YOUNG GLENDON HAS ANOTHER GREAT VARSITY CREW AS COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY IS SURE TO BE HEARD FROM IN THE HUDSON RIVER EVENT

By QUIN HALL

Not so long ago Horace Davenport, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was voted the best athlete at Columbia University in a survey conducted among seniors by the Columbia, the university gazette. Having served three years on the varsity eleven, Davenport is now pulling an oar for his third season with Columbia's famous blue and white crew. He is the captain of Young Dick Glendon's husky paddlers and, if early victories over the river courses count for anything, this is the crew that will have to be beaten at the Poughkeepsie regatta late in the afternoon of June 24.

"It's the hardest game in the world but, for a man who likes to sit down to his work, you can't beat it." Young Davenport has everything that a good oarsman should have. He has prodigious strength, the ability to utilize it, and is agile. Moreover, he, like the other Columbians, is willing to go through months of hard training, even before the ice disappears out of the Hudson and Harlem Rivers and the first shell is eased in to the water in the Spring. Glendon, youthful rowing coach at Columbia, is a firm believer in conditioning his oar handlers. As early as January, Dick had his crew men pulling on the indoor rowing machines three hours each day. This was followed by a three-mile jaunt. By early March, the boys were in condition to row five, six and sometimes nine miles each afternoon on one of the two rivers that flank Manhattan Island, under all sorts of weather conditions. And the weather this Spring was nothing to return thanks for! But Davenport, McBain and Glendon's other husky oarsman stood the gain of the season with enough power to gain victories over capable rivals. So it would not be surprising to see them victorious in the Poughkeepsie classic. And that would be a fitting finish for the college career of Horace Davenport, Columbia's best athlete. Fine Recital By Pupils Of Prof. Thompson

The pupils of Professor Louis D. Thompson staged their annual recital at Zion Church Hall last evening before a large gathering of parents, relatives and friends. The programme which consisted of piano, vocal and organ numbers was nicely arranged and much appreciated by a very enthusiastic audience. While every number showed careful tuition and keen application, perhaps it would not be out of place to mention the more outstanding. "The Two Grenadiers," vocal solo by Mr. Malcolm MacKinnon, a very difficult selection, was very heartily received. Others worthy of special mention were "Indian Dawn" by Mrs. Norman MacPherson, and "Love the Rediar," by Mrs. F. A. A. Mutch. Two organ solos by Mr. Alex. McLean and the ladies' chorus, "A Life on the Ocean Wave," must also share in the honours. The platform was beautifully decorated with flowers loaned by Mr. Falt. The piano used was loaned by the Toombs Music Co., and the furniture by R. T. Holman Ltd. Following is the programme: Absence of some of the out-of-town pupils due to the unsuitable condition of the weather was a very regrettable fact. (Canadian Press) SUSSEX, N. B., June 13.—The first round of the Inter-Maritime rifle shooting trophy was won this morning by the Nova Scotia team at the 200 yard range. The competition which started in 1886 and has been shot continuously since, with the exception of the war years, 1915 to 1921, began this morning under conditions far from ideal. It was dark, cloudy and cold. There was a variable wind from the left rear and the visibility was only fair. Captain A. Allen, M. C., of the P. E. I. team made a possible. The result follows: Nova Scotia 280 equalling the record made in 1911 by the P. E. I. team, New Brunswick 258; P. E. I. 237. The visiting teams were the guests of the New Brunswick Rifle Association at luncheon at the bungalow.

A Williams shave brings face comfort the whole day through. Wind and sun do not dry out the skin. That's why each Williams shave is smoother, quicker, easier than the one before.

one pasteurized at 36 3-4 to 37 cents per pound. The market today was reported quiet, higher prices having eased the demand. Prices to retail trade were quoted at 38 to 39 cents per pound for solids and 39 to 40 cents for prints. Receipts were 1,085 boxes. There was a little easier undertone to the cheese market, prices being shaded 1-8 cents by wholesale dealers.
