Judgment In Supreme Court

Four judgments were delivered in the Supreme Court Thursday, three in appeals from convictions by Stipendiary Magistrate Martin and one by Stipendiary Magistrate Gaudet.

Eldon Cameron's appeal from a conviction of willfully obstructing a peace officer was dismissed with costs against the appellant. Counsel for the appellant was M.A. Farmer, for the crown, the Attorney General P.A. Large, K.C. and J.P. Nicholson.

Dewar Cudmore not being personally present at the hearing of his Temperance Act appeal, an adjournment was granted to a date to be fixed. L.P. O'Donnell represented Cudmore, the Attorney General and Mr. Nicholson, the crown.

- By consent of the Attorney General a charge of possession of spirits against William Buchanan was amended and sentence reduced to $50 and costs or 40 days imprisonment from the original penalty of $200 or three months, as the amount of liquor involved was small and intended only for the appellant's own consumption.

N. Rustico Firm In Bankruptcy

The first meeting of creditors of Peters & Gallant Ltd. was held in the Law Courts building in Charlottetown yesterday. The report of the custodian, Mr. J.A. McGuigan and questioning of the sole shareholder, Mr. Alban Peters revealed that the financial position of the company on June 14th when an assignment was made was worse by about $52,000 than disclosed by its audited statement of December 31st, 1948.

NICE SLEEP BUT—

KANKAKEE, Ill., July 3.—(AP)—Elaine Riechers, 31-2, had a nice long sleep in a cool corn field, but she missed a lot of excitement. The tot was not found around the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Riechers, when her mother called her to go to bed at 8 p.m. Saturday. Alarmed, her parents called police.

They got together a party of about 200 farmers and townsmen and an all right hunt started. Early today several airplane pilots of the vicinity rose into the dawn sky. At 5:30 a.m. a searcher came upon little Elaine, just awakening

Icebreaker Sails On Arctic Voyage

OTTAWA, July 4.—(CP)—The tough-nosed Government icebreaker N. B. McLean sails from Quebec City today on her annual round of visits of Arctic outposts. Carrying 700 tons of supplies for Government stations in the far north, she will be out until late October on her job of opening navigation in Hudson Bay and Strait and keeping them open until the last Europe-bound vessel passes through in the fall.

Operated by the Department of Transport, the icebreaker will also carry coal and other freight for various missions in the north, as well as large stocks of radio replacement equipment, mail, provisions, medical supplies.

Captain G. A. Caron is making his seventh Arctic trip as master of the N. B. McLean. The job of rebuilding the fire-damaged radio station at Resolution Island will be in charge of A. F. Crowell of Halifax, assisted by W. A. Mosher, also of Halifax. Also aboard are seven radio technicians who will replace the present staff at northern radio navigation stations.

from a grand nine-hour sleep. She told her mother she got sleepy last night and decided to rest in the cool cornfield, adjoining her home.
