West Kent Ice Sports Success

Large Attendance Watch Young Skaters In Action—West Kent Wins Hockey Game.

The West Kent School ice sports staged before a large attendance at the Arena last evening was a complete success notwithstanding the soft and watery ice that made the going rather tough for the young athletes.

The hockey game also played between West Kent and Prince of Wales was exciting from start to finish, West Kent winning by a 3 to 1 score.

Tilden's Conquerer

By QUI NHALL

Always considered as one of our most promising young tennis players, Johnny Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., ranked as No. 6 last year, bounced into heavy prominence last month when he trimmed Frank Hunter, No. 2, and followed with a spectacular win over William Tilden, 2d., just after the first ranking player of the country had been reinstated by the governing tennis body.

Following his win over Tilden, Van Ryn paired up with Gilbert Hall to beat Tilden and Hunter in the doubles final at the invitation tournament of the Brooklyn Heights Casino. In other words, during the few days of this tournament, the Orange, N. J. star placed himself in a position where he cannot be overlooked in the 1929 tennis world.

Van Ryn was born in Newport News, Va., June 30, 1906. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs about 50 pounds. Van Ryn's remarkable showing against such veteran ranking players Tilden and Hunter means much to tennis in the United States. Close observers of the game are already prophesying that the 1929 U. S. Davis Cup team will be built up around this 23-year-old youngster. His resourceful net game against the veteran ranking players indicates that finally America has a potential challenger to the crown which has been going to France with too much regularity of late. During his matches in Brooklyn in February, when the New Jersey youth began making tennis history on his own account, many experts referred to his playing as that of "another Vincent Richards." Always noted for a strong forehand drive and a thundering serve, his development of a fast net game over the winter made the fellows who followed Vinnie's career as an amateur feel that here was a second Richards.

While Van Ryn's victory may mark the start of the passing of the old guard composed of such titans as Tilden and Hunter, there are plenty of youngsters to take up the burden where the veterans leave off. With Van Ryn as a pivot man there are several other youngsters, including George Lot, Gilbert Hall, Wilmer Allison and Junior Coen, to carry on. But Van Ryn now looks to be the best of the lot.

BIG LEAGUE BALL GOSSIP

AVON PARK, Fla., March 19.—(C. P.)—It is true that uneasy lies the head that wears the crown of manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Billy Southworth is managing to conceal it. In spite of the fact that he is the fourth manager of the Red Birds in four years, the little outfielder to all appearances is nonchalant, in the best manner recommended by the cigarette advertisements.

The former pennant winning Rochester pilot believes in hard work and more of it. No club in Florida is working such long hours and at such speed as the National League champions.

A training camp innovation has been made by the construction of two batting cages, in addition to the regular batting practice at the plate and three divisions take many cuts at the ball during practice. Southworth also has two pitchers alternating in pitching to the batters.

The only picnic about the champions' seasons is the luncheon. The athletes waive the formality of returning to their hotel for the mid-day meal, and are satisfied by a sketchy repast on the bench and in the club house.

The Cards are committed to one infield change and there may be more. Charley Gelbert, the sensational young shortstop from Rochester, will play short. Gelbert may face the handicap of too much boosting for every International League manager and player has predicted without qualification that he will make good with a rush.

If Cary Selph, the Arkansas traveler from Houston, comes up to specifications he will go to second base with Frankie Frisch moving over to third. If a tour of bench duty is considered necessary for Selph's baseball welfare, Fred Haney, former Detroit player, and the versatile Andy High are available for third. Jim Bottomley gets renomination without opposition at first base.

There are only six outfielders on the roster, including manager Southworth, who probably will fill a utility role. Walter Roettger, who was batting at a terrific clip when he broke his leg July fourth, seems to have recovered and would seem to have first call on right field. Taylor Douthit and Chick Hafey will hold outfield posts. This arrangement will leave Ernest Orsatti, fleet Californian and Roscoe Holm, a baseball handy man available as reserves with the manager, who was among the leading hitters of the International League on his brief vacation from the majors. Southworth's arm is none too good, however, and he may content himself with pinch hitting against right hand pitching.

Jimmy Wilson will do most of the catching with the veteran Earl Smith available as first assistant. The other catching assignment awaits a contest between Gus Manouso and Clarence Jonnard, a member of the pitching firm of Jonnard Brothers.

