

A Siege
The matrons of the Edison Orphanage at Lowell, Mass., U.S.A., wrote they had a siege of whooping-cough in their institution. They said that every case was promptly relieved by Vapo-Cresolene. Its value in coughs and colds was so great they always kept it ready for use. You know how it's used, don't you? 'Tis heated by a vaporizer and you inhale it. Write us for a book that tells all about it.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. The Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a lifetime, and a bottle of Cresolene complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 320 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

THE MORNING GUARDIAN

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1901.

OUR BOYS.

By our boys we mean all the boys of our city and Island—the boys who will soon be young men, passing on to be middle-aged and eventually, some of them at least, old men, filling the place of the grandfathers of today. These boys will one day supply the rulers of the land, the judges, preachers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, manufacturers, farmers and artisans, the husbands and fathers, the good and useful citizens, and also with almost equal certainty will supply from among their ranks the successors to the vicious, the idle, the dissipated and the criminal classes of today.

It is not to give a homily upon the responsibility of parents, preachers and teachers toward our boys that we write, but to remind our readers and the general public of certain vital truths too much neglected. We have made the schools of learning free to all, that the children of rich and poor may have an equal chance to obtain a common education. In this we have done well, but we have not made things equal. We have but half done our work. The boys whose parents value education would have got it even under the old system when the schools were not free. But what about the boys whose parents do not value the school and who evade all responsibility with regard to the education and the moral and industrial training of their children? These boys are situated much as were the boys in the olden days. They do not attend school, or they attend it very irregularly. They learn their lessons in the streets and alleys, the lessons of idleness, vice and crime. The remedy is a law of compulsory attendance, and a truant officer to enforce it. Until we have these our duty to the boys is but half done.

But we also owe a duty to the boys who have already entered upon vicious courses. Many of them came into the world with a sad handicap of inherited evil propensities. They were not restrained or guided in the right way. Their school was the street, where they learned vile language and perchance to lie and steal as well as swear. They are in training to become the drunkards, the vote-sellers, the perjurers, the illegal rum-sellers, the thieves and perchance the barn-burners, or murderers of the future! The process of evolution in vice and crime is as natural and inevitable as anything else under the sun. The good citizen of today might have been a jail bird had he the same heredity as one of these and been surrounded with like conditions in early life. We feel sincere pity for the youthful criminals arraigned in the police court or in the docks of our higher courts. But we have made no provision to reform them and to set them on the right road again. We send them to the common jail to consort with hardened criminals and there complete the course begun in the school of the street.

Surely we need a reformatory! But we shall be told that our Island population is small, and the expense of a reformatory with its superintendent and teachers, its necessary workshop and instruction in handicraft is beyond our means. The obvious remedy is legislation that will permit our sending juvenile criminals to the reformatory in some neighboring Province and paying for their maintenance and instruction. It often costs more to maintain a criminal that to reform a misguided young life and such reform makes a world of difference to the reformed person, to his family and to the community, apart from an incomparable difference in his destiny hereafter. We invite our readers to think it over, weighing well the sad existing conditions and the proposed remedies. If you conclude with us that we need compulsory education, a truant officer and a reformatory, then let concerted effort be made to bring into effect the remedies proposed.

LONDON'S DENSE FOGS.

LONDON, October 30.—The streets of London were rendered impassable during the evening by the densest and blackest fogs known for many years. All wheeled traffic was virtually suspended except in a few main thoroughfares, and Trafalgar Square, the Strand, Whitehall and Piccadilly were blocked with omnibuses unable to make progress. Cabmen were forced to lead their horses, and there was great excitement in the street at mid night when the theatres were emptying their throngs. The pleasure seekers found it well nigh impossible to make their way homeward. There was a loud uproar in the streets from shouting mobs hour after hour.

A LEG IS ONLY WORTH $8,000

The Supreme court of Iowa last week determined the cash value of a man's leg placing it at $8,000. The jury gave a verdict for $14,500, but the court declared it excessive, and followed a precedent in a similar case of a few years ago, when a verdict of $12,000 was cut down to $8,000. This is now regarded as the stand trial value of an Iowa leg.

"A New Woman."

Disease makes many a woman prematurely old. Dark-rimmed eyes, hollow cheeks and wasted form are accompanied by listlessness and loss of ambition. Home duties are a weariness, and social pleasures have no attraction.

One of the commonest expressions of women cured by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is this: "It has made a new woman of me." There's a world of meaning in the words. It means the sparkle brought back to the eyes; the complexion tinted with the rosy hue of healthy blood; the form rounded out anew in graceful curves; the whole body radiant with health.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes new women of those prematurely aged by disease.

"Dr. Pierce's medicines are the best I have ever used," writes Mrs. C. Nelson, of Chemawa, Marion Co., Oregon. "My health was badly run down when I consulted him by letter. My limbs were cold and my head hurt me continually. I was so nervous that the least thing would startle me almost into convulsions. I had palpitation of the heart so bad that I could scarcely walk sometimes. I felt utterly discouraged, but two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' made a new woman out of me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for it in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Solid Gold Ladies' Ring $1
EVERY RING STAMPED SOLID GOLD.
The greatest bargain ever offered in this country. Send in One Dollar and we will send you a beautiful Solid Gold Ladies' or Misses Ring, set in single, two or three stone settings. Mention your favorite stones and whether you want one, two or three stone ring. Remember if any of our rings do not suit you, we will return money immediately—this shows our confidence in these goods. Every ring is packed in a fine plush box and we pay delivery charges. In ordering ring remit us $1.00 and state size desired according to the ring knuckles here given. Do not send strings or slips of paper. To ascertain the number of the size you wear, cut a piece of thick paper or thin card-board and fit it around your finger so that the end shall just meet, and so that it will pass over the knuckles. Then measure this slip of paper along the ring measure, marking one end at the left-hand extremity, and the figure to which the other end reaches indicates the number of the size. State this number and we can fit your finger exactly.
