LITERARY SOCIETY.—The second of this season's series of lectures under the auspices of St. James Literary Society was held last night. Owing to a number of other attractions the attendance was not as large as it might otherwise have been, but those who attended had the privilege of listening to a most interesting and instructive paper on The Art of Poetry, by Mr. R. H. Rogers, Chief Superintendent of Education. Mr. D. Edgar Shaw, president, occupied the chair. At the conclusion of the lecture a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. D. K. Currie, seconded by Judge Stewart and supported by Rev. W. Orr Mulligan, was tendered to Mr. Rogers, who was fittingly replied to. This was followed by a short discussion relative to the proposed library for the Society and it was arranged that the committee would report at the next meeting.

THOMAS EDMUND CAMPBELL. With deepest sympathy we record the death of Thomas Edmund Campbell, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campbell which occurred at his home in Middleton on Thursday evening, Jan. 31st, 1924. The deceased was enjoying his usual good health until about six weeks previous to his death, having contracted a severe cold and was on the road to recovery when measles set in, causing his death. He seemed to know that the end was near, so he calmly resigned himself to the will of his Creator, and with his final strength he breathed a prayer to God. He was attended during his illness by his pastor, Rev. M. J. Smith, who administered to him the last sacrament of the Catholic Church of which he was a dutiful and efficient member, and prepared him for a happy death which he ardently desired. Edmund was widely known and highly respected, his kind and lowly disposition, and constant good humor made him a general favorite to all. He was endowed with all the noble virtues essential for happiness. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Thomas W. Hamill, John L. Murphy, James MacGuigan, Austin Roberts, Wilfred Hamill, and Raymond Johnston. Funeral offerings—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts and family. Spiritual offerings—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hamill and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. MacDonald, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hamill and family, Freeport; Mr. and Mrs. James Malone, Kelly's Cross; Miss Genevieve Hamill, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel McDonald, Summerside.—S.

MIS AGNES DOIRON. The gentle spirit of Agnes Doiron youngest daughter of Mrs. Andrew Doiron, Elm Avenue, was called away to the land of eternal happiness on Tuesday, February 5th at the age of 30 years. All that could be done by kind and loving friends had been tried but failed and the weary hours of illness had gone forever. The deceased was a bright and lovable girl, the sunbeam of her home and her amiable gentle disposition won for her a large circle of friends whose love and friendly feelings follow her beyond the grave. The dear girl had been ill for a long time but though not expected that death, so certain to all, would come so soon. The fatal nature of her disease baffled the powers of medicine and slowly but surely undermined her constitution until at last it completed its dread work by closing her eyes forever on the scenes of this life. She received with great faith and piety the last Sacrament of the Holy Church administered by Rev. Maurice McDonald and with trembling lips pronounced the last prayers that fortify the soul for its final departure. She leaves to mourn a sorrowing mother, one sister and one brother, James Henry on the old homestead, Rustico and Mary Josephine, residing with her mother in Elm Avenue. The body was forwarded to Hunter River Station accompanied by the deceased cousin Joseph Blanch.

MR. VINCENT MCKINNON. The death took place on Sunday, Feb. 10th, at the City Hospital of Vincent McKinnon, aged 37 years. The deceased was an employee of John T. Morris Ltd. of this city. He was operated on for appendicitis which developed peritonitis and despite the best medical treatment he passed away. He leaves to mourn a wife and five small children also one brother John of this city. The following floral and spiritual offerings were received:—Cross, C. J. Zeurcher; wreath, the employees of Messrs. J. and T. Morris Ltd.; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Saunders; Mass cards: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McKinnon; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McKinnon; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Sexton; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Flynn and family; Miss Alice Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Hartle Somers, Mr. and Mrs. J. T.
