Laurier and Tarte.

There is an apparent but not very real difference of statement between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tarte with respect to what took place at the severance of their official relations. Sir Wilfrid in his letter to the late Minister of Public Works speaks of being compelled to demand his resignation. Mr. Tarte in an interview with the Ottawa Citizen says: "Sir Wilfrid is, no doubt unintentionally, in error as to that." He goes on to say that Sir Wilfrid found fault with his course, and he (Tarte) "told him that he might take my resignation at any moment." That was on Sunday. On Monday, Mr. Tarte says, he repeated to Sir Wilfrid what he had said the day before, placing his portfolio at the immediate disposal of the Premier, verbally, and on the same day sent his resignation from Ottawa.

We do not find these two statements of the Premier and Mr. Tarte irreconcilable or even contradictory. It is quite possible that the Premier felt obliged to demand the resignation and that Mr. Tarte also offered to resign, preferring to give some semblance of voluntary retirement to what was in its essence a rather emphatic dismissal. There is little room for controversy, since if we take Mr. Tarte's statement by itself and apart from Sir Wilfrid's we will see that it had become constitutionally impossible for the Minister of Public Works to remain in the Cabinet. Mr. Tarte himself realized that fact when he offered to resign and when he finally wrote out his resignation and sent it to the Premier. But Sir Wilfrid's statement made in his letter addressed to Mr. Tarte is so circumstantial as to leave little doubt as to its accuracy, to most minds.

The Premier's statement is very clear: "After having seen you on Sunday last, and having expressed to you my well-settled opinion upon the consequences of your recent attitude, my first duty was to wait upon his Excellency the Governor-General to inform him that I was obliged to demand the resignation of your portfolio." There is no doubt that the Premier performed this "first duty," else he would not afterwards have so referred to it. The meeting with Mr. Tarte on Monday morning, and at which Mr. Tarte says he again offered to resign, was therefore after the Premier had waited upon the Governor-General, not to announce Mr. Tarte's resignation, for he had not then resigned, but to make known, that he (the Premier) had demanded it. It was after all this had taken place that Mr. Tarte sent back his written resignation from Toronto. Mr. Tarte clearly had to go, and the mere order of his going, is after all only a matter of very minor consequence.

What is a matter of mere general concern and interest is to learn what will be the effect upon Quebec Province and the Dominion of Mr. Tarte's withdrawal. In the first place it may be observed that the first shock has passed with less disturbance of the public mind than might have been expected. So far no one of the Quebec members of the Liberal party has placed himself at Mr. Tarte's side. Mr. Prefontaine, who is of importance and influence proportionate to a Cabinet position, says the exclusion of Mr. Tarte will strengthen the ministerial party in Quebec; that it is an utter fallacy to suppose that he had great power in Quebec, where he has no following whatever. Mr. Prefontaine says the Government is strong in Quebec simply because of the personality of the Premier who is actually beloved by the mass of the people there. The Toronto World, strongly Conservative and protectionist as it is, reaches a very similar conclusion. It says, "To our mind Sir Wilfrid Laurier is still dominant in Quebec and can command a solid vote there with or without Mr. Tarte, although Mr. Tarte, if he went into opposition might play great havoc in time with Sir Wilfrid's supremacy. Sir Wilfrid in bad health would alter the situation." So far there is not the slightest indication that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's great hold upon the Province of Quebec, or the Dominion has been weakened by the exclusion of Mr. Tarte. On the other hand there is a distinct sense of relief among a good many Liberal that the "business-is-business" Minister, the lavish promising "wait-till-you-see-us-next-year" Minister, can no longer make the party responsible for his reckless and ill-judged utterances, or for his enormous travelling expenses or other questionable outlays.

The Montreal Witness is assured that only a few of the Doukhobors have adopted the wild theory that they must not use animals in any way, either for service or for clot. Some very striking reports sent out within the past few months in regard to their doings appear to have been very much exaggerated.

Premier Balfour may take some comfort from having on Wednesday last captured the Liberal seat of Devonport by a majority of 28. Devonport has two members, and both had been Liberal since the general election of 1900. The death of one caused the by-election.

30,000 MEN WANT MORE PAY.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 23.—According to interviews today with heads of railway unions and union members a demand will be made upon the Southern Pacific within the next 30 days for increased wages which will affect more than 30,000 employes. Both the men and union officials admitted that a concerted demand is being made not only upon the Southern Pacific Company but upon 22 other railroads west of Chicago for increased wages.

THE GERMANS LAUGHED.

BERLIN Oct. 23.—André Carnegie's suggestion in his inaugural address as rector of St. Andrew's University, Scotland yesterday, on his reinstallation in that office that Emperor William organize the "United States of Europe" was received with laughter by the Germans. The Visi-ous Zeitung calls it a "nonsensical proposition."

"To say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years; and suffered more than I can tell," writes Mrs. Gust. Moser, of Ovario, Desjardine Co., Mont. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that I could not say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, and also followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser. I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Dr. Pierce enough for his kind letters to me."

Womanly diseases, as a rule, spoil the "disposition," because of the extreme nervousness and suffering they cause. Happiness as well as health is restored to the woman whose diseased condition is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After eight years of suffering and two fruitless operations, three months' use of "Favorite Prescription" restored Mrs. Moser to perfect health. This great remedy for woman's ills, establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps in payment of postage and handling charges.

