Says "Mystery Woman' Not of Royal Descent

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—Professor Savitch commissioned by Grand Duke Cyril to investigate the claim of a mysterious woman known as Mmme. Tschaikovska to be Princess Anastasia Nicolleva, youngest daughter of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, said to-day he was convinced that the woman was an imposter.

To most of those acquainted with the circumstances surrounding the tragic death of the members of the Russian Imperial family there seemed from the first no reason for accepting the story as probable

It is certain that diplomatic and various members of the former Russian aristocracy assisted the woman financially or questioned her at length under the supposition she might actually be the missing Grand Duchess.

Red Teaching Among Children Stirs Britain

LONDON, Feb 19.—The spread of Communist teaching among children is causing much discussion here.

It is revealed that school children in Castleford and Pontefract mining areas of Yorkshire are bringing out a Communist newspaper. "The Young Pioneer." In the High School group says an editorial in that paper, a hundred school children recently journeyed to the woods and played a game of Reds vs. Whites. A number of children write to this paper describing their own grievances, referring to the "brutality" of the teachers, an done youngster, agd 10, asks why it is that the teachers ca ngo for a holiday to foreign countries "while we have to play in the back courts because our fathers don't get enough wages."

The young Communists recently held a national conference at Manchester.

Standard Oil Co. Seeks Russ Rights

(Canadian Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—The Standard Oil Company is negotiating for oil rights in Soviet Russia which would develop into a Standard Oil monopoly of the sale of such oil in Europe, it is learned from an authoritative source.

The deal has large implications and especially effects France. Negotiations are proceeding under cover of the Banque Du Paris Et Des Pays Bas, which, the consent of the French government, would grant long term credits to Soviet Russia in exchange for a Soviet guarantee to supply French oil needs. The bank long has been closely associated with the Standard Oil Company.

Concessions which would probably include the entire Emba oil field in Central Asia and the establishment of a nominally Franco-Russian but actually Standard-Russian monopoly are envisaged. This monopoly would assure Standard Oil an immense advantage over the Royal Dutch Company in the international oil game.

Fighting For Baby's Health

Is the Constant Care of Every Young Mother.

The young mother has a constant care in looking after the welfare of her little ones. Childhood ailments come on so suddenly—sometimes without a minute's warning—the mother may have a very sick baby on her hands before help can be obtained. That is unless she has a remedy in the house which she can safely give the baby for any of the many minor ailments of babyhood and childhood.

Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers throughout the country always keep a box of the Tablets on hand and they proclaim them to be without an equal for sweetening baby's stomach; regulating his bowels, and thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers, and making the dreaded teething period easy.

Baby's Own Tablets are an absolutely safe remedy. They are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any other narcotic drug which are so harmful to the future welfare so harmful to the future welfare of the baby. Mothers, if you value the life of your little ones give him Baby's Own Tablets when he is ill, or, better still, give him an occasional dose of the Tablets to ward off illness. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or will be sent to any address, post paid, at 25 cents a box by addressing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ENGLISH KING WAS CHAMPION OF CAROL

Now Revealed That Quarrel Was Result of Political Intrigue

PARIS, Feb. 19.—King George of England has it is stated in diplomatic circles here used his cousinly influence with the court of Rumania to straighten out the family tangle which resulted last month in the practical banishment of Crown Prince Carol after his impulsive threat to abdicate was seized on by the Crown's advisers and made definite. The English King is a full cousin of Queen Marie of Rumania, and further English interest in the case has been developed through the Asquith family and Prince Antoine Bibesco, who have espoused Carol's case.

King George's plea was based on the ground that the principles of heredity and monarchy had nowadays such scant respect in Europe that it was most inadvisable that any king should disown his eldest son, as Carol had been disowned even on the recommendation of his most trusted advisers. But there also was this factor in the Rumanian situation, that the feeling against the secret governor of the country, Prince Barbu Stirbey, has, under the leadership of Deputy Flipesco, reached such a pitch as to become dangerous. Stirbey, who is a brother-in-law of Premier Bratiano, is credited with the intention of leaving the country shortly for a prolonged trip abroad, and Bratiano will give place to General Averescu or some other nominee until the scandal has blown over.

That the quarrel which led to his threatened abdication and its acceptance was of a political nature and not, as the Rumanian court proclaimed, due solely to the Crown Prince's private life and love affairs, was revealed subsequent to the news of his abdication. Since then the European press has piece by piece revealed the story of the struggle between Carol and his mother's favorite.

King Ferdinand's consent to acceptance of his son's abdication was won only with difficulty and now, it is stated here—though vigorous denial is still being made at Bucharest—that the decree withdrawing the rights of the Crown Prince already have been suspended, and after a short trip to North Africa he will return home to take up again his rank and position in court, free from the presence of Prince Stirbey, on whose influence the publicity of recent events has blown somewhat coldly.

Councillors Took "a Wee Drop"

(Canadian Press)

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Feb. 19.—Following revelations that Council committees had indulged in "a wee drop," presumably in the course of their duties, the Aberdeen City Council has rescinded a resolution two months old, which prohibited the use of intoxicating liquors at civic functions. Members of the committee had used liquor for entertainment of a distinguished visitor and another had disposed of a bottle while making inspections in the suburbs. As some of the members of the latter committee had voted for "dry" resolution, there were comments of "hypocrisy." However, the resolution was rescinded after a full discussion.

