"Wrens" Need More Recruits

At the present time the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service, popularly known as the "Wrens" are sending out an urgent call for cooks, stewards, and laundry assistants. Recruits for these categories are needed by the Navy immediately. Applicants who offer their services as a cook, a steward or a laundry assistant, providing they are suitable and medically fit, will be called into active service quickly, and upon completion of their papers, will proceed to H.M.C.S. "Conestoga", the W.R.C.N.S., Training Establishment, Galt, Ontario. After approximately one month's basic training they will be drafted and will receive additional category training. You do not have to be a cook, steward or a laundry assistant in civilian life —the Navy will train you. The Navy will also thank you for your offer "To free a man to serve at sea."

Ldg. Wren V. S. Meldrum, W.R. C.N.S., stationed at H. M. C. S. "Queen Charlotte" Charlottetown, P. E. I., will be pleased to receive any inquiries regarding entry into the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service.

TOTAL FIRE LOSS

These facts are revealed in statistics issued by the Prince Edward Island Board of Fire Underwriters, in connection with Fire Prevention week, which is being observed from October 3 to 9.

In the last five years, Prince Edward Island fire losses have amounted to $937,883, an average of $187,576 per year, or a per capita loss average of $1.98.

Smokers' carelessness caused approximately 30 per cent of the fires in Canada in 1942, and destroyed property valued at $1,752,676. Chimneys, stoves, furnaces, boilers, and smoke pipes started 9,280 fires, with a loss of $5,135,809, while electrical wiring, hot ashes, coals, open fires, matches, and other sources were responsible for the balance.

In the last three years, the number of fires on Prince Edward Island has shown a steady decrease. There were 260 fires in 1940; 242 in 1941 and 223 in 1942. The fire loss for 1942 is also the lowest in three years.

Of the 47,596 fires in Canada in 1942, 35,446 occurred in residential properties with a loss of $7,108,014; 3,059 fires occurred in mercantile properties with a loss of $8,666,071; fires in farm properties numbered 2,264, with a loss of $2,191,303; 1,501 fires occurred in manufacturing properties with a loss of $6,970,610; and fires damaged or destroyed 543 institutional and Assembly Buildings, with a loss of $1,392,182. The remaining fires occurred in miscellaneous properties, with losses valued at $4,854,053.

All through the year regional underwriters' associations are actively engaged in fire prevention and during Fire Prevention Week, a special effort is made to reduce fires, and deaths from fire, by eliminating and correcting hazards, because, not only do fires destroy property, which is doubly hard to replace in war time, but they affect the rates charged for insurance.

CLOSED DURING FUNERAL — The wholesale grocery houses will be closed between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon during the funeral of Mr. George H. Toombs. 10-4.11.

TRAFFIC SIGN REPLACED — Prompt action followed the reference in Friday's Guardian to the absence of a traffic sign at the corner of Grafton and Prince Streets. The sign was replaced a few hours after the attention of the authorities was called to the matter.

SPEND WEEK-END HERE — Sgt. Clarence Howatt of Charlottetown and now serving with the Canadian Armed Forces and Sgt F. Paradis of Montreal spent the week-end in Charlottetown. They were guests of Sgt. Howatt's sister, Mrs. Nicholas Power and Mr. Power.

POTATO DIGGING UNDERWAY — The first potatoes dug in this Province during last week confirms that the estimate of 150 busels per acre, field run, was fairly accurate. It will probably be another week before harvesting of the tuber crop is far enough advanced to permit a definite estimate as to the yield. Present indications are that farmers will harvest on an average 75 bushels less per acre than they did a year ago when there was a good crop. Blight was responsible for most of the reduction of yield this year. There is still much harvest in the fields in this province despite good weather for most of last week. Shortage of labor is delaying operations, especially on large farms. Earlier rains caused delay.

SEA CADETS OPERATE FERRY —Sea Scouts from this city went sailing again Saturday when for the third successive week-end they took over control of the ferry Fairview. They operated the craft, which plies between this city and Rocky Point, under the watchful eyes of the retired Master Mariner, Capt. C. [illegible]s. Cadets aboard the ferry included: Writer R. Kelly, AB. G. Crockett, AB. D. Hill, AB. R. Jardine, OD. R. Stanley, OD. J. Livingstone, OD. P. McInnis and OD. C. Lee. The boys were praised for their showing by [illegible] Capt. Myers and by Capt. Jerry Doucette in charge of the Fairview.

