

Ross Wins 12-Round Decision Over Wadsworth To Take Dominion Crown.

HALIFAX, Aug. 10 (CP)—George (Rockabye) Ross of West Bay, N.S., tonight staked undisputed claim to the middleweight boxing championship of Canada by gaining an unanimous 12-round decision over Len Wadsworth of Hamilton, Ont.

Wadsworth checked in at just one-half a pound below the middleweight limit of 160 and Ross weighed 152 1/2. The new champ, at 24, is nine years the junior of Wadsworth.

It was a ding-dong battle all the way although the outcome was never in serious doubt.

As the crowd-pleaser in points it was closer than the battle in Gloucester, last May, when Ross first defeated the Hamilton fighter. That bout was not recognized by the Canadian Boxing Federation.

As a result of grueling fighting and persistent bob punching, both fighters were marked about the face and bleeding freely at the final bell.

In the six-round semi-final Bryan Hayden of Springfield, N.S. 137, outlasted Fern Lachapelle of Hamilton, Ont., 136, for a unanimous decision. Lachapelle was on the defensive most of the time and Hayden did the punching. A flurry of lefts and rights opened a cut over Lachapelle's left eye in the fourth and he went down for a nine count.

Island Marksmen Do Well At D.C.R.A. Meet

(By Alan Donnelly)
—What Prince Edward Island marksmen did today at Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meet: Lt. G. J. Rogers won the 200-yard Macdougall ranges were Maj. J. W. Houlter of Winnipeg, Sgt. W. S. Garland of Debert, N. S. and Maj. A. F. Gormley of Charlottetown, P. E. I., each posting 99-scores.

Many of the Macdougall competitors finished shooting in the gathering dusk, and marksmen had to set their skill against shifting winds and flying cloud shadows.

A quartet of snipers shared first place honors in the shooting of the Patterson Cup, awarded to the Bankhouse match. Elimination shoot-offs for both the Patterson cup and the Macdougall challenge cup will be held Wednesday.

The four who will shoot off the Patterson cup tie and their scores: Lt. G. J. Rogers, Victoria, B. C., 47-48; Cpl. E. P. Brockbank, Hamilton, 48-47; Maj. D. T. Burke, Willowdale, Ont., 49-46, and Pte. E. G. Guntin, Winnipeg, 49-46.

So the United States gets fifth place and the gold medals. Britain was moved back to second—now without a victory in track and field, Canada slid back to fifth position.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

"Big Five" batters, Summerside Baseball League:

AB	R	H	Pct.
Powell, Red Sox	24	6	11.43%
Macdougall, Legion	37	11	16.42%
Anderson, R.C.A.F.	31	7	12.38%
MacKay, Kinsmen	39	11	15.38%
Grant, Red Sox	30	6	11.38%

The top of the standing in the Summerside Baseball League changes hands almost every other day. The Legion is out in front again, having 15 points; the R.C. A. F. are right behind with 14 points, but the Red Sox are two points behind the Armen with 12 points, and the Kinsmen bring up the rear with 11 points.

Here is a peculiar point in baseball rules that is difficult to get people to believe. A batsman has three strikes called on him and not knowing that the ball got away from the catcher, walks to the bench and sits down. Then his coach calls to his attention the fact that the catcher did not catch the third strike so the runner gets off the bench and runs to first, getting there ahead of the ball. He is safe. Believe it or not, unless there is something put in the rule book recently, the man is safe. We learned that the hard way. We were coaching a team some years ago and one of the opposing batters missed the third strike, our catcher dropping the ball. The batter did not sit on the bench for the reason that there was no bench for him to sit on, but he went over among the rest of his teammates. The umpire discovered that the ball had gotten away from our catcher he ran to first base. The umpire called him out. The coach of the other team insisted he was safe. We gave the coach a couple of horse laughs and began to show him how ridiculous that was. We didn't get very far. The coach pulled a rule book out of his pocket and stuck it under our nose. An interpretation under one of the rules stated that a batter could sit on the bench and still run to first and be safe just as the coach had said. There being no hole to fall into we had to stand there with a sickly grin and take it.

Canadian Breaks Olympic Record

LONDON, Aug. 10 (CP)—The glamor of the track and field spectacle is gone but the 1948 Olympic Games rolled merrily on today with something happening every minute.

A Canadian broke an Olympic record in weightlifting and wound up fifth.

Fourteen protests came out of five yachting races off Torquay, Devonshire, and when most of the day was straightened out tonight Paul McLaughlin's fiery protest was in first place in the point standing with two races to go.

The star entry of Bill Gooderham of Toronto placed 10th today, but the largest protest resulted in his entry taking eighth place.

Elimination of John Robertson of Hamilton, Ont., was a poor 14th today and he lost third place in the ranking to Sweden.

A British protest against Sweden in the Firefly race was at first rejected because the correct protest form was not filled in. Then the protest was reversed. It was heard the protest and allowed it—a claim that the Swede failed to keep out of the way when overtaking.

Back into the headlines today popped the United States' protest over disqualification of its team in the 400-metre relay race at Olympic Stadium last Saturday.

The United States gets fifth place and the gold medals. Britain was moved back to second—now without a victory in track and field, Canada slid back to fifth position.

Major's Fueding Days On Ball Diamond Recalled

Twenty five years ago, Police Constable Ambrose Callaghan, broke up a clash between "Gee" Hanlon and baseball catcher "Hap" Ahern behind a story Sports Editor Ahern had written about Hanlon's ball game.

Back in Halifax last week from his present home in Chicago for the first time in 25 years, he called around City Hall to renew acquaintances and found nothing changed the mayor's seat "the same fellow whose life I saved that time at the old exhibition grounds".

Actually, he recalled "Gee" came out of the scrap on top and the two were soon as good friends as ever.

Callaghan has changed considerably for the good—observed Callaghan who is now a sergeant in the Plant Protection Force of the Chicago-Illinois Steel Company.

"Gee" Hanlon was accompanied by his wife and a child when he came to Halifax. He is still the game big-hearted, good natured fellow he always was. And he's doing things to change the face of Halifax which is why "Halifax news" said Callaghan.

Before he came back Callaghan had heard Halifax hadn't changed in the last quarter century but he found instead the city "really getting streamlined".

Callaghan, a native of Port Augustus, P. E. I., spent the years from 1917 to 1923 in Halifax, the last six of them pounding the beat with the city police force. It was George Fox, now chief of the department, who broke him in.

When Callaghan left Halifax he built-up north-west slope was "just a big pasture" and outside Barrington, Goringham and Brunswick Streets the city had no permanently paved thoroughfares.

Mr. Callaghan was accompanied by his charming wife the former Miss Marion Hunt of Chicago. They also visited the home of his brother Gene and sister Anne of P. E. Island—Halifax Mass.
