Remembrance Day was observed in this locality, more particularly on the Sunday previous when the congregation of Princetown United paid its tribute to the sixty thousand Canadian soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice and to those soldiers who returned to us after years of faithful service. Two minutes of silence preceded the service, appropriate music was given and the congregation filed out while the Dead March in Saul was rendered. The congregation was headed by the members of the Young People's Society. Two of their number, Messrs Ernest Lockerby and Arthur MacKay—brothers of fallen heroes—carrying a wreath which was placed in front of the cenotaph which was erected in memory of the large number from Princetown and Indian River who sacrificed their lives. The Rev. M. A. MacMillan offered prayer and on the return to the church the beautiful solo "Crossing the Bar" was effectively rendered by Mrs. Chester Simpson. The address by Rev. Mr. MacMillan was full of practical application and the whole service was well worthy of our brave patriots and is one that will live in the hearts of those present.—M.
