PUMPKIN PIE DOOMED.

There is mourning for the passing of the pumpkin pie. The joy of our childhood is not to become extinct, but it promises to become a comparative rarity. The reason is the inventiveness of man.

Man's mechanical contrivances have all but driven the pumpkin from the cornfields. When the farmer went out in the autumn and cut his corn, hill by hill, by hand, with great corn knives, and bound it in shocks, it was his habit to raise pumpkins with the corn.

In those good old days of hand harvested corn the cutting of the golden eared crop bared tons of the more golden material for the insect-pierced that hungry schoolboy ever sunk his rosy cheeks into or dared a spanking by stealing from the pantry shelves.

But now since the corn harvesting machines have made the corn knife obsolete the pumpkins are banished from the fields. They cannot be grown with corn any more. Their long stringy vines wind up in the machinery and wreck it. More than one farmer has had his costly self-binding corn harvester disabled after a few minutes' work in a pumpkin dotted cornfield. Many a farmer has made a hurried call upon the factory to send him extra parts and has paid expert hire to get his machine to work again after such an experience.

Few things that nature grows will twine and bind tighter than a frost-ripened pumpkin vine, and few things will wring from a farmer's heart a greater variety of expletives than a pumpkin vine in a corn harvester.

So it comes that our complex civilization has doomed the pumpkin pie. Henceforth a few pumpkins will be grown in out of the way plots of ground in a corner of the garden, or perhaps on a latticed trellis. Pumpkins alone are not a profitable crop. They are big in bulk and comparatively few to the vine. It is doubtful if real valuable land will ever be devoted to their cultivation. The farmer can make more money from some other crop.

This will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16 oz. bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in gualic acid and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will work in this formula.

This Pine and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

RECRUIT FOR THE R.D.W.

Miss Anna Held with the big brown eyes, will appear at the Row tomorrow morning, accompanied by her little daughter, just back from her little school.

Miss Anna Held does not believe in riding side-saddle, and her costume tomorrow will doubtless cause some little excitement.

"It's the first time I have ridden in the Row," Miss Held told an "Express" representative at the Savoy Hotel yesterday, "but I know I shall love it right away. Ride? Why, of course, I've ridden ever since I can remember, in every part of the world, (here the big brown eyes became dreamy with far-away reminiscences.) I have ridden all round the Californian mountains at the side of a six-in-hand and I have just sung with joy of living."

"Riding in the Row will be rather different, will it not?"

"My costume will be original, but neat—ever so neat."

"It's just a long coat which falls over at each side of the horse—for, of course, I shall ride astride—and instead of high boots I shall wear gaiters of the same cloth as my habit. The color of the habit is what you English call pepper-and-salt."—London Express.
