MRS. VERNON DONNELLY

Summerville.

"Bright o'er her grave God's stars must love to shine; And where, when winter closes, Fair-Spring shall come, and in her garland twine The whiff of white roses."

The death of Mrs. Vernon Donnelly, Summerville, which occurred at the City Hospital on Thursday, December 17th, was learned with regret by many friends.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Miss Bertha Byrne, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edmund B. Byrne, formerly of Fort Augustus. She was in her 31st year. A splendid young woman, popular, intelligent and gifted in many ways, it seems but a short time ago that a long and happy life was in store for her. Apparently, however God had otherwise ordained.

THE LATE JOHN P. COLLINS

The residents of North River were greatly shocked on Tuesday last when they learned that one of the most highly respected members of that community, Mr. John P. Collins, had suddenly passed away during the early hours of the morning.

Towards noon on Monday, Mr. Collins was assisting his son in some light work in his fox ranch when he was seized with a severe heart attack and collapsed. Medical aid was at once called and Reverend Father Farrell of the Basilica staff was summoned and administered the Last Rites of the church. Towards evening, however, Mr. Collins revived, and before midnight his condition had so much improved that his family entertained great hopes of his recovery. In the early hours of Tuesday morning, however, as previously stated, he suffered another violent seizure and almost before his family could be summoned to his bedside he succumbed.

The deceased, who was in his sixty-ninth year, carried on farming at North River during practically his whole life-time, and by industry and the application of modern methods was eminently successful in his chosen calling. He was a man of great integrity and was one of that type of Christian gentlemen who regard it as a privilege and a pleasure to be afforded an opportunity of assisting a fellow man. No call for his aid ever went unheeded regardless of from whom or where the call came. He was an ideal husband and father, being most assiduous in his efforts to promote the spiritual and material welfare of his family. His hospitable home was always open to visitors and no member of the household contributed more to the genuine hospitality with which guests were greeted than Mr. Collins himself. He enjoyed the confidence and esteem of an exceedingly wide circle of friends among whom there will be genuine sorrow over his sudden passing.

Mr. Collins was a life-long supporter of the Conservative party and although in politics, as in other matters, he was always tolerant of the views of others, he nevertheless held steadfastly to his own convictions.

Early in life the deceased married Miss Annie Hynes of Millview, who with two daughters and one son, namely, Mrs. Fred Lapointe, of Jamaica Plains, Mass., Winnifred and Victor E. at home, and one brother, Dr. J. T. Collins, of Vernon River, are left to mourn. The Guardian joins with their hosts of friends in extending deep sympathy to the bereaved wife and family.

BEERS-CAIRNS—The evening of New Year's Day was the occasion of a very interesting and happy event at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beers, Park View Avenue, Stoughton, Massachusetts, when their second son, John Stewart Beers, was united in wedlock to Miss Janet Rebecca Cairns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cairns of Stanchel, P. E. Island. The bride who was formerly given away by Alfred Cook of Medford, Mass was beautifully attired in a wedding dress of white satin with veil and bouquet of pink roses, while the bridesmaid, Mrs. L. M. Greenleaf of Dorchester, wore a dress of blue satin and Miss Bertha Cairns of Lexington, cousin of the bride, acting as maid of honor was dressed in pink lace, each of these attendants carrying a bouquet of sweet peas. The wedding march was played on the piano by Mrs. Ethel H. Lutted, of Stoughton, during which the bridal party entered the parlor of the home where the impressive ceremony was solemnized by Rev. J. W. S. Lowery of Cambridge, with the ritual of the Westminster Directory. After the ceremony, Mr. Arthur Bouton, of Brockton sang very sweetly, "O, Promise Me," followed by the customary congratulations to the bridal pair. Alfred Beers, brother of the groom, acted as best man, both wore the conventional black suit. The double ring ceremony being concluded, a pleasant evening was spent with vocal and instrumental music and social enjoyment by the numerous company of guests present from Brockton, Cambridge, Somerville, Stoughton, Watertown and other points in the state. The many beautiful gifts received by both bride and groom amply testified to their popularity with their wide circle of friends and relatives. The happy young couple are both active members of the Cambridge congregation of the Church of Scotland. Mr. Beers being one of its recently ordained elders. The bride's travelling dress was of black crepe trimmed with green. Mr. and Mrs.