Italy's Architects Row on New Rome

ROME, February 19.—The new imperial city of Rome, which Mussolini's magic wand has commanded to come into being within five years, would bring into an artistically jaded world architectural innovations so startling and revolutionary that, compared to them, the most daring skyscrapers of New York will seem old-fashioned. This is the present determination of the vanguard of Fascist architects and artists, which is furnishing the bone of contention and the most spirited aesthetic controversy which has racked Italy since the glorious days of the Renaissance.

The new Rome must be a continuation of mediaeval Christian and ancient Rome—calm, dignified and balanced—say the traditionalists, who are represented by Armando Drasini, the most prominent "academic" architect in the nation. On the other hand, F. T. Marinetti, father of futurism, storms: "We want Rome to have a Mussolinian imprint; that is to say, Facsist futurism—never an archaeological imprint.

"Mussolini," continues Marinetti, "wants to liberate all the monuments of the past from unworthy strictures, which now hide them, hygienicizing the centre of Rome and freeing its forever-increasing traffic. This absolutely rules out any of the old kinds of architecture."

A Shining Example.

It is impossible to remain in the dark about some of the new evening frocks even when the lights go out. For sequins are in full vogue as trimmings and many of the spangles, disposed on evening dresses, are treated with luminous paint. In the light they are of such attractive shades as peacock blue, red and silver.

SAYS CANADA WOULD STICK TO UNCLE SAM

Trotzky Speculates on Possible War Between Britain and States.

MOSCOW, Russia, Feb. 19.—"If Great Britain went to war with the United States, Canada, of course, would stick to the United States." This declaration was made by Leon Trotzky on his first public appearance tonight since his political exile. More than seven thousand persons paid from five to fifteen dollars to hear the builder of the Red Army discourse on pacifism, industrial supremacy and the power of the United States. It was in referring to the traditional friendship and "virtual union" which exists between Canada and the United States, that Trotzky made his statement.

Trotzky pictured the United States as a mighty monster of capitalism ready to devour all Europe and become the majority stockholder of all of mankind.

But capitalism was expiring, he declared, and the colossal wealth of the United States was her most vulnerable spot.

"The higher America climbs to power," he exclaimed, "the more dreadful will be her fall!"

The only way to conquer the supremacy of the United States, said Trotzky, was with Europe and Asia united. Russia's only basic enemy was United States capital.

Declaring that the United States had created a system of standardization of production, he asserted that the productiveness of the United States worker was two and a half times that of the German worker.

"If we convert all the machinery in America into human muscular strength, and divide the figure by the number of its inhabitants," he said, "we will find that every American, including suckling babes, possesses fifty mechanical slaves. The American is a standardized creature; he begins his days in a standardized cradle and ends them in a standardized coffin."

"America," he continued, "invested $25,000,000,000 in the world war, and not less than $13,000,000,000 of this remained in America's factories".

Therefore, the cost of enslaving Europe was not more than $12,000,000,000. Europe pays interest to America for being enslaved and pillaged by America. The only country which escaped America's clutches was Russia. America will never be able to swallow the Soviet union. America intends to buy up all branches of European interests by pacifist means; for instance, the Harrimans bought up the zinc mines of Germany and now control the world's zinc market."

Further instancing the United States as a financial power, Trotzky declared that South America was merely a vassal of the United States. He derided the Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin as financial inspector of the United States in Europe, and asserted that when Herbert Hoover levelled the pistol at Baldwin's head Britain began to sell rubber cheaper.

"Will capitalism survive?" he asked. "Is it still able to contribute to human progress? If the answer is in the affirmative we must admit that the Soviets have taken the power in their hands prematurely. But I believe that capitalism is expiring."

Her Improvement Was Remarkable

Weak and Run-Down—Restored by Dr Williams' Pink Pills.

"Two years ago," says Mrs. L. Wright, Secretan, Sask., "I was very much run-down in health. I suffered from indigestion, sick headaches and sleepless nights. Faint spells would often come over me and I would have to lie down till the faintness passed away. I was so short of breath that I could not walk any distance or do anything that required much exertion, without feeling completely used up. As I was constantly growing weaker, I consulted a doctor who told me I was anaemic and needed building up. I took several bottles of tonic he gave me, but the help I got from it was only temporary. At this stage I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had used in girlhood with much benefit. It was not long after I began using them that I knew I had at last found the right medicine. I think I took altogether some fifteen boxes, and the improvement was remarkable as I was feeling as well as ever I had been, and my good health has continued to this day. I had also been troubled at times with rheumatism, and this as well as my other troubles disappeared. I have since recommended Dr Williams' Pink Pills to neighbors who have used them with equally good results."

All weak, anaemic women and girls should follow the example of Mrs. Wright, and give these pills a fair trial. New health and new strength is sure to follow. You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

If the sky is cloudy, manufacture a little sunshine of your own to start the day with. Begin with a smile on your lips, and a song in your heart, and it will help the day to go well.

N.B.

What He Thought.

Pat awakened one night, and saw at the foot of his bed a white something that he thought to be a ghost. He pulled his revolver from under his pillow, and perforated the apparition with shots. To his surprise, he discovered the following morning that he had made a target of his own shirt. He was telling his experience to a friend, who asked him, "What did you think when you discovered that you had shot your own shirt full of holes?" Quite seriously, Pat replied, "I thought how lucky I was that I wasn't in it."