Personals

Staff Sgt. Arthur Wellner and Mrs Wellner of Halifax are spending the week end in Charlottetown visiting their parents.

Lieut. William Trainor, R C N. V R. is at present visiting his mother, Mrs. Holl Trainor, on vacation.

Mr. Lorne Casford, head porter at The Charlottetown is leaving today on a short trip to Boston and New York.

Flight Sergt. Rowland MacAulay left Saturday morning for Ottawa, after spending leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan MacAulay. He returned to Canada a-while ago after two years service in England.

Provincial Red Cross Executive Receives Excellent Reports

A well attended meeting of the Provincial Red Cross Executive, presided over by Dr. W.J.P. MacMillan, was held at Red Cross House on Thursday, September 30th. The Summerside Branch was represented by Miss Gladys Holman, Mrs. Ernest Mills and Mrs. W.F. Strong.

Mrs. E.M. Bagnall, Dr. W.J.P. MacMillan and Dr. A.J. Murchison were appointed as three Red Cross representatives to serve on the Red Cross-St. John Joint Board which is to function for this Province to supervise the instruction given in Home Nursing and First Aid.

Mr. Walter S. Grant, Chairman of the Blood Donor Committee gave a splendid report of this latest activity of this Division stating that the building had been officially opened on September 2nd., and the first clinic at which 23 donations were received held on September 9th. Since this date the weekly donations have been gradually increased and at this week's clinic 46 donations were received. Mr. Grant said that the Donor' Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Pius Callaghan, was making plans to conduct a vigorous campaign to build up a substantial list of donors. He also reported that generous donations received from different clubs, groups and individuals have practically covered the cost of the equipment required to furnish this new Clinic. "The co-operation received from doctors, nurses, Red Cross Corps, those responsible for the fine building and the public generally is highly commendable and greatly appreciated," Mr. Grant concluded.

Mrs. E.M. Bagnall, Chairman of the Jelly Committee, reported that 6,100 pounds of excellent apple jelly had been made at the Royal Packing Company plant on Monday and Tuesday of this week, and described to the Executive members the different steps in the process. She stated that when the work was begun at 7.30 on Monday morning only about one-third of the required amount of apples had been received which made it necessary to send drivers and pickers out for additional apples. [illegible]ty bags of apples were brought in by these pickers by the afternoon which relieved the situation. 3,500 pounds of sugar were used and as 100 pounds are required for each lot of jelly this meant 35 vats of jelly were made. Each of these vats of jelly was tested by Mrs. Hary Cudmore who completely supervised the whole undertaking. The personnel on duty in different shifts during the two days was composed mostly of members of the Foods and Cooks Committee, Red Cross Disaster Relief, and the Charlottetown Detachment Canadian Red Cross Corps. The Queen Square School boys, under their Manual Training Instructor, Professor Barlow, made up all the box shooks in which the 1500 four pound tins of jelly were finally packed for overseas shipment. Mrs. Bagnall stated that this wonderful piece of voluntary effort is made feasible only by the generosity of Mr. J.D. Jenkins who for the third successive year placed his efficient plant at the disposal of the Red Cross for this purpose. Hearty votes of thanks were passed to be extended to all who in any way contributed towards the successful outcome of this project.

Mrs. J.A. Macmillan, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, told the meeting that the Saturday Night Dances which have been held at Brighton Club under the auspices of her Committee had been the means of raising $500.00 for Red Cross Funds since their inauguration last spring. A vote of thanks was passed to be presented to Mrs. Harry Foster who has given Brighton Club for Red Cross purposes on so many occasions.

The ladies from Summerside were asked to report on their activities as this Branch does a great deal of work and has ingenious ideas for increasing Red Cross funds. Miss Holman told the meeting about the "Market" they had held in the Town Hall last Saturday when they sold vegetables, fruit, flowers and many other commodities which were donated, and raised almost $150.00. The members of the Summerside Detachment of the Canadian Red Cross Corps had, on the same day at the "Market", carried on a Tag Day for the Provincial Sanatorium and realized $245.00.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the service of morning worship on this Sunday of world wide Communion the sermon by the Rev. Ronald Noble was "What is the Church Doing?" This day expresses the spirit of unity of all christians in loyalty and allegiance to Jesus and in testimony to His name. Many of the churches to-day are churches in captivity to whom one of the greatest tributes has been made by Qusling of Norway" the Christian front is the hardest to conquer." In Norway, in Denmark, Belgium, France, Holland, Cheko-Slovakia, all over occupied Europe, through peril, toil and pain the Christian front has been faithful. In the lands of the younger churches, in the countries of "the Orphaned Missions" still does "His blood red banner stream afar."

