Wright-Campbell Nuptials

(Winnipeg Tribune)

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—A wedding of much interest took place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, when Elizabeth Gertrude, only daughter of Mrs. Campbell of Winnipeg, and the late Hon. Colin H. Campbell, K.C., former Attorney-General of Manitoba and minister of public works, became the bride of Dr. Edward Nicol Wright of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wright, 60 Crescent Road. Rev. J. E. Munro, D.D., officiated.

The bride is the grand-daughter of the late Anson Buck, M.D., M.R.C.S. (England), and Mrs. Buck of Fulmer county. She is a graduate of McGill University and since has been continuing her studies in England, France, and Greenoble. She was among the distinguished ladies presented at the Second Court of St. James in 1930.

Bride Carries Lilies

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Arthur Hay Campbell of Montreal, wore a beautiful white French satin gown fashioned on moulded lines, the skirt forming a long square train. With this was worn a matching satin jacket with long fly points sleeves, the back having a panel of drapery which also extended in a train. The neckline was draped with a soft owl. Blowing out over both trains was a third long train extending many yards in length from her waist to the floor.

She was attended by Miss Lillian Wright, who wore a handsome gown of brown crepe, sashed in gold. Her hat was a large plume model with sweeping ostrich plume. She carried lilies tied with old Brussels lace.

Reception at Cousin's Home

Following the church ceremony the reception was held at the residence of Mrs. James Burgess, Russell Hill Road.

Pink roses and gladioli decorated the drawing room wherein the reception took place. Mrs. Burgess was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Wright. Mrs. Campbell chose a liberty model of grey nylon with black overdress richly embroidered with black velvet. She also wore a black picture hat with bird of paradise asprey and Russian gramine collar. Her flowers were a corsage of orange blossoms.

Mrs. Alfred Wright, mother of the groom, was gowned in black velvet with matching hat and carried tallman roses. Mrs. James Burgess, who also received, chose a gown of French blue lace with matching hat.

Wedding Cake Interesting Feature

Present at the wedding was Mrs. Estlin McCrimmon, 82, who made the wedding cake for today's bride just the same as the one she made 50 years ago for the mother of the bride. Mrs. J. B. Griffith of Hamilton, who is bridemaid at the same wedding, was also present.

Dr. Wright is a graduate of Arts at Toronto University and Medicine from McGill University. He spent four years doing post graduate work, including three years at the Massachusetts eye and ear infirmary, Boston, affiliated with Harvard University. At present he is on the staff of the Hospital for Sick Children and the Western Hospital, Toronto. Dr. Wright is well known in amateur hockey circles, having been with the University of Toronto hockey team when they won the Allan cup in Winnipeg in 1921.

The Calgary Daily Herald of Sept. 21st contained an excellent photograph of the bride-to-be, Miss Elizabeth Campbell whose marriage to Dr. Edward Nicol Wright took place in Toronto recently. The Herald states Miss Campbell was a much feted visitor in Calgary in the spring when she was the guest of her only brother Capt. Colin H. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, (the former Miss Josephine Harrington of Charlottetown, while in Calgary Miss Campbell who is a famous horse-back rider won first prize at the annual Calgary Horse Show. Her brother, Capt. Colin H. Campbell, who is a member of the Western Canada Polo Championship team, also won first prize at the same show.

These imported farm stock were brought here through the co-operation of Harold Mitchell, formerly district representative. Fifteen hundred exhibits representative of the land development movement were on display.

TEST SNAKE FLUID AS AN ANTITOXIN

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Oct. 18.—A secret potion brewed from the skin of a snake and hitherto known only to the Indians of Brazil's wild jungles, may help science advance another step toward the discovery of the long-sought cure for infantile paralysis.

Remarkable success in the treatment of the dread disease among the unprivileged natives was observed by Dr. Otto Vogt Van Sickingen, German bacteriologist, on a trip through the jungle country in search of pitch-blende deposits. Infants of Brazil's hinterland, Dr. Van Sickingen said on arriving here, but the primitive antitoxin has proven highly successful in treating the disease.

Transportation Lacking For Bushmaster

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Oct. 19.—Washington's national zoo can have a Bushmaster to add to its collection of deadly reptiles — if some transportation agency can be persuaded to carry it from Trinidad to the United States.

The Bushmaster is here all right, his four-foot length of death-dealing fury coiled securely in a strong box, and all ready for shipment. The trouble is, they can't find anything to ship him on.

First Pan-American Airways refused to take him north on one of their planes, fearful of the effect the snake might have on the passengers. Then he was denied a passage on the Munson liner Western World for the same reason.

Officials of both transportation companies recalled a near panic that occurred on a steamship not long ago when a Bushmaster bound for the United States was reported to have escaped from his keeper's custody.

So the Bushmaster stays in Port of Spain until the shippers can overcome this fear of one of the world's deadliest snakes. This particular snake was captured in Trinidad's wild swamps near Rudolph Wehking for R. M. Arundel, secretary to Senator Jesse Metcalf of Rhode Island, who plans to present it to the National Zoo if he ever gets it.

Claims Money Diverted From Commission Funds

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TORONTO, Oct. 19.—T. Stewart Lyon, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, said tonight the commission had adopted a resolution that action be entered against Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and T. A. Maguire, former commissioners, and two former directors of the return of money "illegally diverted from the funds of commission."

The text of documents found in the commission's files, he said, revealed the former commission hired detectives to "get something on the Liberal party of Ontario." Expenses of detective operatives and their fees, "which were on a very lavish scale," he said, totalled $4,300.

