Allen, W. O. Adams and E. A. Williams and of Maud Williams. She was born at Pleton, Oct. 4th, 1890, but spent most of her life in Belleville where she attended St. Agnes School. On April 29th, 1908, she was united in marriage to Mr. J. W. Davison in St. Thomas' Church and went to live in Prince Edward Island. Shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Davison removed to Montreal and ultimately in 1910, settled in Belleville. Surviving besides her husband are her mother, Mrs. J. A. Cary, Centre Street, Belleville, and one brother, Prof. Walter H. Williams, M. A., of Toronto University and four children—George Milton, aged 10 years; Helen Bernice, aged 8; Alice Elizabeth, aged 6 and Dorothy Ann, aged 3.

MacLeod to extend to him a hearty welcome back from the dangers of the battle fields of France and Flanders. Music and games were in order after which a dainty repast was served and an address was read while a present of a gold piece was presented by Miss Mary M. COURT CASE.—The preliminary enquiry in the case of the King vs. Cecil Warren of Albany in Prince Co. charged with wounding James Johnston of Albany with intent to maim him, was heard on Friday before Judge McQuarrie. The witnesses examined were Dr. Ballin, of Boiteaux, Dr. E. T. Tanton, Summerside, Ham Hten Gamble, Claude S. Delaney, Banerman Cameron and Harold Weeks of Albany. The crime was committed on the 12th day of May at Albany. The prisoner and Johnston were wrangling and finally Warren struck Johnston with a hardwood sleigh stake about 3 feet long over the head on the right side just above the ear. The Doctors in their evidence stated in their opinion, Johnston would make recovery. The prisoner at the close of the enquiry which was before Judge McQuarrie, was committed for trial at the next term of the Supreme Court on June 10th next at Summerside and the prisoner stated he reserved his defence till that time. The funeral of the late Rev. J. T. Murphy which took place yesterday at Kinkora was one of the largest seen in that part of the Province for a long time.

The remains were forwarded from Charlottetown to Emerald yesterday morning and forwarded by road to Kinkora—the native place of the deceased. A delegation of Knights of Columbus accompanied the remains from Charlottetown.

The service at St. Malach's Church was very largely attended both the parishes of Kinkora and Preetown being well represented.

Pontifical High Mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Leary with Rev. Fr. Croken as deacon and Rev. Father Duffy as sub-deacon and Rev. I. R. A. McDonald and Rev. P. D. McGuigan as deacons of honor. Rev. C. J. McIntyre was Master of Ceremonies and Rev. T. Campbell delivered the funeral oration from the text in St. John XI:32—"Lord, if Thou Hadst Been Here my Brother Had not Died." It was a fine eulogium on the character and work of the deceased cleric and made a deep impression among the many who assembled to pay their last tribute of respect.

Nearly thirty priests were in attendance at the service, thereby indicating the place deceased held in the esteem and affection of all associated with him in the priesthood.

Interment took place in the cemetery adjoining the church, His Lordship officiating there also, assisted by the priests previously mentioned.

Among those in attendance at the funeral were Premier Assenault, Hon. J. A. McNeill and Mr. L. B. McMillan of the Public Works Department, Mr. H. H. Shaw, Provincial Engineer, Senator Murphy, brother of deceased and quite a number of others.

"What SHALL I Do?"

"HOW shall I get past this crisis? What will come next?"

These are the questions which are to-day causing keen mental anxiety to many business men and making them old before their time.

After the four years of exceptional strain during the war many a man finds himself now burdened down as never before with problems—financial and otherwise—which are more than he can solve.

Is it any wonder that the nervous system gives out? Is it any wonder that there comes moments of discouragement and despondency?

There is nothing which breaks down nerve cells so rapidly as mental anxiety or worry if you choose to call it that.

And it is under just such circumstances that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food proves of very great benefit, for it supplies to the human system the very ingredients from which Nature rebuilds the wasted nerve cells and restores the mental vigor.

The headaches, the brain fog, the sleeplessness and indigestion, which are the usual accompaniments of exhausted nerves, soon disappear when the upbuilding process is established by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

For the man in the office as well as for the woman in the home Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven the best means obtainable of restoring tired, starved nerves to health and vigor.

Try it when you are tired and brain weary and feel inclined to look on the dark side of things, for these are the indications that your nervous system is in need of nutrition which it is not obtaining from the food you eat.
