Dress up Your Circular Letters--

You would not think of sending a shabby dressed, dirty-faced boy to your valued customers to act as your dignified representative.

It is even more unbusiness like to address an ordinary printed circular letter bearing a message to your customers, because it is a reflection on their better judgment.

Every letter you send out should be either typewritten or printed by the Multigraph Process, (and you can't tell one from the other.)

A letter produced by the Multigraph Printing Service is identical to typewriting in every respect. It is printed from movable type, printed through a ribbon making the appearance and effect of the finished product the same.

There is nothing more effective than a direct personal letter to your customers. This letter can be produced the Multigraph Way at a very nominal cost. You can have a hundred printed—or ten thousand, as you wish. The last copy will be as legible as the first.

Can be printed in most any size or color.

Let us tell you more about it.

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. The first few doses make her realize there is nothing to equal them in making baby well and keeping him well. Concerning them Mrs. C. E. Stillwell, Winthrop, Sask., writes—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and have found them so good for my little ones that I always keep a box in the house." New flower toques are being shown in the shops. They are high and narrow and low and narrow; both are long and boat shaped. Red geraniums, glossy green leaf topped with an occasional pink bud and the ever lovely violet toques are among the prettiest. They have no trimming, evidently made so a square, circular or an automobile veil can be worn with them.

ISLANDER MADE LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER

Captain Lee Orr, of Nelson, B.C., has accepted the position of Lieutenant-Commander in the British Navy, and sailed from Halifax some two weeks ago. Lieut-Commander Orr was born at French River, New London, P.E.I., 36 years ago, a son of the late Mr. James Orr of that place. From early boyhood he had a strong desire to be a deep water sailor, and at the age of 16 he went to St. John, N.B., and shipped on board a large British ship bound for Europe. He continued sailing from port to port until he had seen most of the important ports of the world. He could tell of many unpleasant adventures; but with a determined will and a robust body he stuck at it till he overcame them all. Passing through all the different stages, he arrived at the highest point of his ambition. After eight years he attended the Naval School in London, and passed for a deep water captain. Shortly after he visited his old home and friends on the island, where he remained for a year. He then went to B.C. and engaged with the C.P.R. and was given command of a large car ferry boat, capable of carrying 30 cars across Lake Hootnag.

This position he filled until he offered his services to take a hand in downing the Hun. Lieut-Commander Orr married a daughter of the late Mr. Malcolm McPhail, of Argyle Shore and they made their home at Nelson, B.C. Three years ago she, with her two children, came to the Island to spend a few months at her old home, and while home here she was taken suddenly ill and died in a few hours. Before going overseas from Halifax,

Lieut-Commander Orr came to the island to see his little son, who is with Dr. and Mrs. Murchison, West River. From there he went to Kensington to see his uncle, Mr. William Orr, intending to spend a day or two with relatives at French River and also at Summerside, but was called to go to Halifax without delay.—Pioneer.

Flattering to the Original

But Imitations Only Disappoint

There are many imitations of this great treatment for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and whooping cough.

They usually have some sale on the merits of the original, but it should be remembered that they are like it in name only.

FRANCE REMINDS THE BOYS OF P.E. ISLAND

The following letter has been received by Mrs. John MacKinnon, Grand View, from her brother-in-law Gr. Alex. MacKinnon, Somewhere in France, who has been in the trenches for over nine months.

France, Jan. 18, 1917.

Dear Mary:—Just a line to let you know that I am well, and hope this will find you all the same. Received your letter of September 17th, other night, was very glad to hear from you. The letter certainly was a long time on the way. It had been all over France before it found me. I had a letter from Montie, they are in England yet. Have seen quite a few of the 105th boys, some of them from Grand View.

I received a parcel of Tobacco from the L. O. L., was very glad to get it for we do not get tobacco like it out here.

Well we have three or four inches of snow now, but no frost, so it reminds us of home a little bit. I had quite a nice trip to Scotland, guess you are right about the girls. How is Alex. Donald getting along any way? Suppose he and Jack are busy shovelling snow now a days, guess there is a big bank at the road as usual. Well we have pretty hard times here, and occasionally a fairly good time. Before I close I must say that while I am writing this letter I am sitting on the floor, chairs and tables are a thing of the past to us now. There is no sign of the war been over yet. Write soon. ALEX

The publication of the appeal is sanctioned by the Colonial Office.

Wearing Rubbers during the Spring Months of Slush and Wet Saves more than their Cost and Protects the Health as well

It is only recently that the high retail prices of most commodities are being felt. The higher cost of living as a result of the war, is now manifesting itself in EVERY walk of life.

Shoe dealers throughout Canada must get more for our rubbers than during the past few years. The cost of production has been steadily increasing and the dealer's expense of doing business is greater.

To-day crude rubber is fully one-third higher than before the war, and doubled freights, abnormal insurance and the war tax have made it more expensive laid down at our factories. Other materials, including cottons, cashmerettes, jersey, linings, dyes and chemicals cost on an average 75% more. Labor, too, is away up, and so scarce that there is difficulty in keeping up a normal production.

The increased prices of our rubbers—small indeed compared with other articles of wearing apparel and of food—have been made imperative by the steadily growing cost of manufacturing.

As the quality and reputation of our brands of rubbers must be maintained at all costs, we have been compelled to advance our prices. So when your dealer asks you a little more, it does not mean that either he or the manufacturer is taking advantage of war time, but rather that both are reluctantly yielding to necessity.

In proportion to the cost of other necessities, the prices of our brands of rubbers are reasonable—and more economical when compared with the far greater increases in shoe prices. The regular use of rubbers saves many times their slightly increased cost, and protects the health as well.