The anthem of the morning was Wesley's "Lead Me Lord." Mr. Ivan Robinson sang very expressively "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say."

The Church School met for the service of Bible Study at 2.30 p.m.

Evening worship was observed at 7 p.m. Will J. Green, General Secretary of The Gideons gave a noteably interesting address. L.A.C. Stanley Beard gave fine interpreation in his solo "The Lord Is My Light," (Allitson.) The choir sang Thoman's "Immortal, Invisible." John Inch Mus. Bac., organist and choirmaster was in charge of the music at all services.

17th Armoured Regiment to Sponsor Cadets

Owing to the situation caused by the war the Authorities have decided to make a change in the Cadet System. The School Cadets as such now cease to exist, and in its place there has been formed what is known as an Open Corps to be known as the Charlottetown Army Cadets. This Corps will work in close co-operation with the Navy and Air Cadets, which have already been organized and doing splendid work.

A meeting of the local committee for the Army Cadets took place Saturday afternoon. There were present Captain L.W. Goodwin M.M., Chairman, representing the 17th Armored Regiment, which is taking the Army Cadets under its wing: Majors Tierney and MacNutt, Lieut. W.A. Davey of the 6th Signal Corps and Captain Douglas, District Cadet Officer.

It was decided that for the present at least the establishment of the Corps will not exceed 150 boys. A large number of boys have already signified their intention of joining the Corps, and it is hoped that by next Friday night arrangements will have so advanced that the boys will then be called to the Drill Hall to sign the Service Roll and be measured for their Uniforms. A new style of Cadet uniform will be issued which is very neat and attractive. Quarters are being assigned the Corps in the Drill Hall and a slate of Officers is being prepared.

Certain training will be given of a regular nature common to all branches of the Forces in the schools, including physical training, first aid, signalling etc., all of which will be a great help to the boys in their practical training, as well as beneficial to themselves. It is felt that the Army Cadet Corps will be very popular with the boys, and that they will grasp at the opportunity offered them to do their part in preparing for the defence of their Country. Boys were asked to watch the papers for date to sign on and be measured for the new and smart Army Cadet uniforms.

THE KIRK OF ST. JAMES

Preaching on the text "Open Thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things" (Psalm 119:18), the Minister, the Rev. T. H. Bussell Somers, said: "All great experiences tend to recreate the sense of wonder. Sickness, sorrow, death, conversion have a way of bringing new wonder into everything. That most winsome of all saints, St. Francis, tells us of a terrible illness which he had. For weeks his life was hanging in the balance, and he only wanted to go home to God. And then he tells us how, when he recovered, and went out for the first time on the Italian hills, there was a joy—a wonder—an ecstasy in nature that made the world like a paradise of God. That was in Italy long ages since. Are there none here who have had like experience? None who have known this blessing of a sickbed —that they have felt afresh the wonder of the world? And I suggest that in the will of God, which is as merciful as it is wise, that recreating of the sense of wonder may be one purpose of many an hour of discipline. The world is never more beautiful or fresh, nor life more wonderful, nor loved ones dearer, than after a season when the sky was darkened, and we thought that everything was over.

MUNRO THINKS

"Anybody who watched them training n England would never recognize these men now," Munro added. "On the move they are just like a bunch of Gypsies, the same as the 8th Army.

"Whenever it's time to move on, which is often, you see the Canadians pile everything imaginable on trucks, jeeps, any kind of transport. There would be rifles, tommy guns, maybe captured German weapons poking out of the various vehicles along with all the troops belongings. I've seen armored vehicles starting fresh on the move with a couple of live chickens tied on the side. The boys planned to eat them farther on."

The greatest thing for these men is mail from home. Munro said they had few letters in their months with the fighting force, perhaps due to rapid changes in location, but he said letters were the greatest morale builder possible. Next come cigarets.

"You know when the mail arrives the boys feel just as if they are living on clouds," he sad. "It is even a thrill to get an income tax bill out there."

(That happened to William Stewert, one of the war correspondents in that theatre. Munro said Bill was delighted even with that touch with home.)

Fever overtook Munro in Italy necessitating a long trek by jeep back to the casualty clearing station near Reggio Calabria. By the time he spent nearly a week there he faced a 400-mile trek to the front which had moved on in his absence.