Beers will make their future home in South Stoughton, Mass. where he, along with his father and brothers, have for many years past, carried on a very successful business as contractors and builders. The young couple have the warmest good wishes of a wide circle of friends for their future happiness and prosperity.

Mr. Harry Wheeler, Churchill, was a visitor to the city yesterday.

GEORGETOWN

Mr. E. B. MacLaren, of Georgetown, was greatly surprised on Tuesday evening, Jan. 5th, when a number of the men gathered at his home and presented him with a beautiful smoking set. The address was read by Mr. Ashley Allan and the presentation made by Mr. Wm. Hobbs. Mr. MacLaren replied in a very becoming manner. Following is the address: Dear Sir:—As we have once more come to the close of another potato season we are stopping for a moment, trying to balance the things that have been done against those that have been left undone. We are thinking too of the different things we have worked and of the different people we have toiled, and as you know well, Sir, never do you hear a number of working men talking in friendly conversation, but you hear mention of some chap who had worked with the speaker on some other job and often the remarks are uncomplimentary to the absent one. But you may rest assured that those of us, who have worked in the potato shed with you can never but speak in the most laudible praises of our association with you. You have treated us most fairly, the keenness of mind and broadness of thought which for years placed you high in the ranks of the men of this Island, have given you a higher place in the minds of those placed directly under your charge and now as a slight token of respect, we ask you to accept the accompanying gift, remembering always it is wrapped with the best wishes, not only for 1932, but years to come. Yours in comradeship. Signed on behalf of the men, William Hobbs.

BROOKVALE SCHOOL EXAMINATION
The semi-annual examination of Brookvale School was held in the school room on the afternoon of Dec. 23rd in the presence of a large number of rate-payers and visitors. The school room was artistically decorated for the occasion. The pupils were examined in the various subjects by their teacher, Miss Kathleen Cusack, ably assisted by Rev. Clarence Pitre, P. P. and Mr. Mathias Hagan, teacher of Maplewood school, and they showed by their prompt and ready answers that they had been carefully instructed during the past five months. An interesting feature of the afternoon was two catechism tests Class A and Class B for which a prize was delivered by the teacher to the winner in each class. Rev. Clarence Pitre was the questioner. A short but well rendered programme was then exhibited by the pupils in which they manifested the training they had received in preparation. After the program the teacher was taken completely by surprise when the pupils announced that they had an address and presentation for her. The address was read by Miss Martha Cudmore and the presentation made by Miss Madeline Sturdy. The teacher in a few well chosen words thanked her pupils for their kind remembrance. Both visitors and pupils were then treated to a generous supply of different kinds of candy. The singing of the National Anthem brought a pleasant afternoon to a close. The following is the address: Dear Teacher:—I have been requested by the pupils of our school to offer you a slight token of our affection and regard. I cannot express in words how delighted I am to be the means of conveying to you the expression of our united love. What we offer you is a poor symbol of our feelings but we know you will receive it kindly as a simple indication of the attachment which each one of us cherish to you in our heart of hearts. You have made our lessons pleasant to us, so pleasant indeed that it would be ungrateful to call them tasks. We know that we have often tried your temper and forbearance but you have dealt gently with us in our waywardness, teaching us by example as well as precept the advantages of kindness, of self control. We will never forget you, dear teacher. We will look back to this school in after life not as a place of penance but as a scene of mental enjoyment where the paths of learning were strewn with flowers and whenever memory calls us back to our school days our hearts will warm towards you as they do today. I have been requested by my school mates not to address you formally but as a beloved and respected friend. In that light dear teacher, we all regard you. Please accept with our little present our good wishes. May you always be happy as you have endeavored to make your pupils and may there be nothing better wished to them and may they always be as faithful in their duties to others as you have been in your duties to them. Signed on behalf of the pupils of Brookvale School.

Eye Examinations

Are vitally important, whether one's eyes are good or otherwise.

Don't wear your glasses for five or ten years, as some do, without re-examination, for in that time serious changes may take place, which if not discovered, may work permanent injury to the most precious sense you possess.

Guard your eyes.