"A Drop of Ink Makes Millions Think"

And So Do Our Low Prices.

Yes, the price. Speaking of prices, let us impress you right here just as strongly as we can that we have only one price and those hats that we are now displaying to you for the first time. Have no inside price, no discounts, no rebates for large orders. It does not matter a cent whether you buy one or dozen, the price is $2.75, and another person's cash is worth no more to us than yours. It will PUZZLE you and especially our FRIENDS in the MILLINERY BUSINESS to know how we do it. Our answer is that we make a study of the millinery business, buy direct from the producer (thereby saving all middlemen's profit,) and employ home labor. These hats in our eastern and western window to-day are the product of Charlottetown brains,—many of them better than imported styles from Paris, New York and other large cities. We guarantee that there is only one of each style. Out of the 150 hats shown there are not two alike. Many thrifty buyers partook of the offer we made last fall, and purchased their hats from us at $2.75. There will be a rush after those pretty hats and we predict one of the largest sales of hats in our history.

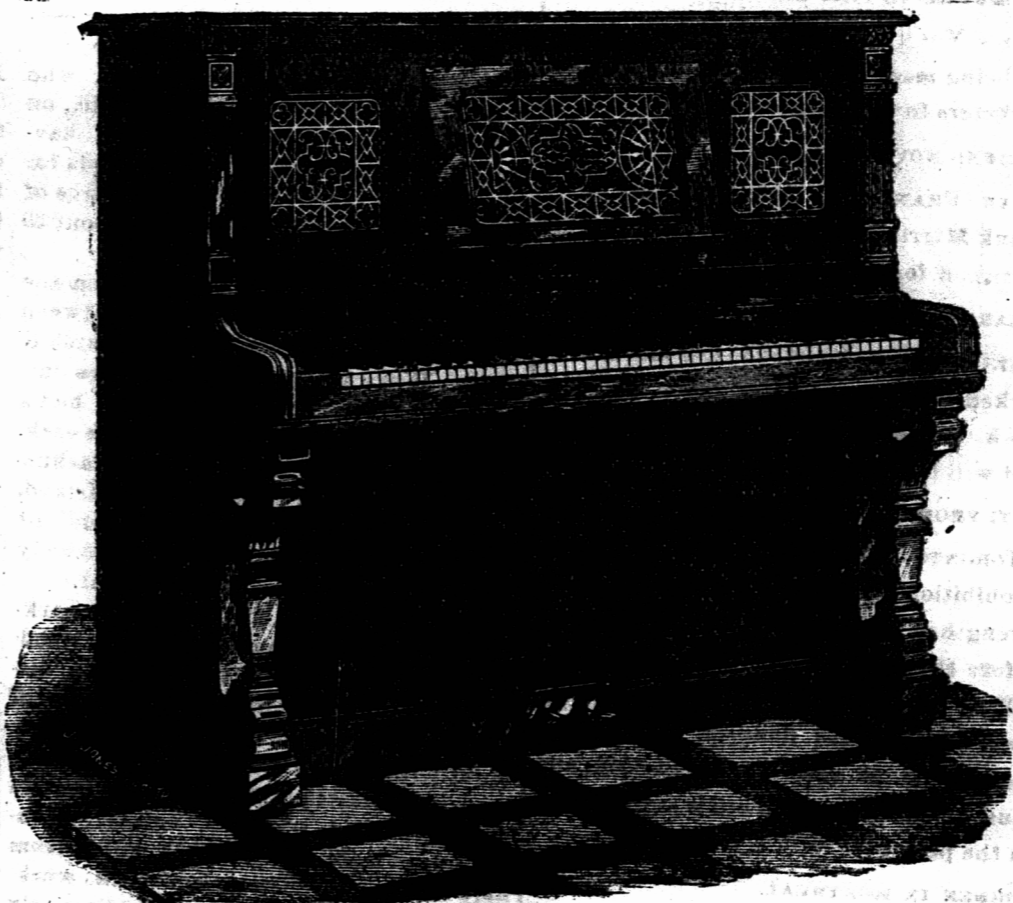

We try to do things differently and better than others do. We make original lines, and we do business on modern principles and the result is seen in the big strides we make every year.

The Montreal Star

Speaking of Pianos shows at the Colonial and Indian exhibition said. "There is no necessity of telling Canadians who Messrs. Heintzman, the well-known piano manufacturers of Toronto, are. Their instruments are well known and appreciated at home, especially in Montreal. In Canada they have little to compete with, but in England, where they throw down the gauntlet to such men as Erard, Broadwood, and Collard, it is a bold venture. And yet many of the leading musicians who have given them a trial at the Exhibition pronounced their instruments unequalled in tone and elasticity of touch. Messrs. Heintzman exhibit two Grand and five Upright pianos, all of which are in cases specially prepared for the Exhibition. There can be no better proof of the value set upon the exhibits of Messrs. Heintzman than the fact that they have sold duplicates of their pianos here over and over again, one of the Grands having been purchased by one of the Wealthiest men in the west of England. In the latter case the purchaser sent experts to thoroughly examine the instrument, and they pronounced it superior to any they could buy in England. Messrs. Heintzman have a certificate to that effect. Both the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess Beatrice, the Duke of Connaught, and the Princess Louise have each visited Messrs. Heintzman's and congratulated the exhibitors on their manufactures."