Right now he looks pretty fit, bronzed with a leathery skin and a few fever blisters on the face and hands—"that's tough stuff to take," he said.

Munro, whose action copy from Sicily and Italy totalled roughly 100,000 words, received word from The Canadian Press head office to return to England for a rest while he was deep in the southern Italian hills. He travelled 200 miles by jeep to an airfield near Taranto. He flew during the night to Sicily and the next day to Tunis, then to Algiers and England.

Tough To Get Stories Out

"It was tougher to get stories back from the Reggio landings than the initial Sicily landings," he said.

Munro explained that in Sicily he had only to get his copy to the headquarters ship whence it was relayed. But in Italy he posted himself in a cave on the Italian cliffs about 300 to 400 feet from there with his typewriter. He could watch the landing wall from that point but the assault craft were being intermittently bombed and the bombers seemed to take a course directly over the cliff so some bombs came uncomfortably close.

When he had a chunk of copy ready Munro would race from his cliff-cave perch to the beach and hand it to a naval officer on a landing barge for relay to the beach commander on the Sicily side who then forwarded it to the nearest communication point by dispatch rider.

"Every time I gave the barge officer copy I was worried for fear his boat would get it from the bombers on the return trip," said Munro.

"It was a seven-mile stretch of water and that was seven miles of pretty dubious travel," he said. "For one thing, maybe the landing craft officer under the stress of action would put the copy in his pocket and forget about it for a couple of trips—then maybe he would not make the trip. There were always those worries.

Cooked Own Meals

During the last 10 days before leaving Munro cooked his own compo-ration meals as he marched forward. He would buy eggs at various Italian towns but there was a little exchange difficulty. The Italians would not take liras for the produce. They wanted cigarets.

"Everywhere it was 'cigaretto cigaretto.' They even reached to snatch them from one's mouth when haggling over the prise of eggs and towards the end it was a great bargaining effort because I was getting pretty low."

To Munro, London looked pretty good. Bomb wreckage is all cleaned up here now in contrast to the Sicilian towns where everything was battered by the tactical air force.

"That's one of the impressions our boys are going to carry out of this campaign," he said. "And that is the tremendous and accurate bombing carried out as part of our offensive.

District messenger boys, once so well known in London in their blue uniforms and pill-box hats, have gone for the duration Modern services put them out of business.

Trinity United Church

MONDAY, OCTOBER 4
8:00 P. M. Dr. F. G. Endicott speaks in the Church.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

In this week's summary we wish to refer to "first things" first and without any preliminaries would call attention to the visit of Rev. James G. Endicott, M.A., D.D., who will arrive here by tonight's train and will speak in the Church at 8.00 o'clock this evening. Dr. Endicott is a son of a former Moderator of the United Church. He was born in China and has a perfect knowledge of the Chinese language having acted as official interpreter. He is also professor of English at the West China Union University in Chengtu and at the request of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is promoting the "New Life Movement" and the organization of relief work.

He is an outstanding man in our church. He has a thrilling message to give. Our hope and expectation is that he will be welcomed by a large congregation.

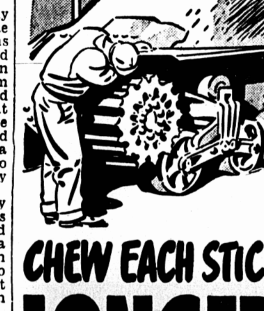
In conformity with the World Communion Sunday our church observed Holy Communion at both diets of worship and seldom has it been celebrated in more solemn and fitting manner. "By faith we take the bread of life with which our souls are fed, the cup in token of His blood that was for sinners shed."

Preceding the Communion Rev. T.E. McLennan preached on "The Church's place in the Community" John 15-17. There was a large congregation. Professor Kendall presided at the organ and, supported by a choir of 31 voices, capably attended to the musical portion of the worship.

Next Sunday there will be a Thanksgiving service.

Loss of art works during the English renaissance outstripped architectural loss in raids, said Dr. Francis Eeles, Secretary of the Central Council for the Care of Churches, at Bury St. Edmunds.

MAKE IT LAST



CHEW EACH STICK LONGER

Chewing has a real value. Everybody that chews gum knows that chewing helps relieve nervous tension—helps keep you refreshed while you work.

But present production conditions make it impossible for Wrigley's to keep up to the increased demand.

So when you do get a package —make the most of it. Wrigley's Spearmint is made to give you longer-lasting chewing satisfaction. Chew each healthful, refreshing stick a little longer . . . make each package go further.