The pitching mainstays all know their way about from previous ordeals by fire. Grover Cleveland Alexander, at 42 and with 18 major league campaigns behind him, is the youngest player in the camp. He fields, bunts by the hour and will be the first pitcher ready to take a turn. Willie Sherdel, Jesse Haines, Clarence Mitchell and Sylvester Johnson will complete the big five.

Herman Bell, back for another chance and Frankhouse and Hald, who were on the club last year, should stick and Texas Leaguers, Bill Halahan and Harold Elliott have a chance. Halahan has been handicapped in his early efforts by injuries, as has Frankhouse.

The Cards, in addition to a new manager have two new coaches, both returning to the major leagues after a long absence. Earl "Greasy" Neale, former Cincinnati outfielder, has been coaching at the University of Virginia and Charles "Gabby" Street, once a great Washington catcher, has been managing in the minors. There is plenty of master minding for the trio, for in addition to the Cardinals proper, there are numerous pieces of green timber in camp to be stored away for seasoning at one of the eight minor league farms in the St. Louis system.

Tough Games In N.H.L. Race

Americans And Rangers Play 60 Minute Scoreless Tie—Bruins Beat Les Canadiens 1 to Nil.

(Canadian Press) NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—New York's two hockey teams, the Americans and Rangers, battled through 60 minutes of hard hockey to a scoreless tie tonight in the first game of playoff series between the teams finishing second in their groups in the regular National Hockey League race. The series of two games, total goals to count.

No overtime was played in the first contest. Neither team had any marked advantage through the closest game of the season at Madison Square Garden. The Rangers made a few good shots, but the stellar goal tending of Roy Worters and the fine defensive play of the entire American team more than offset this advantage. The brilliant passing attacks of Les Patrick's team seldom could make headway against the barriers of muscle and hickory around the American net.

PORT ARTHUR QUALIFIES

No Flyweight Boxing Champ

(Canadian Press) NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—Receipt of a cablegram from the International Boxing Union, ruling body of the sport in Europe, announcing its recognition of "Spider" Pladner, French flyweight, as world's champion through his recent knockout of Frankie Genaro, was announced today by the New York state athletic commission. The New York body took no action as it sanctions no champion in the flyweight division at present and did not recognize Genaro.

GERMAN CRIMINALS REAL BUSINESSMEN

BERLIN, March 19.—Criminal organization in Germany has reached a high state of perfection. There are numerous "crime clubs" in which for a small initiation and monthly dues members are provided with tools and disguises for the commission of any "job" they may have in hand. Money is advanced for railway fares and the services of a competent lawyer are provided. Information is also kept on file of the idiosyncrasies of individual night watchmen and policemen.

Members of the clubs are enrolled under false names, usually English ones, and are governed in their relations with one another by a strict set of rules, infraction of which is punished in some cases with death. The greatest crime is stealing from a fellow member or knowingly getting the better of him in any way. To bear witness against him in court is a serious offense. There are some 25 of these clubs, according to the annual police report, all affiliated with four central organizations known as the "four rings."

One of the organizations, the "Ever-True Athletic Club" recently appeared in the open when two of its members were tried for murder as a result of deaths in a street fight. It was alleged "Ever-Trues" attacked members of the Carpenters' Guild with whom they have long been at enmity. The "Ever-Trues" are renowned bruisers and frequently are engaged as "chuckers-out" with selling shows. The carpenters have been delighted in starting row at such shows and have often clashed with the "Ever-True" lads, sometimes to the discredit of the latter's professional reputation.

Q. S. S. DEFEAT S. D. U. 3 TO 0

A three to nil score was the result of a fast and spectacular game of hockey which took place in the Arena on Monday afternoon between that light, but solid and fast little Queen Square team and a fast and nice working Saint Dunstan's team. The game, which was played on a fair sheet of ice, was without exaggerating as good a game as has been played in intermediate or junior hockey this season. The teams got away with both sexes setting a fast pace. Roy McCabe of the Queen Square team made a series of nice rushes down the ice in an effort to make an early score which he was rewarded about three minutes after the face-off, on a splendid wing shot. About ten minutes later Queen Square increased their lead still more when McCabe's wing shot, which was well placed and directed, shot past Dracopou, S. D. U. goalie for their se-