The action for recovery of money, Mr. Lyon said, would be taken against former Chief Engineer Fred A. Gaby and hydro solicitor Isaac B. Lucas in addition to Mr. Meighen and Mr. Maguire.

London Surgeon Describes Detouring Living Skin

(By Howard W. Hales, Associated Press Science Editor) (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BOSTON, Oct. 18.—A method of detouring living skin from one part of the body to another to improve plastic surgery was described to the American College of Surgeons here tonight by Sir Harold Gillies, London surgeon.

The detouring of the skin is one of the latest bits of skill. By its use skin, without losing its living connection with the patient's own blood supply, can be taken from virtually any part of the body, even the back, and transferred anywhere else.

By this method skin has been taken from the outside of the body and detoured to interior cavities to save life.

The detour trip across or lengthwise of the body takes six to nine weeks. The method is known to surgeons as the tubed pedicle flap. The "flap" looks like the handle of a spatula.

To use for detouring abdominal skin to the face a square section of abdominal skin is first loosened along two opposite sides. It is lifted and rolled into the form of a valve handle. Its other two ends remain attached to their original sites.

This handle or flap remains fully alive nourished by blood vessels at each end, until it gets accustomed to its semi-independent form of life.

Next one end of the flap is cut free and grafted to the forehead, which can be placed near the abdomen. Meanwhile the other end is detached from the abdomen, but left fastened to the forehead. The forehead is then free to be raised to the face, or wherever the new skin

District Convention

The seventh annual district convention of Murray Harbor, High Bank and Murray River was held on Thursday, October 4th in the Public Hall, Murray River.

There were over sixty members at the afternoon session and the evening meeting the hall was filled to capacity.

Both meetings were presided over by Mrs. J. B. Ferguson, president. Meeting opened by the singing of the Institute Ode, followed by the Creed.

The reports from the different institutes were submitted and showed great activity during the past year.

Mrs. MacMillan, B.Sc., Supervisor, addressed the meeting and stressed the importance of the educational work of the Institutes.

A duet by Verita Keenan and Joyce Nicole; Monologue, by Mrs. W. D. MacDonald and a recitation by Mrs. Margaret Cooper were pleasing additions to the program.

Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. W. D. MacDonald, Ocean View; 1st Vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Ferguson, Ray of Hope; 2nd Vice-president, Mrs. Chester Cooper, Green Mary; Secretary, Miss Mary Smith, Ocean View.

Plan Liquor Control Laws For Maine

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 19.—Maine's 86th Legislature will convene in special session within the next few weeks to consider enactment of liquor control laws.

Legislators of the first congressional district today voted overwhelmingly in a meeting called here by Governor Louis J. Brann, sponsor of the special session, in favor of such action. Their vote was similar to that of meetings of legislators in the second and third districts held recently. Maine repealed its prohibition statute as a two to one vote in the September election.

Women Fliers Have Their Worries

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MELDENHALL, A. B. P. D. R. O. M. E. Eng., Oct. 18.—Browned Jacques Coucrahan and Amy Mollison, the only two women pilots in the England-to-Australia air race, have common worries — they say they have not had enough experience with their planes.

Miss Coucrahan, the New York entrant, confesses to another trouble in trying to appear feminine enough "when the only things you can wear are flying suits and no make-up."

Lamenting her lack of experience with her green monoplane, two days before the race begins, Miss Coucrahan said, "we had a different plane ordered, originally you know, but we were forced to make this late substitute. Wesley Smith and I have each had only a half hour at the controls of our substitute."

Amy Mollison, who practised landings twice yesterday with her husband, said she hasn't handled the controls alone yet.

"We are in the same boat with many others because of the lack of time to gain experience with our plane. It worries me extremely but we are trying to get all the experience possible before Saturday."

Mrs. Mollison's man-like flying suit is given a feminine touch by the addition of a natty fur collar.

"Eyebrow" Mustaches Have Their Uses

(By Howard W. Hales, Associated Press Science Editor) (By Guardian's Special Wire) BOSTON, Oct. 19.—An upper-lip health risk that may justify the "eyebrow" mustache as a real protector was explained to the American College of Surgeons here tonight.

Any infection of the upper lip, such as might arise from even a trivial razor scratch or whatever risk there may be in kissing, is much more potentially dangerous than similar infection on the lower lip.

The facial mechanisms involved in this situation and the not infrequently fatal results were explained to a symposium on infections by Frederick A. Collier, M.D., of Ann Arbor, Mich. A person with anything larger than an ordinary pimple on the upper lip, he said, really ought to be in bed in a hospital because of what might happen.

Broadly speaking this "upper lip" area includes not only the site of mustaches but much of the face and nose. Infections in these areas may be beyond mild stages are apt to spread until they reach the facial veins.

These veins pass down close to each side of the nose and then flare out across the cheeks somewhat above the mustache lip areas. Ordinarily the blood in them flows downward. But upper lip infections may block these veins, forcing the blood in them upward.

If then flow toward the eye, passes the region of the inner angle of the eye and empties into the cavernous sinus" located on the floor of the skull.

Once there the infection can kill quickly.

is wanted. This transfer is the second step of the detour. The flap is left attached to the wrist, while its free end is grafted in place on the face. Again the skin gets accustomed to its new location. Then finally it is detached from the forearm and the grafting completed on the face. Sir Harold explained this makes it possible to transfer living skin which contains not only the thin surface but underlying fat and blood vessels.

For numerous serious troubles the detour method supplies skin more flexible, and of better color than other methods of simply lifting out a patch of skin from one spot and laying it on the new one. Skin transferred in this manner can develop even the power to blush naturally.

Sir Harold credited the development to the lessons of Great War amputee but underlying fat and surgery.
